Aid Row Breaks Out In House Committee

Squabble Over Secrecy Brings 'Expose' Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) said Tuesday he is so annoyed and disgusted that he is going to make public "what some of these dictators get" in foreign aid from the United States.

Hays repeated this threat several times during an out-of-the-ordinary row in the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The row was set off by a committee decision to exclude the public and the press from questioning of Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon.

Would Shatter Precedent

If Hays carries out his announced intention, he will break a precedent of several years standing. Country-by-country figures on military aid have been kept secret on security grounds. Economic aid totals by countries have been announced on occasion, in the past tense.

Hays charged — and Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa) promptly denied—that the secret committee meeting was the idea of President Eisenhower's administration. Hays said he is tired of hearing "the same leading questions the administration sent up here" to be asked—questions "that witnesses have written answers all ready for."

The blowup over secrecy was only the stormiest of several events marking the second day the committee has considered President Eisenhower's $3,930,000 foreign aid proposal.

Other Developments

In other major developments:

1. A special presidential advisory panel urged that the approximately 1½ billion-dollar military part of the program be increased by 400 million, primarily for missiles and jet aircraft for NATO countries. If no more than the President's initial request is approved, deliveries of war goods to Allies will be cut by one-third, reported the 10-man panel headed by former Undersecretary of Defense William H. Draper Jr.

2. Developing the same theme, Dillon told the committee the pipeline of goods bought or ordered in earlier years, and still on the way to Allies, is running low. The total was 8½ billion dollars in 1953, he said, but will be down to about 2½ billion by July 1. He said the prospect is for a substantial reduction in future deliveries.

GOING HOME—Peter Walker, 15, one of the Walker triplets of Syracuse, N. Y., has been located in Jacksonville, Fla., eight months after he ran away from home. He said he "bummed around" and held several odd jobs in various cities. Authorities at the Jacksonville Juvenile Shelter, where he is pictured, said they will put the boy on a plane for Washington, D. C., where his parents will meet him. (AP Photofax)

Men Hurled From Tipple By Strikers

Police Intervene To Halt Violence At Kentucky Mine

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — A massive crowd of striking miners swarmed over a coal mine tipple in nearby Letcher County Tuesday, throwing men to the ground and stoning them.

By the time state police arrived one man had suffered a fractured neck and at least three others were injured less seriously.

The scene is within 60 miles of the area which came to be known as "Bloody Harlan" in the strike violence of the 1930s.

Letcher County is part of a large section of eastern Kentucky where the United Mine Workers is striking for a $2-a-day basic wage increase. The current scale is $24.25 a day.

1,500 Demonstrators

Roland P. Price, president of the Gem - Elkhorn Coal Co. at Rockhouse Creek, said nearly 1,500 men swarmed around his tipple and started throwing his men off. Price said one, George Lowe, was hospitalized with a fractured neck.

Price said some of his men tried to run. One of them, George Sexton, was found later in a field, dazed by stones thrown at him, Price said.

The state police director, Maj. Charles Crutchfield, said only three troopers were near the scene when the demonstration began and an additional 12 were rushed to the area.

Crutchfield said their presence stopped further violence. He added, "We'll have men on patrol in this entire area tomorrow."

Tipple Won't Operate

Price, whose UMW contract has expired, said he would not operate the tipple.

"I'm afraid to move," he said.

More than 7,000 men have been idled by the strikes in eastern Kentucky. They started March 9 and spread this week as contracts expired.

This was the first report of violence.

The tipple employs 12 to 14 men who load coal purchased from various surrounding mines.

Crutchfield said 200 to 225 cars were in the caravan carrying the demonstrators.

Eisenhower Summit Talk Offer Hailed

Macmillan's U.S. Mission Virtually Assured Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western diplomats agreed Tuesday that President Eisenhower has taken a big step toward achieving Allied unity in the approaching Berlin showdown with the Soviet Union.

They said his speech Monday night, endorsing a summertime summit conference if developments justify it, will ease the way for this week's talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

In fact, these diplomats said, it has virtually assured the success of Macmillan's mission. The Prime Minister, with Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, arrives in Washington Thursday in what is generally regarded as an effort to achieve solidarity in the Western camp.

Eisenhower's radio-TV address to the nation apparently was a hit at home and abroad, drawing only a weak kind of sour note from the Kremlin.

Allies Drafting Note

The President's expressed willingness to attend a heads of government meeting with the Soviets was expected to be translated into a formal Big Three response to a Soviet note received last March 2. The response is being worked out among Allied diplomats in Paris. It is expected to be sent to Moscow in a matter of days.

In general, the message reportedly will tell the Soviets the Allies are ready for a summit meeting this summer if a foreign ministers conference on Germany, proposed for mid-May, justifies it.

The White House said favorable telegrams are pouring in from around the country as an aftermath of Eisenhower's talk. The British and West German press almost unanimously hailed Eisenhower's acceptance of summit talks this summer.

Legislation Comment Friendly

Congressional comment was generally friendly, although some Democrats voiced reservations on certain points.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he still felt it was bad psychology to reduce the Army, Navy and Marines when the country is facing negotiations on situations like the crisis in Berlin.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, voiced complete approval of Eisenhower's stand that the United States will not retreat one inch from exercising its rights in West Berlin or abandon the people there to possible Communist takeover.

Ike Calls Nine Governors To Idle Pay Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Tuesday invited nine state governors to meet with him here next Monday to discuss possible improvements in the regular federal-state unemployment compensation system.

The action was announced by the White House as 18 Democratic senators joined in urging prompt congressional action to extend emergency jobless benefits passed during last year's recession. They said a temporary three-months extension approved by the House was "almost totally inadequate."

The House-passed bill would continue benefit payments before the current April 1 deadling for some 405,000 unemployed. The Senate Finance Committee plans to open hearings Friday in hopes of pushing the measure to final passage before the start of the Easter recess March 26.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President would not discuss the emergency program with the state governors but would confine the discussions to the regular federal-state program.

Eisenhower is expected to approve the House-passed bill, if it reaches his desk in its present form, although he strongly opposed an original Democratic plan to extend the emergency federal program for a full year.

The President told a recent news conference that jobless benefits primarily are a responsibility of the states. Next week's meeting presumably was called to see what they can do about raising and extending jobless benefits.

The invitations to the Monday meeting were telegraphed to Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, chairman of the conference and the executive committee, and committee members William G. Stratton of Illinois, James P. Coleman of Mississippi, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, William F. Quinn of Hawaii, Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, John E. Davis of North Dakota, George D. Clyde of Utah and Steve McNichols of Colorado.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Dies

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's Foreign Secretary Sidney Smith, 62, died Tuesday on the eve of the British-Canadian talks on the cold war and the Berlin crisis.

His secretary said Smith apparently died of a heart attack in his Ottawa apartment. He had been under care of doctors for about two weeks.

Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan is due in Ottawa Wednesday to talk with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Smith had been foreign secretary since 1957.

He was president of the University of Toronto before entering the Cabinet.

HAVANA (UPI) — New arrests Tuesday brought to 13 the number of American citizens held in Cuban jails, most of them without any formal charge.

Senators Begin Quiz Of Strauss On Quiet Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—The storm that is expected to erupt in Senate hearings on Lewis L. Strauss' nomination as secretary of commerce was missing Tuesday as the Commerce Committee began quizzing him on his views.

In an atmosphere of academic calm, the 63-year-old Strauss, center of some hot controversies in the past, spent three hours answering questions about Russia's economic offensive and U.S. restrictions on trade with Iron Curtain countries.

The hearing may spread over several weeks.

Strauss, a former New York investment banker and a reserve admiral, succeeded Sinclair Weeks as secretary of commerce Nov. 13 under a recess appointment. President Eisenhower sent his nomination to the Senate when the new session began this year.

Most of the opposition to Strauss stems from his service as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), most outspoken foe of Strauss, calls Strauss the "chief promoter, defender and advocate" of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract.

The Dixon-Yates contract, negotiated in 1954, was to build a government power plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed electricity into the TVA system to replace power drawn off by AEC plants. After ground was broken for the plant, the government ordered the contract canceled on grounds that a conflict of interest was involved.

Strauss started his testimony with a statement explaining why he rejected an offer by Eisenhower to reappoint him chairman of the AEC last June 30 when his five-year term ended.

Saying why he agreed instead to serve as secretary of commerce, Strauss said: "I believe that the economic warfare which the Soviet government has declared upon the United States can be most effectively countered in the work and decisions of the Department of Commerce."

Rioting Spreads To N. Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—An African mob speared and wounded two British officials and burned government buildings Monday in an anti-white outburst far to the north of here, dispatches from the area said Tuesday.

Two Africans were reported killed in the rioting, which apparently spilled over into relatively peaceful Northern Rhodesia from neighboring Nyasaland.

The Africans attacked British District Commissioner G. E. K. Walsh and his assistant, J. E. Sharp, on Chilibu Island in Lake Bangweulu, 350 miles north of Lusaka. Walsh was wounded slightly by a spear thrust. Sharp was wounded seriously and was brought to Ousaka for treatment.

Government buildings were burned in two other northern areas. There were no further details. It was the first rioting in Northern Rhodesia since the Zambia African National Congress was banned two weeks ago by British authorities.

Peace Is Restored At Yale University

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Peace came to Yale University Tuesday.

There were no more snowballs, no more angry statements.

The 3,900 undergraduates went to classes, on probation. Public misbehavior means immediate dismissal.

Top university officials, who imposed the general probation Monday, went about their normal jobs.

And the snow—the thing that caused all the trouble—was melting. Two snowball tossing incicidents last week involved Yale men in tussles with police and brought 41 arrests and the probation order.

N. J. Turnpike Toll Collectors Walk Off Job

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) —Workers walked off their jobs on the New Jersey Turnpike Tuesday. They said they had a long list of grievances against the toll road.

A few toll collectors stayed at their posts. Nonstriking office personnel also helped man the exits. Except for rush-hour jams, traffic was kept moving with a system of reduced tolls.

Late Tuesday the Turnpike Authority announced it would suspend all striking toll collectors and maintenance workers unless they reported back to work with their regular shifts.

One temporary collector announced to all motorists: "St. Patrick's Day special—25 cents."

The 118-mile turnpike is the most heavily traveled toll road in the country. It handled 41 million vehicles in 1958. It employes 300 toll collectors and 160 maintenance men, represented by Local 1511 of the State, County & Municipal Employes Union.

The strikers met in Windsor, near Trenton, and voted to continue the walkout unless the Turnpike Authority agrees to arbitrate all disputes. Wages are not an issue.

Two issues appear to have brought the dispute to the boiling point. One is the recent one-day suspension of two maintenance workers. The other is the authority's refusal to let workers wear union buttons on their uniforms.

An authority spokesman said the uniforms are issued by the turnpike and wearing buttons would detract from them.

The authority offered to arbitrate the buttons issue and discuss the case of the suspended men. But 350 union members rejected these offers and adopted counter-proposals, calling generally for arbitration of all issues.

To make the collecting job easier during the strike, the authority started charging a flat 25 cents for each car and 50 cents for each truck or bus, no matter what the distance traveled.

Macmillan Leaves For Ottawa, U.S. Talks

LONDON, Wednesday (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan left early Wednesday for separate summit talks in Ottawa and Washington on the Berlin crisis.

There was some speculation Macmillan would give President Eisenhower a last-minute message from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

A foreign office spokesman said the death Tuesday of Canadian External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith would not affect Macmillan's scheduled program in Ottawa later Wednesday. He was due in the Canadian capital at 7:30 a.m. e.s.t. for a one-day visit.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, who accompanied Macmillan, met for 20 minutes Monday with Mikhail Suslov, high-ranking Soviet theoretician and one of Khrushchev's proteges, who is in London on a private visit.

Diplomats said the Suslov-Lloyd meeting was neatly timed for a possible message from Khrushchev on the Berlin issue.

German Peace Treaty Reported Drafted By U. S.

LONDON (AP)—Western diplomats said Tuesday night the United States has drawn the outlines of a peace treaty with Germany for possible negotiation at a summit meeting.

Its submission to the Soviet Union depends on approval by Britain, France and West Germany.

The document almost certainly will be considered at President Eisenhower's talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan beginning in Washington Friday, and also at a later meeting of the U.S., British, French and West German foreign ministers, diplomats said.

Informants reported the Americans thus far have deliberately omitted from their draft the key question of how East and West Germany should be reunified.

Athens Greets EOKA Leader

ATHENS (UPI) — Col. George Grivas, leader of the EOKA underground army in the four-year battle against British rule of Cyprus, emerged from his hiding place on the now peaceful Mediterranean island and flew here to a hero's welcome.

Athenians turned out in force to greet the 61-year-old Grivas. Police had difficulty restraining the crowds. Grivas wore a tattered kahki uniform and an old beret. A pistol was strapped to his side.

Thousands cheered as he left the plane and embraced his wife whom he had not seen since he took over as military commander of the EOKA extremists.

Grivas was Britain's "most-wanted" target during the years-long rebellion. The British put a price of $28,000 on his head and sent as many as 30,000 troops through the hills and forests of Cyprus in search of him.

Many of the soldiers who participated in the fruitless search stood by at the Nicosia Airport to watch Grivas leave for Athens under an amnesty granted by the British government following the London agreement which granted independence to Cyprus.

Irishmen Join In Happy Salute To St. Patrick

By The Associated Press

Tuesday—all day long of it—belonged to the Irish.

And if you weren't an Irishman, you didn't belong.

It was St. Patrick's Day, and everywhere Irishmen dwell it was a day of dancing, parading and cheer.

In Washington, President Eisenhower sported a green necktie as he arrived at National Airport to greet a distinguished visitor, President Sean Thomas O'Kelly of Ireland.

O'Kelly, one of the few persons at the airport without a green necktie, said it was "a happy augury" that the first official visit of an Irish president to this country should begin on St. Patrick's Day.

The two presidents arranged to drop in during the evening at dinners of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

In Dublin, the shamrock was the emblem. The green sprigs were worn on the breasts of Ireland's Premier Eamon de Valera and his ministers as they rode along O'Connell Street to Mass.

But the largest display of the shamrock was along New York's Fifth Avenue as an estimated 130,000 Irishmen—either by ancestry or temporary persuasion — joined in a massive salute to the patron saint of Ireland.

"I never saw a parade like this in my life," said Henry O'Mara, visiting head of Ireland's national police. "It's wonderful."

Also in the reviewing stand was Mrs. Catherine Byrne, the lord mayor of Dublin.

"It's terrific," she said. "It's beyond anything I could have imagined or dreamed of."

School Fire Quelled

BALTIMORE (AP) — A fire at the Talmudical Academy, Maryland's only Hebrew parochial school, forced evacuation of almost 600 students Tuesday.

The fire broke out in a gas radiator. A student checking empty rooms on fire patrol, 15-year-old Michael Glushakow, grabbed an extinguisher and put out the fire.

Wintry Blows Dealt Northeast

By United Press International

Winter, unrelenting to the last, sent a new snow storm blowing into the East Tuesday.

The storm, following hard on the heels of a week end blizzard in the Middle West, gave southern Michigan a half foot of new snow.

It swept through Ohio, forcing postponement of the annual St. Patrick's Day parade at Cleveland, and then moved into the Niagara, N. Y., area with a four to six-inch fall.

The storm also caught the Irish of New York City unprepared. The St. Patrick's Day parade there began under sunny skies, but heavy, wind-driven snow battered the 130,000 marchers within 40 minutes. Despite the storm, the turnout of marchers and watchers set a New York record.

As the storm mounted in Michigan, high drifts closed all roads in the Capac area, west of Port Huron. Cars and trucks were stranded on ice-coated hills and new snows at Grand Rapids pushed the city's total for the total for the winter past 100 inches.

16 Dead, 36 Injured In Truck Collision

ANAPOLIS, Brazil (UPI)—Sixteen persons were killed and 36 others were injured Tuesday in the crash of two trucks near the town of Goianapolis, Goias state.

The dead were all members of a wedding party en route to the church. The bride, Maria Rosa Alves, and the groom, Antonio Fernandez, were among the injured. They were aboard a truck full of passengers which crashed into a dump truck filled with earth.

Divorcee Would Prefer Chair To Life Sentence

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Death in the electric chair would be preferable to life imprisonment if she is convicted of murdering her wealthy lover, divorcee Connie Nicholas told newsmen at her trial Tuesday.

"Life imprisonment would be a living death," Mrs. Nicholas said in a courtroom interview.

Reminded that there might be hope for a commutation of sentence leading to eventual release from a life sentence, she said "I'm at the age where my life is over if I go to prison. I'd be too old to get a job—there'd be nothing left for me."

The 42-year-old twice-divorced secretary spoke after the state had tentatively accepted a jury of nine men and three women to hear its evidence she shot Forrest Teel, her prominent, married sweetheart of 15 years outside the apartment of a newer and younger girl friend July 31.

Teel was an executive vice president in charge of marketing for Eli Lilly & Co., internationally known pharmaceuticals' firm.

Prosecutor Phillip L. Bayt and his staff have refused to say if they will demand the death penalty. Indiana never has electrocuted a woman.

None of the jurors has been definitely accepted by either side. Defense Atty. Charles W. Symmes said he believed it would take at least two more days to impanel a jury.

Symmes indicated the defense may contend the fatal shooting of Teel in his car outside the apartment of Miss Laura Mowrer occurred either accidentally or in self-defense as Mrs. Nicholas tried to defend herself from a "rough-ing up" by Teel.

3-Satellite Rocket To Be Fired Soon, Hagen Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. John P. Hagen said Tuesday the United States will try "very soon" to put three satellites into orbit simultaneously with one launching.

Hagen heads the Vanguard division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He announced the new undertaking on the first anniversary of Vanguard I, the 3.4-pound midget satellite which still is broadcasting information from space and is expected to continue to do so perhaps for centuries.

The new launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla., will be an experiment to measure the earth's magnetic field at various altitudes and to gauge air drag in the rarefied atmosphere a few hundred miles up.

Hagen said the rocket was nearly ready and will be fired "within weeks." The satellites will include the 52-pound third rocket stage, the magnetometer satellite weighing 21 or 22 pounds, and an inflatable 30-inch balloon weighing a pound and a half or two pounds.

The magnetometer will be in an arm, 18 inches to two feet long, sticking out from a 13-inch plastic satellite. It is hoped to put the instrument into long, flat orbit in order to get readings from as many different altitudes as possible.

The balloon will be the primary gauge of air density, but Hagen said the two other objects will help in this experiment, too.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Dies

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's Foreign Secretary Sidney Smith, 62, died Tuesday on the eve of the British-Canadian talks on the cold war and the Berlin crisis.

His secretary said Smith apparently died of a heart attack in his Ottawa apartment. He had been under care of doctors for about two weeks.

Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan is due in Ottawa Wednesday to talk with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Smith had been foreign secretary since 1957.

He was president of the University of Toronto before entering the Cabinet.

HAVANA (UPI) — New arrests Tuesday brought to 13 the number of American citizens held in Cuban jails, most of them without any formal charge.

Senators Begin Quiz Of Strauss On Quiet Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—The storm that is expected to erupt in Senate hearings on Lewis L. Strauss' nomination as secretary of commerce was missing Tuesday as the Commerce Committee began quizzing him on his views.

In an atmosphere of academic calm, the 63-year-old Strauss, center of some hot controversies in the past, spent three hours answering questions about Russia's economic offensive and U.S. restrictions on trade with Iron Curtain countries.

The hearing may spread over several weeks.

Strauss, a former New York investment banker and a reserve admiral, succeeded Sinclair Weeks as secretary of commerce Nov. 13 under a recess appointment. President Eisenhower sent his nomination to the Senate when the new session began this year.

Most of the opposition to Strauss stems from his service as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), most outspoken foe of Strauss, calls Strauss the "chief promoter, defender and advocate" of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract.

The Dixon-Yates contract, negotiated in 1954, was to build a government power plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed electricity into the TVA system to replace power drawn off by AEC plants. After ground was broken for the plant, the government ordered the contract canceled on grounds that a conflict of interest was involved.

Strauss started his testimony with a statement explaining why he rejected an offer by Eisenhower to reappoint him chairman of the AEC last June 30 when his five-year term ended.

Saying why he agreed instead to serve as secretary of commerce, Strauss said: "I believe that the economic warfare which the Soviet government has declared upon the United States can be most effectively countered in the work and decisions of the Department of Commerce."

Rioting Spreads To N. Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—An African mob speared and wounded two British officials and burned government buildings Monday in an anti-white outburst far to the north of here, dispatches from the area said Tuesday.

Two Africans were reported killed in the rioting, which apparently spilled over into relatively peaceful Northern Rhodesia from neighboring Nyasaland.

The Africans attacked British District Commissioner G. E. K. Walsh and his assistant, J. E. Sharp, on Chilibu Island in Lake Bangweulu, 350 miles north of Lusaka. Walsh was wounded slightly by a spear thrust. Sharp was wounded seriously and was brought to Ousaka for treatment.

Government buildings were burned in two other northern areas. There were no further details. It was the first rioting in Northern Rhodesia since the Zambia African National Congress was banned two weeks ago by British authorities.

Peace Is Restored At Yale University

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Peace came to Yale University Tuesday.

There were no more snowballs, no more angry statements.

The 3,900 undergraduates went to classes, on probation. Public misbehavior means immediate dismissal.

Top university officials, who imposed the general probation Monday, went about their normal jobs.

And the snow—the thing that caused all the trouble—was melting. Two snowball tossing incidents last week involved Yale men in tussles with police and brought 41 arrests and the probation order.

N. J. Turnpike Toll Collectors Walk Off Job

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Workers walked off their jobs on the New Jersey Turnpike Tuesday. They said they had a long list of grievances against the toll road.

A few toll collectors stayed at their posts. Nonstriking office personnel also helped man the exits. Except for rush-hour jams, traffic was kept moving with a system of reduced tolls.

Late Tuesday the Turnpike Authority announced it would suspend all striking toll collectors and maintenance workers unless they reported back to work with their regular shifts.

One temporary collector announced to all motorists: "St. Patrick's Day special—25 cents."

The 118-mile turnpike is the most heavily traveled toll road in the country. It handled 41 million vehicles in 1958. It employes 300 toll collectors and 160 maintenance men, represented by Local 1511 of the State, County & Municipal Employes Union.

The strikers met in Windsor, near Trenton, and voted to continue the walkout unless the Turnpike Authority agrees to arbitrate all disputes. Wages are not an issue.

Two issues appear to have brought the dispute to the boiling point. One is the recent one-day suspension of two maintenance workers. The other is the authority's refusal to let workers wear union buttons on their uniforms.

An authority spokesman said the uniforms are issued by the turnpike and wearing buttons would detract from them.

The authority offered to arbitrate the buttons issue and discuss the case of the suspended men. But 350 union members rejected these offers and adopted counter-proposals, calling generally for arbitration of all issues.

To make the collecting job easier during the strike, the authority started charging a flat 25 cents for each car and 50 cents for each truck or bus, no matter what the distance traveled.

Macmillan Leaves For Ottawa, U.S. Talks

LONDON, Wednesday (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan left early Wednesday for separate summit talks in Ottawa and Washington on the Berlin crisis.

There was some speculation Macmillan would give President Eisenhower a last-minute message from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

A foreign office spokesman said the death Tuesday of Canadian External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith would not affect Macmillan's scheduled program in Ottawa later Wednesday. He was due in the Canadian capital at 7:30 a.m. e.s.t. for a one-day visit.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, who accompanied Macmillan, met for 20 minutes Monday with Mikhail Suslov, high-ranking Soviet theoretician and one of Khrushchev's proteges, who is in London on a private visit.

Diplomats said the Suslov-Lloyd meeting was neatly timed for a possible message from Khrushchev on the Berlin issue.

German Peace Treaty Reported Drafted By U. S.

LONDON (AP)—Western diplomats said Tuesday night the United States has drawn the outlines of a peace treaty with Germany for possible negotiation at a summit meeting.

Its submission to the Soviet Union depends on approval by Britain, France and West Germany.

The document almost certainly will be considered at President Eisenhower's talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan beginning in Washington Friday, and also at a later meeting of the U.S., British, French and West German foreign ministers, diplomats said.

Informants reported the Americans thus far have deliberately omitted from their draft the key question of how East and West Germany should be reunified.

Athens Greets EOKA Leader

ATHENS (UPI) — Col. George Grivas, leader of the EOKA underground army in the four-year battle against British rule of Cyprus, emerged from his hiding place on the now peaceful Mediterranean island and flew here to a hero's welcome.

Athenians turned out in force to greet the 61-year-old Grivas. Police had difficulty restraining the crowds. Grivas wore a tattered kahki uniform and an old beret. A pistol was strapped to his side.

Thousands cheered as he left the plane and embraced his wife whom he had not seen since he took over as military commander of the EOKA extremists.

Grivas was Britain's "most-wanted" target during the years-long rebellion. The British put a price of $28,000 on his head and sent as many as 30,000 troops through the hills and forests of Cyprus in search of him.

Many of the soldiers who participated in the fruitless search stood by at the Nicosia Airport to watch Grivas leave for Athens under an amnesty granted by the British government following the London agreement which granted independence to Cyprus.

Irishmen Join In Happy Salute To St. Patrick

By The Associated Press

Tuesday—all day long of it—belonged to the Irish.

And if you weren't an Irishman, you didn't belong.

It was St. Patrick's Day, and everywhere Irishmen dwell it was a day of dancing, parading and cheer.

In Washington, President Eisenhower sported a green necktie as he arrived at National Airport to greet a distinguished visitor, President Sean Thomas O'Kelly of Ireland.

O'Kelly, one of the few persons at the airport without a green necktie, said it was "a happy augury" that the first official visit of an Irish president to this country should begin on St. Patrick's Day.

The two presidents arranged to drop in during the evening at dinners of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

In Dublin, the shamrock was the emblem. The green sprigs were worn on the breasts of Ireland's Premier Eamon de Valera and his ministers as they rode along O'Connell Street to Mass.

But the largest display of the shamrock was along New York's Fifth Avenue as an estimated 130,000 Irishmen—either by ancestry or temporary persuasion — joined in a massive salute to the patron saint of Ireland.

"I never saw a parade like this in my life," said Henry O'Mara, visiting head of Ireland's national police. "It's wonderful."

Also in the reviewing stand was Mrs. Catherine Byrne, the lord mayor of Dublin.

"It's terrific," she said. "It's beyond anything I could have imagined or dreamed of."

School Fire Quelled

BALTIMORE (AP) — A fire at the Talmudical Academy, Maryland's only Hebrew parochial school, forced evacuation of almost 600 students Tuesday.

The fire broke out in a gas radiator. A student checking empty rooms on fire patrol, 15-year-old Michael Glushakow, grabbed an extinguisher and put out the fire.

Wintry Blows Dealt Northeast

By United Press International

Winter, unrelenting to the last, sent a new snow storm blowing into the East Tuesday.

The storm, following hard on the heels of a week end blizzard in the Middle West, gave southern Michigan a half foot of new snow.

It swept through Ohio, forcing postponement of the annual St. Patrick's Day parade at Cleveland, and then moved into the Niagara, N. Y., area with a four to six-inch fall.

The storm also caught the Irish of New York City unprepared. The St. Patrick's Day parade there began under sunny skies, but heavy, wind-driven snow battered the 130,000 marchers within 40 minutes. Despite the storm, the turnout of marchers and watchers set a New York record.

As the storm mounted in Michigan, high drifts closed all roads in the Capac area, west of Port Huron. Cars and trucks were stranded on ice-coated hills and new snows at Grand Rapids pushed the city's total for the total for the winter past 100 inches.

Divorcee Would Prefer Chair To Life Sentence

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Death in the electric chair would be preferable to life imprisonment if she is convicted of murdering her wealthy lover, divorcee Connie Nicholas told newsmen at her trial Tuesday.

"Life imprisonment would be a living death," Mrs. Nicholas said in a courtroom interview.

Reminded that there might be hope for a commutation of sentence leading to eventual release from a life sentence, she said "I'm at the age where my life is over if I go to prison. I'd be too old to get a job—there'd be nothing left for me."

The 42-year-old twice-divorced secretary spoke after the state had tentatively accepted a jury of nine men and three women to hear its evidence she shot Forrest Teel, her prominent, married sweetheart of 15 years outside the apartment of a newer and younger girl friend July 31.

Teel was an executive vice president in charge of marketing for Eli Lilly & Co., internationally known pharmaceuticals' firm.

Prosecutor Phillip L. Bayt and his staff have refused to say if they will demand the death penalty. Indiana never has electrocuted a woman.

None of the jurors has been definitely accepted by either side. Defense Atty. Charles W. Symmes said he believed it would take at least two more days to impanel a jury.

Symmes indicated the defense may contend the fatal shooting of Teel in his car outside the apartment of Miss Laura Mowrer occurred either accidentally or in self-defense as Mrs. Nicholas tried to defend herself from a "roughing up" by Teel.

3-Satellite Rocket To Be Fired Soon, Hagen Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. John P. Hagen said Tuesday the United States will try "very soon" to put three satellites into orbit simultaneously with one launching.

Hagen heads the Vanguard division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He announced the new undertaking on the first anniversary of Vanguard I, the 3.4-pound midget satellite which still is broadcasting information from space and is expected to continue to do so perhaps for centuries.

The new launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla., will be an experiment to measure the earth's magnetic field at various altitudes and to gauge air drag in the rarefied atmosphere a few hundred miles up.

Hagen said the rocket was nearly ready and will be fired "within weeks." The satellites will include the 52-pound third rocket stage, the magnetometer satellite weighing 21 or 22 pounds, and an inflatable 30-inch balloon weighing a pound and a half or two pounds.

The magnetometer will be in an arm, 18 inches to two feet long, sticking out from a 13-inch plastic satellite. It is hoped to put the instrument into long, flat orbit in order to get readings from as many different altitudes as possible.

The balloon will be the primary gauge of air density, but Hagen said the two other objects will help in this experiment, too.

16 Dead, 36 Injured In Truck Collision

ANAPOLIS, Brazil (UPI)—Sixteen persons were killed and 36 others were injured Tuesday in the crash of two trucks near the town of Goianapolis, Goias state.

The dead were all members of a wedding party en route to the church. The bride, Maria Rosa Alves, and the groom, Antonio Fernandez, were among the injured. They were aboard a truck full of passengers which crashed into a dump truck filled with earth.

UAR Girds For Showdown Fight With Middle East Reds

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The United Arab Republic's Middle East News Agency said Tuesday Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has opened a showdown battle between Arab nationalism and the "new Communist imperialism in the Middle East."

A news analyst for the semi-official agency made the statement in commenting on Khrushchev's criticism Monday of U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser. The Soviet Premier accused Nasser of stirring up trouble in Iraq for Premier Abdel Karim Kassem. He also announced Soviet support for Kassem.

The commentator said Khrushchev gave "clearcut proof that the Arab Communist parties receive instruction from Moscow."

"It also proves that Khrushchev is openly interfering in Arab affairs to bring the entire Arab region under Communist control, using Iraq as a spearhead," he added.

The agency had distributed a statement from Nasser replying to Khrushchev. Nasser said Khrushchev's support of communism in the Middle East is "a challenge to the Arab people's will."

Khrushchev delivered his criticism of Nasser at a reception for visiting Iraqi officials in the Soviet capital Monday night. It came after Nasser's denunciation of Kassem and Iraqi Communists in a series of speeches in Damascus last week.

Planes Reported In "Near-Miss"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pilots of a civilian transport and an Air Force cargo plane reported what they described as a near-miss over Front Royal, Va., at 1:31 p. m. (EST) Tuesday.

The federal aviation agency said the pilot of American Airlines flight 165 called it "extremely close," while the Air Force labeled it as "not too close." The American flight 165 operates from New York City to Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

The agency said it had no further details but would conduct an investigation to determine the full circumstances, especially whether the planes came dangerously close to each other.

Until the investigation is completed, a spokesman said, the agency itself will not list the incident officially as a near-miss.

Plan For Adding To Battlefield Sites Defended

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congress has been told that the opportunity is "now or never" for acquiring additional park lands for the Gettysburg and other historic Civil War battlefields.

Housing and commercial developments are fast encroaching on these tracts and will make it impossible for them to be preserved as historic sites, says Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service.

Wirth's opinions were enlarged upon in a special statement included in a report of hearings by a House Appropriations subcommittee on the Interior Department's budget.

The report noted that acquisition of Civil War battle sites desired by the National Park Service would cost an estimated $5,368,585.

Of this, some $2,415,185 would be for additional land for the Gettysburg National Military Park. This largest of the individual battlefield expenditures would be for 691 additional acres. The federal government now owns 2,772 acres.

Wirth defended the program—to be achieved over a period of years—as containing only "those recommendations we feel are sound."

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan (D-Ohio), subcommittee chairman, on the other hand, criticized the proposed purchases as largely unnecessary.

"We already have almost 18,000 acres at Civil War battlefield sites, and they want us to acquire over 9,000 more.

"What is going to happen when the Spanish-American War criers come along and the first and second World Wars and Korean War? There will not be enough land left in the country to buy places for them."

Noting that the department is requesting 1¼ million dollars at present rather than the full five millions for the entire Civil War battlefield program, Wirth termed Gettysburg "one of the most important battles in American history" and "one of the 15 decisive battles in world history."

"For this reason," he said, "its proper interpretation and preservation is of the utmost importance, not only to this nation, but to the citizens of the Western world."

U.S. Business Spending Rises

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Business spending for new factories and equipment—still one of the dimmer spots in the economic picture—is moving upward, the government reported Tuesday.

It estimated that such spending in 1959 will total $31,792,000,000, a gain of 4 per cent from the poor 1958 showing but well below the record $36,962,000,000 spent on business expansion in 1957.

The joint report by the Commerce Department and Securities & Exchange Commission also revised upward an earlier estimate of first-quarter investment spending.

It said businessmen also are looking forward to higher sales in 1959. If sales surpass expectations in the coming months, investment spending would likely exceed present plans.

The survey said manufacturers expect a 9 per cent rise in sales, bringing receipts back up to their record 1957 level. Wholesale and retail firms expect aggregate sales to rise about 6 per cent. Public utilities expect a 9 per cent rise.

Outlays for factories, machinery, mills and other producers' equipment are considered "high-powered dollars" because they usually stimulate business activity and employment.

Supervisors To Step Into Strikers' Jobs

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (AP) —Supervisors and other salaried employes will step into the jobs of strikers Friday and resume manufacture of paper at the West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co. plant here, the company announced Tuesday.

The plant's 940 hourly workers, members of the United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union, struck Jan. 20 in a dispute over technical language in a contract. Wages were not at issue.

George N. Hoover, plant manager, said approximately 200 supervisors and salaried employes would work three shifts, seven days a week. Some women clerks would work in the cutting room, he said. They will do jobs normally done by women.

Slot Ban Repeal Bill Prepared

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Slot machines on the Potomac River, banned by the Maryland General Assembly last year, were on the legislative lips again Tuesday.

A bill to repeal the ban was drafted and delivered to Del. Bacharach (D-Balto 5th). Word of its presence spread like wildfire through the House of Delegates.

Bacharach, quickly besieged by questioners, said "at this moment" he hadn't decided whether to introduce it. During the last 20 days of the session starting Wednesday, he may do it only with consent of 81 other delegates.

Appearing simultaneously with the repeal bill in the legislative halls was Delbert Conner, biggest operator of slot machines off the Virginia shore knocked out by last year's ban.

Conner conferred with House Speaker Wilkinson (D - Prince Georges). The speaker said afterward he told Conner he wouldn't presume to "predict what 123 delegates will do."

The Maryland General Assembly legislated half a dozen gambling piers and a floating casino out of the slot machine business last year at the urging of Gov. McKeldin.

Expanded Soil Bank Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said Tuesday the Eisenhower administration may recommend a broadened soil bank program to take nearly twice as much cropland out of production as at present.

Under the present program, about 23 million acres will be retired this year with owners receiving annual rental payments averaging about $13.50 an acre. Next year the retirement of an additional five million acres is expected, Benson said.

The soil bank program is designed to help prevent overproduction of farm crops.

Benson told newsmen that expansion of the soil bank program was considered at a two-day meeting of the 18-member National Agricultural Advisory Commission which closed Tuesday.

The commission, appointed by he President, is composed of farm leaders and educators representing both major parties and important farm areas.

Benson said the commission looked favorably on an expansion of the soil bank to 40 million acres, providing legislation authorizing this did not limit retirement of whole farms, was coupled with "more realistic" farm price supports, and allowed the department authority to concentrate on taking out of production land now devoted to surplus crops.

Maryland Man Faces Robbery Charges In Ky.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Maryland man will be returned to Kentucky to face charges that he robbed a Louisville bank of $8,000.

Howard Guess, 44, of Bel Air, waived a hearing Tuesday before U.S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart and Volkart signed removal papers.

Guess and Lloyd Earl Dill, 23, also of Bel Air, were arrested last Feb. 14 by FBI agents and Bel Air police. Both also were charged with interstate transportation of a stolen car.

The East Broadway branch of the First National Bank in Louisville was robbed of $8,865 by two men Sept. 26, 1958.

When the pair was arrested in Bel Air, they had in their possession an automobile belonging to Earl J. Brooks of Sellersburgh, Ind., and stolen Feb. 12 from New Albany, Ind., police said.

Guess had been working as a shoemaker in Bel Air. The FBI said he has a criminal record dating back to 1932 including sentences to U.S. penitentiaries at Terre Haute, Ind., and Atlanta, Ga., on stolen car charges.

He also was sentenced to life imprisonment at the Kentucky State Penitentiary at Eddyville in 1943 and paroled three years later.

Change Of Command

FORT MEADE, Md. (AP) — Brig. Gen. Andrew T. McAnsh formally took over as chief of staff for the 2nd Army Tuesday with an 11-gun salute, an inspection of the honor guard and a meeting with staff officers.

Gen. McAnsh, 53, came here from the 101th Airborne Division at Fort Campbell. The 2nd Army area includes Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

New Regulations For Milk Labeling Adopted By D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The District of Columbia commissioners Tuesday adopted new regulations for the labeling of milk. The change is designed to make certain that all milk sold in Washington comes from farms that have been inspected by District of Columbia officials.

Chestnut Farms (Sealtest) Dairy has begun importing milk from Pennsylvania farms, which are not inspected by District of Columbia officials. Chestnut Farms has been selling such milk in nearby Maryland but not in Washington.

Under the new regulations, milk offered for sale in Washington will have to carry on the container or cap a D. C. permit number identifying the dairy's pasteurization plant. Milk sold in bulk will have to be identified by a label or tag which carries the permit number.

The effective date of the new regulations will be set after officials confer with dairy representatives.

The new regulations state also that all milk which legally may be sold here shall be kept separated at all times from milk bought from farms that are not under D. C. inspection.

In addition, plant equipment used for milk from farms not under D. C. inspection must be cleaned according to Washington regulations before it may be used for the storing or processing of D. C.-inspected milk.

The regulations were drawn up at the request of the D. C. Health Department.

The milk Chestnut Farms is importing from Pennsylvania meets U. S. Public Health Service standards, which are not as stringent as those of Washington.

Chsetnut Farms and Thompson's Dairy have attacked D. C. regulations as outmoded and have asked for revisions.

Wheat Price Support Figure Set At $2.25

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee says the preliminary price support figure on 1959 crop wheat is set at $2.25.

This price applies to No. 1 grain stored in warehouses in Baltimore or Philadelphia. The original figure announced for the 1958 crop was $2.23.

A preliminary support figure for corn has also been announced by the committee. The price is set at $1.12 per bushel stored on farms. This figure is the national average.

Soybean support has been set at a $1.85 national average. The committee says Maryland support on soybeans has run 5 cents under the national average. This compares to $2.04 last year.

Additional preliminary national support averages have been announced on rye, at 90 cents per bushel, oats at 50 cents per bushel and barley at 77 cents per bushel.

Dispute Ends In Axe Slaying

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—A sawmill worker was axed to death by his roommate Monday night after an argument over lunchmeat.

Police said Paul Thomas, 29, was slain by Alvin Clinton Rawlings, 27, after a dispute between the two Negroes in their room in a house two blocks from the county police station. These details were given by police:

Rawlings telephoned them shortly after 11 p.m. to report he had just killed a man. When Sgt. O. O. Husk arrived, he found Rawlings waiting outside the house and Thomas lying face down on the floor of an upstairs bedroom in a pool of blood.

Rawlings said he struck Thomas' head four blows with a large axe.

"That cat was making lunch with my lunchmeat," Det. Sgt. Frank Thompson quoted Rawlings.

U.S. Financial Investment In U.N. More Than Repaid

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third of three dispatches on non-political activities of the United Nations. It details what the U.S. has contributed to the U.N.—and what it has received in return.

By CLAIRE COX

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States has poured a total of well over a billion dollars into the United Nations since it was founded 13 years ago—but it has received much more than that back, in cold, hard cash.

In addition, the U.S. has acquired a new high-starch-content sweet potato from Japan, a Chinese apricot unusually resistant to frost and cold, added protection against the spread of drug addiction, increased malaria control and advice on garbage disposal.

An exact figure on U. S. monetary benefits from the U.N. is difficult to compute, but officials associated with the world organization say that it is fairly simple to arrive at a dollars and cents minimum figure.

As a start, the World Bank reports it has lent a whopping 4 billion dollars to countries around the globe for various large-scale projects, most of them industrial.

A total of $1,100,000,000 of that sum has been spent in the U.S., mainly on equipment.

Money Spent In U. S.

The U.S. share of the expense of the United Nations headquarters operation, including secretariat salaries, General Assembly operations and Security Council activities, has totaled nearly 194 million dollars since 1946.

But the U.N. has spent much more than that right here in New York City, on salaries of employes, entertainment and various supplies and services.

In 1958 alone, the U.S. share of the 55-million-dollar budget was $16,621,922. About 36 million dollars of the total budget was spent in New York City, in wages for the 3,000 staff members employed here and for other items.

At least another 10 million dollars was spent in New York last year by members of the 82 national delegations to the U.N., according to the most authoritative estimates.

A figure no one has been able to compute is the rise in land values around the U.N. headquarters site, which was a rundown slaughter house area when John D. Rockefeller Jr. gave the land to the international organization.

Get Security Dividend

Officials of the U.S. delegation to the U.N. said the dollars and cents receipts did not begin to account for the American benefits from the U.N. They feel the biggest dividend is security, on which there is no price.

"It's like fire insurance or life insurance," a U. S. spokesman said. "For that reason it is impossible to put a real value on it."

Last year, the U. S. contribution to the U.N. totaled 56 cents for each American citizen. Ten cents of that went to the U.N. operating budget. The other 46 cents was spent by the specialized agencies, special voluntary agencies and associated organizations on the humanitarian level.

The bulk of the money thus went for improving living standards in underdeveloped countries and for related activities. But some of it went for projects that directly benefited the U.S., too, according to U.N. officials.

Cuts Red Tape

The Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), acting at the request of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, found a disease-resistant, early-maturing bell pepper in Japan.

Researchers at the same time stumbled on an early-ripening Japanese musk melon that is thriving in the dry Oklahoma climate.

The International Aviation Organization (ICAO) boasts that it provides Americans with many services. A spokesman said that every airborne U.S. traveler abroad benefits from ICAO's success in reducing the red tape involved in entering a foreign country.

U.N. officials said that the U.S. gets more than any other nation from the operations of the International Narcotics Control Agency, largely because it is more exposed to illicit drug traffic than any other country.

In a recent development, the U.S. asked the International Labor Organization to send a mission to study the so-called right-to-work laws and the question of freedom of the workers to join a union or not to join.

To Celebrate Passover

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) —Traditional Jewish holy days of the Passover will be celebrated throughout the U.S. Army in Europe from sunset of April 22 to sunset of April 30.

Chalice On Way Back To Priest

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (UPI) —A chalice given to a newly ordained missionary priest three years ago is on its way back to him after being stolen in Japan. It was found in a junk shop and brought to America.

The chalice was given by the Maryknoll Fathers to the Rev. Donald C. Walsh when he was ordained in 1956. It was stolen from him in 1958 while he was riding on a Japanese train.

In the fall of that year, American businessman John B. Cassidy found the chalice in a Kyoto, Japan, junk shop. It bore the inscription "College of New Rochelle," his wife's alma mater, and he bought it for $28.

The college identified it as one given in 1932 to their chaplain who left it on his death to the Maryknoll Fathers.

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union signed a technical assistance agreement with Communist North Korea Tuesday in Moscow, radio Moscow announced.

Machen Won't Seek U. Md. Investigation

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A legislator announced Monday night he had decided not to seek an investigation of the University of Maryland because it "would do irreparable harm."

Instead, Del. Machen (D-Prince Georges) announced to the House he would support a bill of hearing to increase the number of regents from 11 to 15.

He said he hoped that reorganization of the board would produce a group "more sensitive to the problems and shortcomings" which Machen claims exists at the university.

Machen contends the present regents have "been content with taking a back seat while turning the reins over to the university president," Dr. Wilson H. Elkins.

Berlin Compromise Forecast By Atlee

EASTON, Pa. (UPI) — Former British Prime Minister Clement Atlee said Monday he is quite sure "some compromise will be arrived at" in the current Berlin crisis.

Atlee, winding up a lecture tour of this country with an address at Lafayette College, said on arrival here that he favors a summit meeting of the major powers as does the current prime minister, Harold Macmillan.

He said he felt the United States insistence upon a preliminary meeting of foreign secretaries is "curious," especially because Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is confined to a hospital.

Asked if he thought the Russians would start a conflict over Berlin, Atlee replied, "I am quite sure they do not want war."

U.S. Financial Investment In U.N. More Than Repaid

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third of three dispatches on non-political activities of the United Nations. It details what the U.S. has contributed to the U.N.—and what it has received in return.

By CLAIRE COX

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States has poured a total of well over a billion dollars into the United Nations since it was founded 13 years ago—but it has received much more than that back, in cold, hard cash.

In addition, the U.S. has acquired a new high-starch-content sweet potato from Japan, a Chinese apricot unusually resistant to frost and cold, added protection against the spread of drug addiction, increased malaria control and advice on garbage disposal.

An exact figure on U. S. monetary benefits from the U.N. is difficult to compute, but officials associated with the world organization say that it is fairly simple to arrive at a dollars and cents minimum figure.

As a start, the World Bank reports it has lent a whopping 4 billion dollars to countries around the globe for various large-scale projects, most of them industrial. A total of $1,100,000,000 of that sum has been spent in the U.S., mainly on equipment.

Money Spent In U. S.

The U.S. share of the expense of the United Nations headquarters operation, including secretariat salaries, General Assembly operations and Security Council activities, has totaled nearly 194 million dollars since 1946.

But the U.N. has spent much more than that right here in New York City, on salaries of employes, entertainment and various supplies and services.

In 1958 alone, the U.S. share of the 55-million-dollar budget was $16,621,922. About 36 million dollars of the total budget was spent in New York City, in wages for the 3,000 staff members employed here and for other items.

At least another 10 million dollars was spent in New York last year by members of the 82 national delegations to the U.N., according to the most authoritative estimates.

Get Security Dividend

Officials of the U.S. delegation to the U.N. said the dollars and cents receipts did not begin to account for the American benefits from the U.N. They feel the biggest dividend is security, on which there is no price.

"It's like fire insurance or life insurance," a U. S. spokesman said. "For that reason it is impossible to put a real value on it."

Last year, the U. S. contribution to the U.N. totaled 56 cents for each American citizen. Ten cents of that went to the U.N. operating budget. The other 46 cents was spent by the specialized agencies, special voluntary agencies and associated organizations on the humanitarian level.

The bulk of the money thus went for improving living standards in underdeveloped countries and for related activities. But some of it went for projects that directly benefited the U.S., too, according to U.N. officials.

Cuts Red Tape

The Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), acting at the request of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, found a disease-resistant, early-maturing bell pepper in Japan.

Researchers at the same time stumbled on an early-ripening Japanese musk melon that is thriving in the dry Oklahoma climate.

The International Aviation Organization (ICAO) boasts that it provides Americans with many services. A spokesman said that every airborne U.S. traveler abroad benefits from ICAO's success in reducing the red tape involved in entering a foreign country.

U.N. officials said that the U.S. gets more than any other nation from the operations of the International Narcotics Control Agency, largely because it is more exposed to illicit drug traffic than any other country.

In a recent development, the U.S. asked the International Labor Organization to send a mission to study the so-called right-to-work laws and the question of freedom of the workers to join a union or not to join.

Chalice On Way Back To Priest

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (UPI) —A chalice given to a newly ordained missionary priest three years ago is on its way back to him after being stolen in Japan. It was found in a junk shop and brought to America.

The chalice was given by the Maryknoll Fathers to the Rev. Donald C. Walsh when he was ordained in 1956. It was stolen from him in 1958 while he was riding on a Japanese train.

In the fall of that year, American businessman John B. Cassidy found the chalice in a Kyoto, Japan, junk shop. It bore the inscription "College of New Rochelle," his wife's alma mater, and he bought it for $28.

The college identified it as one given in 1932 to their chaplain who left it on his death to the Maryknoll Fathers.

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union signed a technical assistance agreement with Communist North Korea Tuesday in Moscow, radio Moscow announced.

Machen Won't Seek U. Md. Investigation

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A legislator announced Monday night he had decided not to seek an investigation of the University of Maryland because it "would do irreparable harm."

Instead, Del. Machen (D-Prince Georges) announced to the House he would support a bill of hearing to increase the number of regents from 11 to 15.

He said he hoped that reorganization of the board would produce a group "more sensitive to the problems and shortcomings" which Machen claims exists at the university.

Machen contends the present regents have "been content with

Berlin Compromise Forecast By Atlee

EASTON, Pa. (UPI) — Former British Prime Minister Clement Atlee said Monday he is quite sure "some compromise will be arrived at" in the current Berlin crisis.

Atlee, winding up a lecture tour of this country with an address at Lafayette College, said on arrival here that he favors a summit meeting of the major powers as does the current prime minister, Harold Macmillan.

He said he felt the United States insistence upon a preliminary meeting of foreign secretaries is "curious," especially because they do not want war.

Asked if he thought the Russians would start a conflict over Berlin, Atlee replied, "I am quite sure they do not want war."

Fire Sweeps Dwelling At Mt. Savage

Four Companies Battle Blaze For Five Hours

Loss Is Placed At Over $10,000

MT. SAVAGE — Fire, believed caused by an overheated or defective flue wrecked a large three-story, frame dwelling owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan on Railroad Street here yesterday afternoon. Fire Chief Michael Reagan estimated the loss at $10,000.

Four fire companies representing volunteer units from Mt. Savage, Corrignaville, Frostburg and LaVale, fought the stubborn blaze from about 1:30 to 7 p. m., and last night Mt. Savage firemen stood by to prevent a new break-out. The firemen were hampered by cold and a high wind, but successfully protected several adjacent dwellings in the immediate neighborhood.

The property was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, who have lived there for the past 15 years. Mr. Sullivan, a salesman for Fayette Company of Uniontown, Pa. and his wife occupied the second story of the three-floor dwelling. The third floor, where the fire seems to have started, was not occupied.

The first floor was occupied by Mrs. Helen Robertson, a widow and her three children, Christine, 10, Karen, 9, and Bryan 3. Firemen carried all the Robertson possessions to safety, but the furniture and personal effects of the Sullivans were destroyed.

There was no one at home at the time of the blaze which was discovered by a neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Lilly, who called the firemen.

Mr. Sullivan was at work. Mrs. Sullivan was baby sitting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Mary McKenzie at Wellersburg, Pa. Mrs. Robertson and her children were visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Pearl King on Main Street. The children were not in school because of the St. Patrick's Day holiday.

Firemen said they understood that no insurance was carried on furniture or personal property of any of the occupants, and the building was only partially insured.

Mt. Savage Dwelling Prey To Flames

Fire swept this large frame two-family house at Mt. Savage yesterday but despite high winds, volunteer firemen from four area companies were successful in protecting several other dwellings in the neighborhood. Houses on each side were wetted-down repeatedly to prevent ignition. The building was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, who also lost their furnishings and other personal possessions.

Wave Of Burglaries Again Hits Oakland

Mayor Discharges Town's Only Night Police Officer

OAKLAND—The town of Oakland was hit by another wave of burglaries Sunday night, and as a result the town's lone night policeman has been discharged.

The officer, Porter E. DeWitt, was discharged Monday by Mayor Russell L. Smith. He was replaced by Percy L. Smith of Mt. Lake Park, the mayor said yesterday.

On March 2 Garrett County authorities discovered a number of breaking and entering cases, all of which appeared related and pulled off by the same gang.

Five More Cases

This week five more similar cases were reported to Oakland authorities by business establishments.

The Centre Street Elementary School was broken into, but the intruders gained only $1.75 after what appeared to be several hours of hard work. The intruder entered the building by smashing a side window, removed a large door from its hinges, smashed an office door with a hammer, wrecked a filing cabinet, damaged a storage room door and removed three hinges from a deep freeze.

Also reported entered was the Leighton Brothers Garage where two to three dollars was stolen; Mt. City Motor Garage, eight to ten dollars was stolen; Hawkinson's, two dollars taken, and the Oakland Tire Service Station where $110 was stolen.

Buildings Well Cased

Police said the intruders knew where they were and that the buildings must have been "well cased." In the Oakland Tire Station the money was removed from four different places.

Two weeks ago intruders entered three business places in Oakland and a tavern at Four Oaks on U.S. Route 50. Several hundred dollars were reported stolen, as were a number of weapons including pistols, a rifle and a shotgun.

Places entered included the Oakland Lumber Company, the Oakland Sports Shop, Four Oaks Tavern, and the Southern States Cooperative establishment.

Oakland town authorities are being assisted by the Garrett County sheriff's office and the Maryland State Police.

A spokesman said that during the past couple months burglaries have been reported throughout the Oakland area, including nearby points in West Virginia.

WESTERNPORT — Founder's Day will be observed at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Westernport Elementary School Thursday evening, April 9, according to Mrs. Amanda Nichols, president.

Fire Sweeps Dwelling At Mt. Savage

Four Companies Battle Blaze For Five Hours

Loss Is Placed At Over $10,000

MT. SAVAGE — Fire, believed caused by an overheated or defective flue wrecked a large three-story, frame dwelling owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan on Railroad Street here yesterday afternoon. Fire Chief Michael Reagan estimated the loss at $10,000.

Four fire companies representing volunteer units from Mt. Savage, Corrigaville, Frostburg and LaVale, fought the stubborn blaze from about 1:30 to 7 p. m., and last night Mt. Savage firemen stood by to prevent a new break-out. The firemen were hampered by cold and a high wind, but successfully protected several adjacent dwellings in the immediate neighborhood.

The property was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, who have lived there for the past 15 years. Mr. Sullivan, a salesman for Fayette Company of Uniontown, Pa. and his wife occupied the second story of the three-floor dwelling. The third floor, where the fire seems to have started, was not occupied.

The first floor was occupied by Mrs. Helen Robertson, a widow and her three children, Christine, 10, Karen, 9, and Bryan 3. Firemen carried all the Robertson possessions to safety, but the furniture and personal effects of the Sullivans were destroyed.

There was no one at home at the time of the blaze which was discovered by a neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Lilly, who called the firemen.

Mr. Sullivan was at work. Mrs. Sullivan was baby sitting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Mary McKenzie at Wellersburg, Pa. Mrs. Robertson and her children were visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Pearl King on Main Street. The children were not in school because of the St. Patrick's Day holiday.

Firemen said they understood that no insurance was carried on furniture or personal property of any of the occupants, and the building was only partially insured.

Mt. Savage Dwelling Prey To Flames

Fire swept this large frame two-family house at Mt. Savage yesterday but despite high winds, volunteer firemen from four area companies were successful in protecting several other dwellings in the neighborhood. Houses on each side were wetted-down repeatedly to prevent ignition. The building was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, who also lost their furnishings and other personal possessions.

Wave Of Burglaries Again Hits Oakland

Mayor Discharges Town's Only Night Police Officer

OAKLAND—The town of Oakland was hit by another wave of burglaries Sunday night, and as a result the town's lone night policeman has been discharged.

The officer, Porter E. DeWitt, was discharged Monday by Mayor Russell L. Smith. He was replaced by Percy L. Smith of Mt. Lake Park, the mayor said yesterday.

On March 2 Garrett County authorities discovered a number of breaking and entering cases, all of which appeared related and pulled off by the same gang.

Five More Cases

This week five more similar cases were reported to Oakland authorities by business establishments.

The Centre Street Elementary School was broken into, but the intruders gained only $1.75 after what appeared to be several hours of hard work. The intruder entered the building by smashing a side window, removed a large door from its hinges, smashed an office door with a hammer, wrecked a filing cabinet, damaged a storage room door and removed three hinges from a deep freeze.

Also reported entered was the Leighton Brothers Garage where two to three dollars was stolen; Mt. City Motor Garage, eight to ten dollars was stolen; Hawkinson's, two dollars taken, and the Oakland Tire Service Station where $110 was stolen.

Buildings Well Cased

Police said the intruders knew where they were and that the buildings must have been "well cased." In the Oakland Tire Station the money was removed from four different places.

Two weeks ago intruders entered three business places in Oakland and a tavern at Four Oaks on U.S. Route 50. Several hundred dollars were reported stolen, as were a number of weapons including pistols, a rifle and a shotgun.

Places entered included the Oakland Lumber Company, the Oakland Sports Shop, Four Oaks Tavern, and the Southern States Cooperative establishment.

Oakland town authorities are being assisted by the Garrett County sheriff's office and the Maryland State Police.

A spokesman said that during the past couple months burglaries have been reported throughout the Oakland area, including nearby points in West Virginia.

Teachers' Pension Bill Introduced

Delegate Thomas F. Conlon (D-Allegany) yesterday introduced a bill in the House of Delegates calling for the payment of an additional $25 monthly pension to retired teachers whose total pension from the teachers' retirement system is less than $175 per month.

Conlon stated: "Although I am aware that both the County Commissioners of Allegany County and others may oppose this action on the grounds of cost, I have introduced the bill at the request of a number of people.

"We must remember that the present law was passed when living costs were much lower and that most of the teachers affected have little or no Social Security benefits.

"They are definitely not complaining of their situation and have no organized lobby or spokesman that I am aware of at this time.

"However, it must be remembered that this lack does not mean that discrimination cannot exist. Persons wiser than I have advised me that introducing this bill is a 'political mistake', but we must remember that these retired folk are in their upper seventies and many are in their eighties.

"Teachers retiring after July 1, 1959 will receive $40 monthly for life regardless of Social Security benefits as long as they are any amount short on the implied pension formula in State Sen. See's bill. (Senate Bill 82 provided for $50 supplementary pension payments but was amended in the House of Delegates to $40.)

"The previously retired group are much older, having served this county well in years when salaries and working conditions did not equal today's levels. The group includes wonderful educators whose very lack of complaint indicates their character. But they face greater costs for every necessity, such a medical and hospital expenses and they have no cost-of-living adjustment we find in the Social Security program.

"Since their average age can be defined and because their numbers cannot grow, but only diminish, the cost to the county will not increase and can be predicted accurately. I hope it is not too late for action this session of the Legislature," Conlon concluded.

Seek Name Change

NEW YORK (UPI) — Townsend Investment Co. will ask stockholders at a meeting set for April 1 to approve changing its name to Townsend Corp. of America.

Hearing Set March 23 On C&O Measures

Rep. John R. Foley (D-6th Md.) announced yesterday that all bills pertaining to the creation of the C&O Canal National Historical Park will be considered at hearings of the House of Representatives Subcommittee on Public Lands next week.

The sessions will be held Monday, March 23 through Wednesday, March 25, in Room 1324 of the New House Office Building, Washington, from 9 a.m. to noon.

To be considered are House Bills 5194 and 2331 sponsored by Rep. Foley, and House Bill 953 sponsored by Rep. John P. Saylor of Johnstown.

House Bill 2331 is a companion bill to Senate Bill 77 sponsored by U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall and House Bill 5194 was prepared by the Interior Committee staff.

The hearings next Wednesday, will be taken up primarily with reports of federal agencies. Those on private groups and citizens will be heard on Monday and Tuesday.

Rep. Foley urges that all interested parties desiring to appear as witnesses inform either the committee or his office by Friday. Rep. Foley also suggested certain procedures for witnesses to follow. Oral testimony should not exceed 10 minutes, however, prepared statements may be as long as desired and will be entered into the record.

Witnesses are requested to bring 25 copies of their statements to the committee hearings. Witnesses need not reiterate their prior testimony in last year's hearings. It is necessary only to refer to it and make any necessary additions.

Rep. Foley stated that his office will be open to assist prospective witnesses with the clerical work involved in the preparation of their statements.

Not Worldly Wise

LONDON (UPI) — The manager of London's exclusive "Les Ambassadeurs" night club said Tuesday the thieves who broke into the establishment were obviously "not men of the world." Manager John Mills said the intruders smoked fine cigars without removing the bands and opened a bottle of 1952 vintage burgundy wine by pushing in the cork with a screw driver.

Legion Sets Anniversary Celebration

Paul W. Weisenmiller, commander, said the anniversary program will be highlighted by the reception of 25 new members. The initiation will mark the conclusion of a membership drive that has been conducted by two teams captained by Howard M. Spiker and Paul C. Weisenmiller. A goal of 1,000 members has been exceeded in the campaign, the post commander said.

Weisenmiller noted that the local post was among the first 15 in Maryland to apply for a charter, and that the Legion now has some 17,000 posts throughout the nation.

The name, American Legion, was suggested for the new organization of American veterans of World War I at a caucus of delegates from the first AEF in Paris on March 15-17, 1919. The name was suggested by Major Maurice K. Gordon, Madisonville, Ky., who served in the 36th Division.

Weisenmiller said the program Saturday will be followed by a buffet luncheon and entertainment in the post lounge.

Teachers' Pension Bill Introduced

Delegate Thomas F. Conlon (D-Allegany) yesterday introduced a bill in the House of Delegates calling for the payment of an additional $25 monthly pension to retired teachers whose total pension from the teachers' retirement system is less than $175 per month.

Conlon stated: "Although I am aware that both the County Commissioners of Allegany County and others may oppose this action on the grounds of cost, I have introduced the bill at the request of a number of people.

"We must remember that the present law was passed when living costs were much lower and that most of the teachers affected have little or no Social Security benefits.

"They are definitely not complaining of their situation and have no organized lobby or spokesman that I am aware of at this time.

"However, it must be remembered that this lack does not mean that discrimination cannot exist. Persons wiser than I have advised me that introducing this bill is a 'political mistake', but we must remember that these retired folk are in their upper seventies and many are in their eighties.

"Teachers retiring after July 1, 1959 will receive $40 monthly for life regardless of Social Security benefits as long as they are any amount short on the implied pension formula in State Sen. See's bill. (Senate Bill 82 provided for $50 supplementary pension payments but was amended in the House of Delegates to $40.)

"The previously retired group are much older, having served this county well in years when salaries and working conditions did not equal today's levels. The group includes wonderful educators whose very lack of complaint indicates their character. But they face greater costs for every necessity, such a medical and hospital expenses and they have no cost-of-living adjustment we find in the Social Security program.

"Since their average age can be defined and because their numbers cannot grow, but only diminish, the cost to the county will not increase and can be predicted accurately. I hope it is not too late for action this session of the Legislature," Conlon concluded.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Townsend Investment Co. will ask stockholders at a meeting set for April 1 to approve changing its name to Townsend Corp. of America.

Hearing Set March 23 On C&O Measures

Rep. John R. Foley (D-6th Md.) announced yesterday that all bills pertaining to the creation of the C&O Canal National Historical Park will be considered at hearings of the House of Representatives Subcommittee on Public Lands next week.

The sessions will be held Monday, March 23 through Wednesday, March 25, in Room 1324 of the New House Office Building, Washington, from 9 a.m. to noon.

To be considered are House Bills 5194 and 2331 sponsored by Rep. Foley, and House Bill 953 sponsored by Rep. John P. Saylor of Johnstown.

House Bill 2331 is a companion bill to Senate Bill 77 sponsored by U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall and House Bill 5194 was prepared by the Interior Committee staff.

The hearings next Wednesday, will be taken up primarily with reports of federal agencies. Those on private groups and citizens will be heard on Monday and Tuesday.

Rep. Foley urges that all interested parties desiring to appear as witnesses inform either the committee or his office by Friday. Rep. Foley also suggested certain procedures for witnesses to follow. Oral testimony should not exceed 10 minutes, however, prepared statements may be as long as desired and will be entered into the record.

Witnesses are requested to bring 25 copies of their statements to the committee hearings. Witnesses need not reiterate their prior testimony in last year's hearings. It is necessary only to refer to it and make any necessary additions.

Rep. Foley stated that his office will be open to assist prospective witnesses with the clerical work involved in the preparation of their statements.

Not Worldly Wise

LONDON (UPI) — The manager of London's exclusive "Les Ambassadeurs" night club said Tuesday the thieves who broke into the establishment were obviously "not men of the world." Manager John Mills said the intruders smoked fine cigars without removing the bands and opened a bottle of 1952 vintage burgundy wine by pushing in the cork with a screw driver.

Gray Requests Appeals Court For Reversal

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A Baltimore man Tuesday asked the Court of Appeals to reverse his conviction for the armed robbery of William J. Cover, owner of a Cumberland service station.

The appeal was taken by Raymond J. A. Gray, formerly of Cumberland, from an Allegany County Circuit Court verdict convicting him of robbing Cover of $350.

Cover was beaten and robbed on Shade's Lane just north of Cumberland last Sept. 11.

A co-defendant in the case with Gray was Howard Iser of Cumberland. Iser and Gray were both convicted and sentenced to 10 years in prison. Iser had three years added to his term for escaping from the county jail last November.

Gray's attorneys claimed that Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris, the trial judge, erred in permitting State's Attorney James Getty to attempt to impeach one of his own witnesses, Gray's sister.

They said Cover was unable to identify Gray as one of his assailants, and they claimed there was no testimony linking Gray with commission of the crime.

Ministers To Change Pulpits For Services

Rev. Connell T. Chaney, pastor of Wiley Ford Church of the Brethren, and Rev. George Jeffrey, pastor of the Old Furnace Church of the Brethren, near Short Gap, will exchange pulpits for a series of pre-Easter services.

The services will begin Sunday and will continue each evening at 7:30 p. m. through Wednesday. Special music will be presented each evening.

"The Love Feast" and a Communion service will be commemorated next Thursday at the Old Furnace Church and Friday evening at the Wiley Ford Church.

Trailer Bill

"I believe if we give them this, they'll be back for more."

But Majority Leader A. Gordon Boone (Baltimore County), explained the features of the bill and asked approval, which was voted 65-3, with Allegany County Delegates Reed and Kelley voting no.

The House moved to third reading House Bill 673, a Delegation bill, to require the Sheriff to make monthly reports on the number of prisoners and provides he will receive 75 cents a day for board and keep of prisoners.

Adopt Garrett Bills

Senate Bill 429, by Senator See, which changes the time of filing of petitions for the LaVale Zoning Board, reached the House and was referred to the Delegation.

The Garrett County industrial development bill, sponsored by Senator Bernard I. Gonder, was enacted in the House.

Also enacted was SB396, by Senator Gonder, to allow Garrett County to set up sanitary districts.

Delegate Noel Speir Cook's Miners Hospital proposal, House Bill 138, it was explained, calls for the hospital to retain money collected on old debts, and did not advance the time for it to become a private institution.

County Voters To Get Choice Of Liquor Plans

attorney for the Allegany County Licensed Beverage Association, who said he considered the bill a "fair and reasonable solution" to a combination of "hodge podge" Maryland liquor laws and geographic situation which combines to victimize Allegany County tavern keepers.

He said the liquor dealers had done their best to meet the ministers half way by agreeing to a major change in the original bill. That bill provided for a referendum on whether to extend legal hours of sale to 1 a. m. on nights other than Saturdays. Under present law, county bars are open to 1 a. m. but cannot sell after midnight.

Mr. Robb pointed out that the ministers had proposed, as an alternative to a simple yes or no vote on this extension, a referendum which would either permit the bars to sell until 1 a. m. or force them to close at midnight.

"Moral Basis"

"Every objection raised by the Cumberland Ministerial Association has been on a moral basis, not on a basis of law, or of reason, or of logic, he declared.

"In other words," asked Del. Robinson, "you think it is no more immoral for a bar to be open 18 hours than 17 hours. Is that right?"

"That's right," said Mr. Robb.

Referring to another bill (HB 711) introduced by Del. Lester B. Reed, Allegany Republican, which would provide for a referendum moving back the hours of sale to midnight, Mr. Robb said this was an "emasculated" proposal, which "includes nothing we want and just what the ministerial association wants."

Said Del. Robinson: "It's a 'heads-I-win-tails-you-lose' proposition."

Rev. Wayne J. Eberly, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren and spokesman for the ministerial association, said the ministers had not approached the bill in terms of a "wet-or-dry issue."

"But we feel this is the sort of thing there's no stop to." He said the agreement or passage on the amended bill without a hearing as announced in the Cumberland Sunday Times this week, "may have been premature."

Del. Driscoll had given the House Committee a copy of the Sunday Times in which the agreement between ministers and liquor dealers was reported.

Committee View

Rev. Eberly said the agreement reflected the thinking of the executive committee of the clerical group but that the whole membership hadn't had a chance to act until Monday.

"Then we decided to reconsider our position because we didn't want to associate any further with any bill which had as its original intent the extention of hours for the sale of liquor."

He said the ministerial group also felt that the issues posed in HB 352 were "confusing" and that the referendum question would be "unfairly presented."

Del. Robinson asked: "Don't you think the people of Allegany County would be able to make a sensible decision or do you believe they lack the capacity to understand the choice they would have?"

Rev. Mr. Eberly said this wasn't his meaning, but that the clergymen remained opposed to the bill because of its intent and its wording.

"Fair Shake"

Del. Henry Hanna, Wicomico County Democrat and chairman of the committee, said the disputed bill sounded to him like a "fair shake."

The heated exchange between Mr. Manges and Del. Driscoll came as the hearing concluded.

Del. Driscoll challenged Mr. Manges' reference to "politicians" pointing out that Mr. Manges had served as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County and this should be considered a politician himself.

A lighter note was injected by Del. Robinson who interrupted Mr. Manges' earnest argument against the bill to ask Mr. Manges if he ever represented a group in hearings before the legislature.

Mr. Manges replied he had on several occasions but without pay.

"Free Lobbyist"

Said Del. Robinson: "Well, you are the only free lobbyist I ever heard of."

The full Allegany County delegation and State Sen. Charles M. See attended the hearing. The ministers were represented by Rev. Mr. Eberly, Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, Rev. Robert C. Nimon, Rev. Ralph Burnette, Capt. Daniel K. Biggs and B. U. Smith of Central YMCA.

Representing the liquor dealers were Mr. Robb, Casper R. Taylor Sr., Casper R. Taylor Jr., Antone Struntz, Allen P. Shaw, Mrs. Helen Burke and Peter Lukas.

Revenue Bond Sale Approved

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —Sale of $10,000,000 of self-liquidating revenue bonds to finance an agriculture—engineering plant on the nearby Evansdale campus of West Virginia University was completed Tuesday.

The University's Board of Governors accepted a net interest bid of 4.268 per cent from a syndicate composed of F. J. Van Ingen & Co. and Blyth & Co., both of New York, Young Moore & Co., Charleston, and 19 associated firms.

The bonds will be retired over a 30-year period with all university tuition fees, except those collected by the schools of medicine, industry and pharmacy.

John McShain Inc., Baltimore, Md., with a bid of $8,827,000, was low bidder March 3 for construction of the new facility.

Attends Conference

C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, is representing the City of Cumberland at the Middle Atlantic conference of the National Recreation Association, which opened yesterday at Buck Hill Falls, Pa. The meeting will continue through Saturday.

More than a million pounds of salt was used for table and household purposes in the U. S. in 1958.

Tawes Supports Continuation Of Jobless Pay

which has been rejected earlier this session.

An Employment Security Department official said the extension would affect only workers who had already run the normal 26-week benefit course and were embarked on the 13-week addition as of March 31.

It would not mean an additional 13 weeks of jobless pay for those filing new claims after the cut-off date or for those in the midst of the 26-week period on that date.

Department officials said the State had acquired about 12 million dollars from the federal government under the temporary one-year extension.

The federal legislation provides for repayment of this by increasing the federal unemployment tax, if necessary. This is the .3 per cent levy now paid by an employer on the first $3,000 of each employe's wages.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell recently told a congressional committee it may not be necessary to increase the levy. He said the .3 per cent tax in the last 18 years is beyond the amount needed for administration of the jobless pay program at State level, the purpose for which the tax was levied.

Mitchell said the excess heretofore has been paid into the federal general funds. It was suggested that in the future it might be used to replace money made available to the states during the last year for extension of the maximum benefit periods.

The House of Delegates poked its head through the mass of new bills long enough to approve a State Fair Trade Act on alcoholic beverages.

It would require wholesalers to file with the comptroller minimum retail prices for liquor and wine. The retailers then would be prohibited from selling them any cheaper.

Montgomery County would be granted an exception because it has its own county dispensary system which is in competition with prices in the District of Columbia.

Rev. Eberly said the agreement reflected the thinking of the executive committee of the clerical group but that the whole membership hadn't had a chance to act until Monday.

"Then we decided to reconsider our position because we didn't want to associate any further with any bill which had as its original intent the extention of hours for the sale of liquor."

He said the ministerial group also felt that the issues posed in HB 352 were "confusing" and that the referendum question would be "unfairly presented."

Del. Robinson asked: "Don't you think the people of Allegany County would be able to make a sensible decision or do you believe they lack the capacity to understand the choice they would have?"

Rev. Mr. Eberly said this wasn't his meaning, but that the clergymen remained opposed to the bill because of its intent and its wording.

"Fair Shake"

Del. Henry Hanna, Wicomico County Democrat and chairman of the committee, said the disputed bill sounded to him like a "fair shake."

The heated exchange between Mr. Manges and Del. Driscoll came as the hearing concluded.

Del. Driscoll challenged Mr. Manges' reference to "politicians" pointing out that Mr. Manges had served as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County and this should be considered a politician himself.

A lighter note was injected by Del. Robinson who interrupted Mr. Manges' earnest argument against the bill to ask Mr. Manges if he ever represented a group in hearings before the legislature.

Mr. Manges replied he had on several occasions but without pay.

"Free Lobbyist"

The full Allegany County delegation and State Sen. Charles M. See attended the hearing. The ministers were represented by Rev. Mr. Eberly, Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, Rev. Robert C. Nimon, Rev. Ralph Burnette, Capt. Daniel K. Biggs and B. U. Smith of Central YMCA.

Representing the liquor dealers were Mr. Robb, Casper R. Taylor Sr., Casper R. Taylor Jr., Antone Struntz, Allen P. Shaw, Mrs. Helen Burke and Peter Lukas.

Revenue Bond Sale Approved

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —Sale of $10,000,000 of self-liquidating revenue bonds to finance an agriculture—engineering plant on the nearby Evansdale campus of West Virginia University was completed Tuesday.

The University's Board of Governors accepted a net interest bid of 4.268 per cent from a syndicate composed of F. J. Van Ingen & Co. and Blyth & Co., both of New York, Young Moore & Co., Charleston, and 19 associated firms.

The bonds will be retired over a 30-year period with all university tuition fees, except those collected by the schools of medicine, industry and pharmacy.

John McShain Inc., Baltimore, Md., with a bid of $8,827,000, was low bidder March 3 for construction of the new facility.

Attends Conference

C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, is representing the City of Cumberland at the Middle Atlantic conference of the National Recreation Association, which opened yesterday at Buck Hill Falls, Pa. The meeting will continue through Saturday.

More than a million pounds of salt was used for table and household purposes in the U. S. in 1958.

Tawes Supports Continuation Of Jobless Pay

which has been rejected earlier this session.

An Employment Security Department official said the extension would affect only workers who had already run the normal 26-week benefit course and were embarked on the 13-week addition as of March 31.

It would not mean an additional 13 weeks of jobless pay for those filing new claims after the cut-off date or for those in the midst of the 26-week period on that date.

Department officials said the State had acquired about 12 million dollars from the federal government under the temporary one-year extension.

The federal legislation provides for repayment of this by increasing the federal unemployment tax, if necessary. This is the .3 per cent levy now paid by an employer on the first $3,000 of each employe's wages.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell recently told a congressional committee it may not be necessary to increase the levy. He said the .3 per cent tax in the last 18 years is beyond the amount needed for administration of the jobless pay program at State level, the purpose for which the tax was levied.

Mitchell said the excess heretofore has been paid into the federal general funds. It was suggested that in the future it might be used to replace money made available to the states during the last year for extension of the maximum benefit periods.

The House of Delegates poked its head through the mass of new bills long enough to approve a State Fair Trade Act on alcoholic beverages.

It would require wholesalers to file with the comptroller minimum retail prices for liquor and wine. The retailers then would be prohibited from selling them any cheaper.

Montgomery County would be granted an exception because it has its own county dispensary system which is in competition with prices in the District of Columbia.

Efforts To Balance The New Budget

It isn't necessarily that well known irresistible force meeting the immovable body: this conflict between the demand by President Eisenhower for budget balancing and the demand in Congress to restore most of his $3.9 billion budgeted cut in outlays. It could be, instead, a case of eating your cake and having it, too. The answer would be higher taxes.

"Stultifying dogma," newspaper commentator Walter Lippman calls the attitude that the budget must be balanced without raising taxes. In fact, the President's 1960 Budget provides a balance only if Congress accepts two proposals now unacceptable to it—still higher postal rates, a 1½c gallon gasoline tax increase.

To the plaint, "Americans can't stand any higher taxes than they now stagger under," advocates of higher taxes can point out that the federal income tax rates are lower today than they were in 1952 and 1953. And we stood them then, even if we did grumble.

In those two years (Korean War aftermath), the rates started at 22.2 per cent and rose to a maximum of 92 per cent. The maximum overall effective rate was 88 per cent. Today the rates open at 20.0 per cent (ten per cent lower), rise to 91 per cent, have a maximum overall rate of 87 per cent.

"Why don't they say, we want the taxes for it?" the President demanded on March 11 ("it" being a big increase in the armed forces). If he were to go farther and spell out in detail the specific tax increases necessary, the horrible details might well tone down some of the clamor for higher outlays. It's an "ugly thought," Dean G. Acheson admits about higher taxes needed for the 12 per cent rise he urges in defense expenditures.

United Europe

As one looks at a list of the European agencies established to bring Western Europe into a union, it became clearer that much has been accomplished in recent years, some of it good, some of it futile, in the direction of joint operations among countries which had been at war.

The United Nations is world-wide and includes Asian, African and other non-European groups. Europe's problems are separate and distinct, because for centuries it was European countries which dominated the world not only physically and materially but as a civilizing force.

Two world wars shattered Europe and forced upon it new systems of life and new concepts of government. However, modern commerce and industry, the movement of men and money require better organization than small nations can provide. The need for an economic, if not a political union for Europe, has become obvious, but the techniques for achieving the ultimate goal of such a Europe as existed under Charles V or Napoleon do not readily present themselves in this period of so-called democracy. The resistance is not as much nationalistic as it is economic.

The public relations firm of Hill and Knowlton, having gone into the international business, has issued a brief directory of "Europe's 'Alphabet' Agencies and Agreements," which I found to be interesting reading because it provides an index to the effort toward union.

The European Economic Community, (EEC), for instance, is the more formal name for the European Common Market (ECM). This consists of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. It is more than a customs union and less than a super-government. Nevertheless, it has quite a set-up, an Assembly, a Council of Ministers, a Court of Justice, and a Common Market Commission. It has two advisory groups: an Economic and Social Committee and a Monetary Committee and three operating groups: The European Investment Bank, a Development Fund and a European Social Fund.

Along similar lines is Euratom—the European Atomic Energy Community—formed by the same nations that formed the Common Market. Euratom encourages the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes. It pools knowledge. Both the ECM and Euratom have their headquarters in Brussels, Belgium.

The European Coal and Steel Community is older than ECM or Euratom. It was founded in 1952. The same nations are in this group. It has been very successful in the restoration of the Western European coal and steel industries.

The OEEC is an outgrowth of World War II and the need for quickened rehabilitation of European countries — 17 countries belong to this organization which helped to develop and implement the Marshall Plan and produced the European Monetary Agreement which provides a capital fund of $600,000,000 to extend short-term credits to member nations of OEEC. The Benelux Customs Union — generally referred to as Benelux — is a union of Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg for an ultimate economic union of these three countries.

The most ambiguous of these trends toward an economic unification of Europe and the rest of the world is GATT which is short for General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. This includes 37 nations on all continents and seeks stabilization and tariff reductions. The effect of GATT upon American industries is extremely dubious. Many believe that it could even be harmful.

NATO does on the military side what all these organizations try to do on the economic side. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is a military union among European countries opposed to the imperialistic efforts of Soviet Russia. Its headquarters are in Paris. Alongside of NATO is the COCOM, the Coordinating Committee, which operates to coordinate strategic trade controls.

These are agencies which are European in nature and origin, although most of them are closely associated with the United States. A number of agencies exist which originate in the United Nations, their special purpose being to strengthen the economy or to improve social conditions in Europe. Such organizations as the International Monetary Fund, the International Labor Orgnaization, the Food and Agricultural Organization report directly to the United Nations.

The Rattler's Out Of Hibernation Again

Only Firmness Can Prevent Another War

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Is the world about to witness one of the biggest hoaxes of all times — another "summit conference"?

Although a foreign ministers' meeting is to be held in Geneva in May, its failure is anticipated already as the cry is raised for a "summit conference."

Dispatches from abroad indicate that Prime Minister Macmillan has been forced into a political corner on the issue and favors a conference of heads of states. Also in the United States certain anti-administration spokesmen who are gullible enough to believe the Soviets will make concessions are speaking out in favor of "summit conferences." In fact, it now is being suggested by Chairman Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that such conferences be held twice a year as a regular procedure.

But the average man will ask: "What is there about a 'summit conference that makes it such an attractive idea to its sponsors?

So far as the Soviets are concerned, it gives them a propaganda show. The men in the Kremlin can thereby demonstrate to their own people how the rest of the world comes to them begging for crumbs at the table of discussion. As for the Allied side, it's a political issue in Great Britain, where the Socialist Party pounds away at the Macmillan government by giving the impression that acceptance of a "summit conference invitation means peace and that a refusal could lead to war.

Something of the same attitude characterizes the views of some opposition party leaders in the United States. Thus it is asserted Nikita Khrushchev has so much power that it is useless to talk to anyone else, and it is being said in addition that there is no "number two man." The inference is that Khrushchev must be humored, and that he alone can make a "deal."

Actually, a "summit conference" is about the last place in the world that any deal can be made between governments. It isn't a quiet, deliberate affair held in a secluded spot where there is an opportunity for reflective discussion by the four to men concerned.

On the contrary, at a "summit conference" each of the heads of state has at his side half a dozen people — aides and advisers — plus clerks and stenographers. There's not much that's private when there are 30 or 40 people in a room. Surrounding the conference outside are at least 1,000 newsmen, photographers and broadcasters demanding public statements and pictures. It isn't a conference, but a carnival of publicity.

If the Soviet government really wants to draft some kind of agreement to settle the Berlin controversy, it needs only to call in the American or British or French ambassador at Moscow, and the way could be paved for such an accord, also, a foreign ministers' conference furnishes every opportunity for an agreement to be consummated. Unless the one to be held in Geneva in May is successful, President Eisenhower sees little value in a "summit conference" later on.

The Soviets fully expect the West to yield to their demands. They look on democracies as weak, unstable, disunited countries which care more for material comforts than they do for principle. Unfortunately, this was the way things looked to the dictators in Europe in the 1930s, but when the chips were down the Allies fought a world war and won it.

History is repeating itself. A dictatorship is again miscalculating the strength and spirit of its adversaries. Weak-kneed persons on our side are giving aid and comfort to the Soviets by sniping at their own government from positions of prominence and influence in parliaments abroad and in our own Congress at home. This is giving our potential enemies a basis for miscalculation. It could lead to the war everybody on the Western side is anxious to avoid.

Whatever "agreements" might be proclaimed by the "summit conference" would not be worth the paper they would be written on. The 1954 "summit conference" agreed solemnly that there should be free elections to reunify Germany. Now, after nearly five years, the Soviets have torn up that pledge and are brazenly threatening war if their new demands for keeping Germany dismembered are not accepted.

Firmness by the West will alone save the world from another war. There is a staunch and courageous will to resist at the White House and in the leadership of our armed forces. But despite the honeyed words about unity that lately have come from Capitol Hill, the Soviets are convinced that the opposition party in the United States isn't really back of the American government. It's a mistaken belief, but, judging from the utterances of some of the democratic leaders and the qualifying phrases they use in giving lip service to national unity, the Moscow chieftains can readily get the idea that there's a real chance to wring concessions from the West. This could mean surrendering the military position which NATO has hitherto maintained in Western Europe as a safeguard against potential aggression.

"Summit conferences" should be realistically labeled "surrender conferences." For that's why the Soviets keep pressing fo. them to be convened.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

For several years now Congress has been lightheartedly debating the selection of a national flower. It is a pleasant subject in these times of cold wars and hot budgets, and affords the legislators an opportunity to let off some good-natured steam and make some hay with their constituencies.

Most New York legislators want the rose to be selected, no doubt because the largest commercial rose garden in the United States is situated in that state. Iowa and some other Midwestern legislators, with a keen eye on the farm vote, are plumping for, of all things, the corn tassel. Kentuckians are backing blue grass to the hilt.

The other day, Senator Gordon Allott (R) of Colorado, hit upon a gimmick to promote his own selection for the national flower. He distributed, free to all Senators, carnations.

The Senators, ever courteous, wore them to the floor of the upper chamber, but the only visible result was to set off a "corny" debate on the whole subject.

Zsa Zsa Helps Her Fiance Charm Military Housing Contract Officials

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is out of Washington on a special assignment his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson).

WASHINGTON — Dazzling, blonde Zsa Zsa Gabor, the Hollywood glamor queen, has been helping her millionaire fiance, Hal Hayes, soften up the bureaucrats who hand out military housing contracts.

She has accompanied him on more than one government call, flashing her long lashes in a manner calculated to melt contract resistance.

"I want you to meet the vice president of my company," Hayes announced at one office. Then he ushered in Zsa Zsa, all wrapped in furs, sparkling with diamonds and exuding Parisian fragrance. Later she invited the housing people to a glittering cocktail party at Washington's Statler-Hilton, a hotel owned by a former husband.

Hayes is trying to close an $18,000,000 housing deal which could make Zsa Zsa the future landlady at Camp Lejeune, N. C.'s Marine Base. He has also built homes at several Air Force bases.

This may explain why he was son anxious to have her stay in Washington an extra day last week. She protested that the delay would make her late for a television filming which, she said, would cost producer Mike Wallace $10,000.

"I'll send him $10,000 if you stay," offered Hayes cavalierly.

At least one bartender at the National Press Club has reason to believe Hayes wasn't kidding. When the millionaire contractor remarked he would give $50 for a cup of coffee, the barkeep hustled into the kitchen and returned triumphantly with the coffee. Hayes handed the man a $50 bill.

Note: When Vice President Nixon met Zsa Zsa, he gave her figure an appreciative glance and remarked: "I imagine you are glad sack dresses have gone out of style."

"Yes," purred Miss Gabor, "aren't you?"

Post-Election Loan

The House Elections Subcommittee is curious about a $48,000 loan that Congressman John Bennett, Michigan Republican, granted to publisher Frank Russell three weeks after the last election.

What has raised Congressional eyebrows is the fact that Russell's newspapers and radio-television stations are probably responsible for re-electing Bennett in a district that often goes Democratic but remained Republican last November. Thus Bennett withstood the biggest Democratic tide since 1936.

Russell dominates the news in the iron-ore country of upper Michigan. He owns the Marquette Mining Journal, Iron Mountain News, radio-television stations WDMJ and WDMJ-TV in Marquette, radio station WMIQ in Iron Mountain and radio station WLST in Escanaba. He also controlled, but is now selling, the Escanaba Press and Sault Ste. Marie News. Throughout the campaign, this heavy artillery bombarded the district with favorable stories about Bennett.

Russell emphasized to this column that he not only mortgaged property in Michigan and Florida but is paying interest on the $48,000 loan. He borrowed the money from Bennett instead of a bank, he explained, because of other debts.

Truman's Poker Luck

During Harry Truman's last Washington visit, he now confides: "I went out with some friends who have taken money away from me for years to see whether I could win some of it back. But they took it away from me again."

What the former President didn't mention was that the man who took most of it away from him was Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma. His oil holdings, thanks to favorable taxes, have made him a millionaire 100 times over.

But at the poker table with Truman, the wealthiest man held the luckiest cards. Mr. Truman, who has no income outside his writings, drew poor hands.

Murmured Sen. Clint Anderson of New Mexico: "Them that has, gets."

Submarine Deterrent

The bootleg memo that the Navy is circulating behind President Eisenhower's back claims Russia's missile might could be held at bay for a $3,000,000,000 investment. This would be enough to buy 30 Polaris-packing atomic subs which could hide under the ocean, ready to deliver a salvo of 1,200-mile missiles against Russia's 150 largest cities.

The memo contends Russia would never start a war if it meant the sacrifice of 150 cities.

"Certainly," the document declares, "any nation must be deterred by almost certain destruction of its 50 largest cities. However, to be safe, let us take the 150 largest. This example calls for 160 successfully-delivered Polaris missiles, or just 10 boat loads. Allowing for missile reliability, attrition and submarines in port for repairs, a fleet of 30 Polaris boats should be more than sufficient. Such a fleet with all its bases and auxiliary supporting equipment would cost no more than $3,000,000,000."

Navy studies indicate all but the largest Soviet cities could be destroyed beyond salvage "with single weapons of 200-kiloton yield delivered with two-mile accuracy."

"The few largest cities such as Moscow, Leningrad, Kharkov, etc, would require two or three such weapons," the memo adds. "By 'extreme destruction' is meant the level which occurred at Hiroshima, namely 25 per cent fatalities, 40 per cent severe casualties, 60 per cent residential destruction and 50 per cent industrial destruction. Studies of the recuperation of Hiroshima and Nagasaki give strong indication that, without extensive sources of external aid, these two cities may never have recovered."

Instead of 30 Polaris subs, however, only six are under construction.

Note—The Navy memo also sounds this ominous note: "Our briefly held advantage in strategic nuclear weapons has been eliminated by the amazing speed of Soviet development of atomic and hydrogen bombs, and now both nations possess stockpiles of high-yield weapons sufficient to destroy each other many times over."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Something bad has happened to the United States. For the first time in history, the people are confused and frightened. They do not understand the successive crises which beset the country, and they do not want to understand. They are in shock.

In a subtle, insidious way, they have lost faith in this, the most favored nation in the most favored century. They are beginning to think like losers. The people have faced so many moments of crisis from Pearl Harbor to Berlin that, like a merchant who has been robbed several times, they stare into the muzzle of the gun and murmur: "What's new?"

We used to have patriots by the millions. My grandpa, Alonzo Tier, wouldn't live in a house that didn't have a flagstaff in front of it. He raised Old Glory every morning, and hauled it down and folded it every evening. He would not listen to a man at a bar, or a church social, who argued that the United States was second best at anything.

The Minute Men of 1776 were never paid for defending their villages. They didn't want to be paid. Those who died did it in defense of home and country. Today, pay is important to the hero, and also hospitalization and the G.I. Bill of Rights and it is patriotic to raid the treasury.

There are millions of sets of gleaming teeth and socketless eyes looking upward through alien mud toward white crosses and you betray these every time you think defeat—much less talk about it. Your political label isn't worth utterance unless you are first of all an American.

To be an American one must stand more firmly behind our government in time of crisis than at any other time. To understand each crisis one must read about it. Do not skip the news on page one because it is frightening. Read it. Think about it. When the government decides to stand fast in Berlin, come what may, brace yourself to stand fast with it, come what may.

Somewhere along the road, we have lost faith in ourselves. There will never be a finer time to examine our consciences and get it back than now. What, you may ask, can I do?

One of the things you can do is to lend the United States some money. We are in an embarrassing position — caught between two weapons systems.

In the changeover from jet bombers to missiles, we are slow. The government cannot move faster unless it has additional money.

The money cannot come from the budget without risking our economic lives. The Department of Defense could use an extra six billions of dollars. Couldn't we lend it to our government, without interest, for 25 years? Is this too much of a sacrifice to show the Soviet Union that we love our country and will not be browbeaten into taking one backward step?

It comes to about $35 for each American. Some can afford it, some cannot. It would take six billions in cash out of the inflationary credit market and put it in Faith in America Bonds. I will not be here to get the money back. But my children will. And few things would please me more than to help, in a very small way, to leave a sound country to them.

Perhaps the idea is too simple. But, like you, I've been troubled by the fact that, as one person, I feel helpless to do anything to show my true feelings about this great and vigorous land without appearing to be a flag waver.

Mr. Nikita Khrushchev has got to learn quickly that, as deeply as we may fear war, we fear slavery even more. In my time, three men have misjudged the temper of the people of the United States. Kaiser Wilhelm II thought, in 1917, that we were too soft to fight; Adolf Hitler thought that we were too happy making money to fight; Nikita Khrushchev feels that he can bluff us into slavery.

Better to live a moment on our feet than a lifetime on our knees . . .

Growing Old Without Becoming A Nuisance

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

An older person must contribute in some way if he wants to be respected and loved by friends and younger members of the family. Companionship is a mutual affair and the oldster must earn it by showing the same affection for and consideration of others that he expects to get from them.

Growing old no longer is an achievement that demands special attention. Millions have reached three score and 10 and the sooner the man or woman in this age bracket finds his place in society, the happier he will be.

The oldster who is in reasonably good health should stop talking about the miseries of old age, how no one loves him, and how much time he has on his hands. The easiest way to lose respect and affection is to become garrulous, obstinate, grouchy, or quarrelsome. It does not pay to try to dominate grown children or grandchildren. They are entitled to lead their own lives.

Loneliness and idleness lead to deterioration. These states are unnecessary, as some type of companionship or recreation usually is available. Most communities have places to dance, group singing, movies, and discussion and study groups. There are hobbies galore that can be done in the home, varying from sewing to painting.

It is important to remain useful, active, and alert. This is easier for those who still have a job and are in good health. Serve the community and be ready to help a friend or neighbor in need. Be flexible and adapt to new conditions and circumstances. Age is no excuse for failure to improve the mind and body.

Elderly men and women who are ill or suffering from painful disabilities will find this advice impractical; those who are unprepared for senior citizenship will find it distasteful. These people never learned to relax during midlife and never acquired a hobby. Some continue to abuse their bodies through excesses. The future belongs to those who plan for it.

TOMORROW: Heat and cold therapy.

FLUSHED BY FLUIDS

G. L. W. writes: Will drinking plenty of grape juice flush the kidneys?

REPLY

Plenty of any fluid, including water, will give the kidneys a workout.

TOURIST DISEASE

R. J. writes: Every time we go to Mexico we get "turista" despite all the preevntive medicine our doctor gives us. Someone said eating ginger candy will ward off the bugs. Do you think this will do any good?

REPLY

No. Anamebicide plus a sulfa product or an antibiotic does a much better job. But there is a limit to the value of medicine. The traveler must cooperate by avoiding over-fatigue, not eating uncooked foods, and drinking beverages that are bottled or canned. Ice made from ordinary water may contain the bacteria responsible for gastro-intestinal infections.

A STUDENT DISEASE

S. R. writes: My young niece is home sick with what the doctor calls college disease. It is said to last from two weeks to six months. Would you know what this disorder is?

REPLY

My guess would be infectious mononucleosis, because this disease is more common in college students than in other age groups. It is a generalized infection and leads to sore throat, fever, weakness, and swollen glands.

NO AGE IS EXEMPT

J. G. writes: Is heart disease among women in their thirties almost unheard of?

This statement is inaccurate. There are many types of heart disorders. In this age group, rheumatic heart disease is number one on the list.

From a very old and very experienced German bookseller: "To write books is easy: it requires only a pencil or a typewriter. To print books is a little more difficult because genius so often revels in illegible manuscripts. To read books is more difficult still, because of the tendency to go to sleep. But the most difficult task of all that a mortal man can embark upon is to sell a book."

A college with small salaries for its professors but a fine stadium for its football team had to give up the honor system. As the dean ruefully explained, "Our faculty had the honor and our students had the system."

Efforts To Balance The New Budget

It isn't necessarily that well known irresistible force meeting the immovable body: this conflict between the demand by President Eisenhower for budget balancing and the demand in Congress to restore most of his $3.9 billion budgeted cut in outlays. It could be, instead, a case of eating your cake and having it, too. The answer would be higher taxes.

"Stultifying dogma," newspaper commentator Walter Lippman calls the attitude that the budget must be balanced without raising taxes. In fact, the President's 1960 Budget provides a balance only if Congress accepts two proposals now unacceptable to it—still higher postal rates, a 1½c gallon gasoline tax increase.

To the plaint, "Americans can't stand any higher taxes than they now stagger under," advocates of higher taxes can point out that the federal income tax rates are lower today than they were in 1952 and 1953. And we stood them then, even if we did grumble.

In those two years (Korean War aftermath), the rates started at 22.2 per cent and rose to a maximum of 92 per cent. The maximum overall effective rate was 88 per cent. Today the rates open at 20.0 per cent (ten per cent lower), rise to 91 per cent, have a maximum overall rate of 87 per cent.

"Why don't they say, we want the taxes for it?" the President demanded on March 11 ("it" being a big increase in the armed forces). If he were to go farther and spell out in detail the specific tax increases necessary, the horrible details might well tone down some of the clamor for higher outlays. It's an "ugly thought." Dean G. Acheson admits about higher taxes needed for the 12 per cent rise he urges in defense expenditures.

United Europe

As one looks at a list of the European agencies established to bring Western Europe into a union, it became clearer that much has been accomplished in recent years, some of it good, some of it futile, in the direction of joint operations among countries which had been at war.

The United Nations is world-wide and includes Asian, African and other non-European groups. Europe's problems are separate and distinct, because for centuries it was European countries which dominated the world not only physically and materially but as a civilizing force.

Two world wars shattered Europe and forced upon it new systems of life and new concepts of government. However, modern commerce and industry, the movement of men and money require better organization than small nations can provide. The need for an economic, if not a political union for Europe, has become obvious, but the techniques for achieving the ultimate goal of such a Europe as existed under Charles V or Napoleon do not readily present themselves in this period of so-called democracy. The resistance is not as much nationalistic as it is economic.

The public relations firm of Hill and Knowlton, having gone into the international business, has issued a brief directory of "Europe's 'Alphabet' Agencies and Agreements," which I found to be interesting reading because it provides an index to the effort toward union.

The European Economic Community, (EEC), for instance, is the more formal name for the European Common Market (ECM). This consists of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. It is more than a customs union and less than a super-government. Nevertheless, it has quite a set-up, an Assembly, a Council of Ministers, a Court of Justice, and a Common Market Commission. It has two advisory groups: an Economic and Social Committee and a Monetary Committee and three operating groups: The European Investment Bank, a Development Fund and a European Social Fund.

Along similar lines is Euratom—the European Atomic Energy Community—formed by the same nations that formed the Common Market. Euratom encourages the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes. It pools knowledge. Both the ECM and Euratom have their headquarters in Brussels, Belgium.

The European Coal and Steel Community is older than ECM or Euratom. It was founded in 1952. The same nations are in this group. It has been very successful in the restoration of the Western European coal and steel industries.

The OEEC is an outgrowth of World War II and the need for quickened rehabilitation of European countries — 17 countries belong to this organization which helped to develop and implement the Marshall Plan and produced the European Monetary Agreement which provides a capital fund of $600,000,000 to extend short-term credits to member nations of OEEC. The Benelux Customs Union — generally referred to as Benelux — is a union of Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg for an ultimate economic union of these three countries.

The most ambiguous of these trends toward an economic unification of Europe and the rest of the world is GATT which is short for General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. This includes 37 nations on all continents and seeks stabilization and tariff reductions. The effect of GATT upon American industries is extremely dubious. Many believe that it could even be harmful.

NATO does on the military side what all these organizations try to do on the economic side. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is a military union among European countries opposed to the imperialistic efforts of Soviet Russia. Its headquarters are in Paris. Alongside of NATO is the COCOM, the Coordinating Committee, which operates to coordinate strategic trade controls.

These are agencies which are European in nature and origin, although most of them are closely associated with the United States. A number of agencies exist which originate in the United Nations, their special purpose being to strengthen the economy or to improve social conditions in Europe. Such organizations as the International Monetary Fund, the International Labor Orgnaization, the Food and Agricultural Organization report directly to the United Nations.

The Rattler's Out Of Hibernation Again

Only Firmness Can Prevent Another War

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Is the world about to witness one of the biggest hoaxes of all times — another "summit conference"?

Although a foreign ministers' meeting is to be held in Geneva in May, its failure is anticipated already as the cry is raised for a "summit conference."

Dispatches from abroad indicate that Prime Minister Macmillan has been forced into a political corner on the issue and favors a conference of heads of states. Also in the United States certain anti-administration spokesmen who are gullible enough to believe the Soviets will make concessions are speaking out in favor of "summit conferences." In fact, it now is being suggested by Chairman Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that such conferences be held twice a year as a regular procedure.

But the average man will ask: "What is there about a 'summit conference that makes it such an attractive idea to its sponsors?

So far as the Soviets are concerned, it gives them a propaganda show. The men in the Kremlin can thereby demonstrate to their own people how the rest of the world comes to them begging for crumbs at the table of discussion. As for the Allied side, it's a political issue in Great Britain, where the Socialist Party pounds away at the Macmillan government by giving the impression that acceptance of a "summit conference invitation means peace and that a refusal could lead to war.

Something of the same attitude characterizes the views of some opposition party leaders in the United States. Thus it is asserted Nikita Khrushchev has so much power that it is useless to talk to anyone else, and it is being said in addition that there is no "number two man." The inference is that Khrushchev must be humored, and that he alone can make a "deal."

Actually, a "summit conference" is about the last place in the world that any deal can be made between governments. It isn't a quiet, deliberate affair held in a secluded spot where there is an opportunity for reflective discussion by the four to men concerned.

On the contrary, at a "summit conference" each of the heads of state has at his side half a dozen people — aides and advisers — plus clerks and stenographers. There's not much that's private when there are 30 or 40 people in a room. Surrounding the conference outside are at least 1,000 newsmen, photographers and broadcasters demanding public statements and pictures. It isn't a conference, but a carnival of publicity.

If the Soviet government really wants to draft some kind of agreement to settle the Berlin controversy, it needs only to call in the American or British or French ambassador at Moscow, and the way could be paved for such an accord, also, a foreign ministers' conference furnishes every opportunity for an agreement to be consummated. Unless the one to be held in Geneva in May is successful, President Eisenhower sees little value in a "summit conference" later on.

The Soviets fully expect the West to yield to their demands. They look on democracies as weak, unstable, disunited countries which care more for material comforts than they do for principle. Unfortunately, this was the way things looked to the dictators in Europe in the 1930s, but when the chips were down the Allies fought a world war and won it.

History is repeating itself. A dictatorship is again miscalculating the strength and spirit of its adversaries. Weak-kneed persons on our side are giving aid and comfort to the Soviets by sniping at their own government from positions of prominence and influence in parliaments abroad and in our own Congress at home. This is giving our potential enemies a basis for miscalculation. It could lead to the war everybody on the Western side is anxious to avoid.

Whatever "agreements" might be proclaimed by the "summit conference" would not be worth the paper they would be written on. The 1954 "summit conference" agreed solemnly that there should be free elections to reunify Germany. Now, after nearly five years, the Soviets have torn up that pledge and are brazenly threatening war if their new demands for keeping Germany dismembered are not accepted.

Firmness by the West will alone save the world from another war. There is a staunch and courageous will to resist at the White House and in the leadership of our armed forces. But despite the honeyed words about unity that lately have come from Capitol Hill, the Soviets are convinced that the opposition party in the United States isn't really back of the American government. It's a mistaken belief, but, judging from the utterances of some of the democratic leaders and the qualifying phrases they use in giving lip service to national unity, the Moscow chieftains can readily get the idea that there's a real chance to wring concessions from the West. This could mean surrendering the military position which NATO has hitherto maintained in Western Europe as a safeguard against potential aggression.

"Summit conferences" should be realistically labeled "surrender conferences." For that's why the Soviets keep pressing fo. them to be convened.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

For several years now Congress has been lightheartedly debating the selection of a national flower. It is a pleasant subject in these times of cold wars and hot budgets, and affords the legislators an opportunity to let off some good-natured steam and make some hay with their constituencies.

Most New York legislators want the rose to be selected, no doubt because the largest commercial rose garden in the United States is situated in that state. Iowa and some other Midwestern legislators, with a keen eye on the farm vote, are plumping for, of all things, the corn tassel. Kentuckians are backing blue grass to the hilt.

The other day, Senator Gordon Allott (R) of Colorado, hit upon a gimmick to promote his own selection for the national flower. He distributed, free to all Senators, carnations.

The Senators, ever courteous, wore them to the floor of the upper chamber, but the only visible result was to set off a "corny" debate on the whole subject.

Growing Old Without Becoming A Nuisance

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

An older person must contribute in some way if he wants to be respected and loved by friends and younger members of the family. Companionship is a mutual affair and the oldster must earn it by showing the same affection for and consideration of others that he expects to get from them.

Growing old no longer is an achievement that demands special attention Millions have reached three score and 10 and the sooner the man or woman in this age bracket finds his place in society, the happier he will be.

The oldster who is in reasonably good health should stop talking about the miseries of old age, how no one loves him, and how much time he has on his hands. The easiest way to lose respect and affection is to become garrulous, obstinate, grouchy, or quarrelsome. It does not pay to try to dominate grown children or grandchildren. They are entitled to lead their own lives.

Loneliness and idleness lead to deterioration. These states are unnecessary, as some type of companionship or recreation usually is available. Most communities have places to dance, group singing, movies, and discussion and study groups. There are hobbies galore that can be done in the home, varying from sewing to painting.

It is important to remain useful, active, and alert. This is easier for those who still have a job and are in good health. Serve the community and be ready to help a friend or neighbor in need. Be flexible and adapt to new conditions and circumstances. Age is no excuse for failure to improve the mind and body.

Elderly men and women who are ill or suffering from painful disabilities will find this advice impractical; those who are unprepared for senior citizenship will find it distasteful. These people never learned to relax during midlife and never acquired a hobby. Some continue to abuse their bodies through excesses. The future belongs to those who plan for it.

TOURIST DISEASE

R. J. writes: Every time we go to Mexico we get "turista" despite all the preevntive medicine our doctor gives us. Someone said eating ginger candy will ward off the bugs. Do you think this will do any good?

REPLY

No. Anamebicide plus a sulfa product or an antibiotic does a much better job. But there is a limit to the value of medicine. The traveler must cooperate by avoiding over-fatigue, not eating uncooked foods, and drinking beverages that are bottled or canned. Ice made from ordinary water may contain the bacteria responsible for gastro-intestinal infections.

A STUDENT DISEASE

S. R. writes: My young niece is home sick with what the doctor calls college disease. It is said to last from two weeks to six months. Would you know what this disorder is?

REPLY

My guess would be infectious mononucleosis, because this disease is more common in college students than in other age groups. It is a generalized infection and leads to sore throat, fever, weakness, and swollen glands.

NO AGE IS EXEMPT

J. G. writes:Is heart disease among women in their thirties almost unheard of?

REPLY

This statement is inaccurate. There are many types of heart disorders. In this age group, rheumatic heart disease is number one on the list.

Zsa Zsa Helps Her Fiance Charm Military Housing Contract Officials

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is out of Washington on a special assignment his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson).

WASHINGTON — Dazzling, blonde Zsa Zsa Gabor, the Hollywood glamor queen, has been helping her millionaire fiance, Hal Hayes, soften up the bureaucrats who hand out military housing contracts.

She has accompanied him on more than one government call, flashing her long lashes in a manner calculated to melt contract resistance.

"I want you to meet the vice president of my company," Hayes announced at one office. Then he ushered in Zsa Zsa, all wrapped in furs, sparkling with diamonds and exuding Parisian fragrance. Later she invited the housing people to a glittering cocktail party at Washington's Statler-Hilton, a hotel owned by a former husband.

Hayes is trying to close an $18,000,000 housing deal which could make Zsa Zsa the future landlady at Camp Lejeune, N. C.,'s Marine Base. He has also built homes at several Air Force bases.

This may explain why he was son anxious to have her stay in Washington an extra day last week. She protested that the delay would make her late for a television filming which, she said, would cost producer Mike Wallace $10,000.

"I'll send him $10,000 if you stay," offered Hayes cavalierly.

At least one bartender at the National Press Club has reason to believe Hayes wasn't kidding. When the millionaire contractor remarked he would give $50 for a cup of coffee, the barkeep hustled into the kitchen and returned triumphantly with the coffee. Hayes handed the man a $50 bill.

Note: When Vice President Nixon met Zsa Zsa, he gave her figure an appreciative glance and remarked: "I imagine you are glad sack dresses have gone out of style."

"Yes," purred Miss Gabor, "aren't you?"

Post-Election Loan

The House Elections Subcommittee is curious about a $48,000 loan that Congressman John Bennett, Michigan Republican, granted to publisher Frank Russell three weeks after the last election.

What has raised Congressional eyebrows is the fact that Russell's newspapers and radio-television stations are probably responsible for re-electing Bennett in a district that often goes Democratic but remained Republican last November. Thus Bennett withstood the biggest Democratic tide since 1936.

Russell dominates the news in the iron-ore country of upper Michigan. He owns the Marquette Mining Journal, Iron Mountain News, radio-television stations WDMJ and WDMJ-TV in Marquette, radio station WMIQ in Iron Mountain and radio station WLST in Escanaba. He also controlled, but is now selling, the Escanaba Press and Sault Ste. Marie News. Throughout the campaign, this heavy artillery bombarded the district with favorable stories about Bennett.

Russell emphasized to this column that he not only mortgaged property in Michigan and Florida but is paying interest on the $48,000 loan. He borrowed the money from Bennett instead of a bank, he explained, because of other debts.

Truman's Poker Luck

During Harry Truman's last Washington visit, he now confides: "I went out with some friends who have taken money away from me for years to see whether I could win some of it back. But they took it away from me again."

What the former President didn't mention was that the man who took most of it away from him was Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma. His oil holdings, thanks to favorable taxes, have made him a millionaire 100 times over.

But at the poker table with Truman, the wealthiest man held the luckiest cards. Mr. Truman, who has no income outside his writings, drew poor hands.

Murmured Sen. Clint Anderson of New Mexico: "Them that has, gets."

Submarine Deterrent

The bootleg memo that the Navy is circulating behind President Eisenhower's back claims Russia's missile might could be held at bay for a $3,000,000,000 investment. This would be enough to buy 30 Polaris-packing atomic subs which could hide under the ocean, ready to deliver a salvo of 1,200-mile missiles against Russia's 150 largest cities.

The memo contends Russia would never start a war if it meant the sacrifice of 150 cities.

"Certainly," the document declares, "any nation must be deterred by almost certain destruction of its 50 largest cities. However, to be safe, let us take the 150 largest. This example calls for 160 successfully-delivered Polaris missiles, or just 10 boat loads. Allowing for missile reliability, attrition and submarines in port for repairs, a fleet of 30 Polaris boats should be more than sufficient. Such a fleet with all its bases and auxiliary supporting equipment would cost no more than $3,000,000,000."

Navy studies indicate all but the largest Soviet cities could be destroyed beyond salvage "with single weapons of 200-kiloton yield delivered with two-mile accuracy."

"The few largest cities such as Moscow, Leningrad, Kharkov, etc, would require two or three such weapons," the memo adds. "By 'extreme destruction' is meant the level which occurred at Hiroshima, namely 25 per cent fatalities, 40 per cent severe casualties, 60 per cent residential destruction and 50 per cent industrial destruction. Studies of the recuperation of Hiroshima and Nagasaki give strong indication that, without extensive sources of external aid, these two cities may never have recovered."

Instead of 30 Polaris subs, however, only six are under construction.

Note—The Navy memo also sounds this ominous note: "Our briefly held advantage in strategic nuclear weapons has been eliminated by the amazing speed of Soviet development of atomic and hydrogen bombs, and now both nations possess stockpiles of high-yield weapons sufficient to destroy each other many times over."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Something bad has happened to the United States. For the first time in history, the people are confused and frightened. They do not understand the successive crises which beset the country, and they do not want to understand. They are in shock.

In a subtle, insidious way, they have lost faith in this, the most favored nation in the most favored century. They are beginning to think like losers. The people have faced so many moments of crisis from Pearl Harbor to Berlin that, like a merchant who has been robbed several times, they stare into the muzzle of the gun and murmur: "What's new?"

We used to have patriots by the millions. My grandpa, Alonzo Tier, wouldn't live in a house that didn't have a flagstaff in front of it. He raised Old Glory every morning, and hauled it down and folded it every evening. He would not listen to a man at a bar, or a church social, who argued that the United States was second best at anything.

The Minute Men of 1776 were never paid for defending their villages. They didn't want to be paid. Those who died did it in defense of home and country. Today, pay is important to the hero, and also hospitalization and the G.I. Bill of Rights and it is patriotic to raid the treasury.

There are millions of sets of gleaming teeth and socketless eyes looking upward through alien mud toward white crosses and you betray these every time you think defeat—much less talk about it. Your political label isn't worth utterance unless you are first of all an American.

To be an American one must stand more firmly behind our government in time of crisis than at any other time. To understand each crisis one must read about it. Do not skip the news on page one because it is frightening. Read it. Think about it. When the government decides to stand fast in Berlin, come what may, brace yourself to stand fast with it, come what may.

Somewhere along the road, we have lost faith in ourselves. There will never be a finer time to examine our consciences and get it back than now. What, you may ask, can I do?

One of the things you can do is to lend the United States some money. We are in an embarrassing position — caught between two weapons systems.

In the changeover from jet bombers to missiles, we are slow. The government cannot move faster unless it has additional money.

The money cannot come from the budget without risking our economic lives. The Department of Defense could use an extra six billions of dollars. Couldn't we lend it to our government, without interest, for 25 years? Is this too much of a sacrifice to show the Soviet Union that we love our country and will not be browbeaten into taking one backward step?

It comes to about $35 for each American. Some can afford it, some cannot. It would take six billions in cash out of the inflationary credit market and put it in Faith in America Bonds. I will not be here to get the money back. But my children will. And few things would please me more than to help, in a very small way, to leave a sound country to them.

Perhaps the idea is too simple. But, like you, I've been troubled by the fact that, as one person, I feel helpless to do anything to show my true feelings about this great and vigorous land without appearing to be a flag waver.

Mr. Nikita Khrushchev has got to learn quickly that, as deeply as we may fear war, we fear slavery even more. In my time, three men have misjudged the temper of the people of the United States. Kaiser Wilhelm II thought, in 1917, that we were too soft to fight; Adolf Hitler thought that we were too happy making money to fight; Nikita Khrushchev feels that he can bluff us into slavery.

Better to live a moment on our feet than a lifetime on our knees . . .

City Champs Top Ridgeley In Tourney

Score 59-33 Win, Lovers Leap Wins 115 And 135 Tilts

Playing under wraps, the Old Germans, unbeaten City League champions, made their bow in the 14th annual Central YMCA-Jaycees Basketball Tournament with a victory over the Ridgeley Legion last night on the "Y" court. The score was 59-33.

The Germans - Ridgeley game marked the opening of play in the Senior Unlimited Division of the tournament.

Parsons Eliminated

In the second senior tilt on the second night's card, the Fort Ashby VFW downed the Parsons Independents of Tucker County, W. Va., by the score of 39-33.

The elimination of three teams last night reduced to 27 the number of survivors in the tourney. Thirty-four teams were entered.

Eddie Orndorff and Glenn Smith garnered 13 and 10 points, respectively, and Jim Eckard garnered nine as the Old Germans failed to exert themselves against an outclassed Ridgeley quint. Dave Baker and Ray Jones scored 15 and 11 tallies for Ridgeley.

Bennett Turns Tide

Parsons and Fort Ashby put on a slambang battle in which the score was knotted five times and the winning points came in the closing seconds of play. With 51 seconds remaining in the final heat, Don Bennett slammed in the goal that broke a 31-31 deadlock and put Fort Ashby ahead to stay.

Ed Riley and Paul Mason led the Fort Ashby scorers with nine and seven markers. Ramsey and Delaney paced Parsons with 10 and 7 tallies.

Lovers Leap Teams Win

Lovers Leap Esso quints won the first two games on the second night's program in the tournament.

In the opener, Manager Carl Petenbrink's Lovers Leap Esso team whipped the Brode and Riggs Big Five, 34-17, and moved into the semi-final bracket of the 115-pound class. The winners will tackle the Cagey Cagers Monday at 6 p. m.

Delbert Proudfoot slammed in 19 points to pace the winners. The son of the one-time Penn Avenue High School star of the same name racked up nine field goals and scored one point at the foul line. Pete Mechem garnered nine points for the victors. Frank Williams and Doug Shook accounted for 13 of the losing team's 17 tallies.

To Play Club Bowling

The second Lovers Leap team piloted by Petenbrink eliminated Al's Aces, 47-31, and marched into the semi-final round of the 135-pound class. The winning team will play the Club Bowling Alleys team, which drew a first round bye, on Tuesday, March 24, at 7 p. m.

Denny Knippenburg and Bill Chappell were the "big guns" for Lovers Leap with 19 and 12 tallies. Knippenburg collected eight goals and 3-5 fouls while Chappell hit for four baskets and meshed four of nine free throws.

Jerry LaRue was top scorer for Al's Aces, a Keyser, Piedmont and Fort Ashbby combination, with 19 points on seven goals and 5-10 at the charity stripe.

REC TOURNEY CHAMPIONS—Ed McGee's Service Station cagers won the championship in the annual Women's Rec Basketball Tournament last night by defeating the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company sextet in the finals at Carver School gym by the score of 47-45 in an overtime battle. It was the third meeting of the teams in the tourney and the second time the teams were required to play an extra period. McGee's won five and lost one in the double elimination tourney while C.C. & S.C. won four and lost two. Thompson And Hale Goals Decide Final Rec Contest, 47-45

A field goal by Pat Thompson and a foul goal by Jeanne Hale in an overtime stanza broke a 44-44 deadlock and gave Ed McGee's Service Station sextet a 47-45 victory over the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company team in the championship game of the annual Women's Rec Basketball League Tournament last night on the Carver School court.

It was the third meeting of these teams in the double elimination tournament, the second win for McGee's and the second time the teams have battled it out in an overtime stanza. Last Saturday night the Cement Company team won over McGee's in an extra period, 36-32. McGee's won the opening game on Thursday, 45-35.

By capturing last night's contest, McGee's wound up with a 5-1 record while their opponents finished with four wins and two losses. Eight teams participated in the annual tourney.

Win At Foul Line

The margin of victory last night was at the foul line where McGee's scored nine points to the oppositions seven. Each team garnered 19 field goals.

McGee's played like a different team than the sextet that lost on Saturday. They controlled the floor plays and the rebounds and held a 13-4 lead at the end of the first period. During the second quarter, Cumberland Cement began clicking and with three consecutive baskets by Pat Mason and one by Celeste Madden pulled within one point of McGee's before the quarter was half over. Then the lead see-sawed back and forth with never more than two points separating the two teams and the half ended with the score knotted at 21-all.

In the third period, Cumberland Cement's trio of guards, Cindy Parsons, Kathy Mullaney and Irene Drumm continued their tight defensive tactics and held McGee's forwards to eight points while Betsy Robinette sank three successive field goals and a foul shot.

In the final period, Pat Thompson began to hit the net and had four consecutive field goals to put McGee's ahead midway in the period. Celeste Madden hit twice from the field and the regulation game ended in a 44-44 tie. In the overtime stanza, a foul goal by Hale and Thompson's fielder sewed it up for McGee's.

Cindy Parsons played an outstanding game on defense for the losers while Pat Meeks was McGee's defensive standout. Pat Thompson headed McGee's in scoring with 21 points while Pat Mason topped Cumberland Cement with 18 and Betsy Robinette collected 16.

Ruth Deniker Honored

The tournament's sportsmanship award went to Ruth Deniker, former Valley High School player and member of the Sports Shoppe sextet.

Members of the all-tournament team are:

Wilma Redinger and Donna Decker, VFW; Janet Ball, Ridgeley; Pat Mason, Celeste Madden and Cindy Parsons, Cumberland Cement and Supply Company. Honorable Mention: Mary Jane Morris, St. Mary's CYO; Lorraine Hornick, Ridgeley; Dorothy Heavner, VFW, and Marlene Moore, Memorial Hospital Nurses.

County Softball League Assured Of Eight Teams

Cement Company, Hermans Join Loop

The County Softball League became an eight-club circuit last night with the addition of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company and the Potomac Valley Hermans to the loop at a meeting held in the Corriganville Fire Hall.

Cumberland Cement and Supply, represented by Herb Devore, is a new team but the Potomac Valley Hermans were in the County League prior to jumping to the City League several years ago. The Hermans were represented by James Allen, veteran campaigner of the softball wars in this section.

The six holdover teams and their representatives in attendance at last night's session were:

Stringtown, Amos See; Homewood Tavern, Francis Duckworth; "Boots" Raygor, Corriganville Old Germans; Bill Crawford, Hyndman Planers, and Irwin Hosselrode, Kennell's Mill.

It was announced following last night's session that the league will be willing to expand to any other even number of teams if other clubs desire to participate. Other clubs interested are asked to attend the next meeting set for Tuesday, March 31 at 7:30 p.m. at Corriganville Fire Hall. Forfeit fees of $15 each must be posted by all teams at this session.

If the league opens the season with eight clubs each will play a schedule of 35 games.

St. Louis Upset By Providence

NIT Game Decided In Extra Period

NEW YORK (AP)—Little Providence College lived up to its Cinderella tag in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament Tuesday night by scoring a stunning upset over St. Louis 75-72 in a double overtime quarter-final game.

Coming from behind repeatedly against their taller second-seeded opponents who were 10-point favorites, the Friars went ahead for good on two free throws by Johnny Egan, 69-68 with 2:38 left in the second extra period. It was 73-72 with only 16 seconds left when Egan again dumped two free throws to assure the victory.

When the final buzzer sounded hundreds of Providence fans in the crowd poured onto the floor and carried the Providence players off on their shoulders.

Although Egan, who scored 25 points, made the winning points it was southpaw Len Wilkens' all-around play that kept the Friars in the running. He tallied 30 points including a basket with only 34 seconds left which made it 61-61 and forced the overtime.

In the first extra period St. Louis went ahead on Jim Dailey's basket. Wilkens tied it at 63-63 and Bob Gibson sank a side shot to put Providence ahead. A tip-in by Bob Ferry tied it again at 65-65 and that's the way the first overtime ended.

Jim Swartz put the Friars ahead early in the second overtime but a three-point play by Ferry put the Billikens back on top at 68-67. Then Egan's two fouls put the Friars ahead for good.

Parsons Eliminated

In the second senior tilt on the second night's card, the Fort Ashby VFW downed the Parsons Independents of Tucker County, W. Va., by the score of 39-33.

The elimination of three teams last night reduced to 27 the number of survivors in the tourney. Thirty-four teams were entered.

Eddie Orndorff and Glenn Smith garnered 13 and 10 points, respectively, and Jim Eckard garnered nine as the Old Germans failed to exert themselves against an outclassed Ridgeley quint. Dave Baker and Ray Jones scored 15 and 11 tallies for Ridgeley.

Bennett Turns Tide

Parsons and Fort Ashby put on a slambang battle in which the score was knotted five times and the winning points came in the closing seconds of play. With 51 seconds remaining in the final heat, Don Bennett slammed in the goal that broke a 31-31 deadlock and put Fort Ashby ahead to stay.

Ed Riley and Paul Mason led the Fort Ashby scorers with nine and seven markers. Ramsey and Delaney paced Parsons with 10 and 7 tallies.

Delbert Proudfoot slammed in 19 points to pace the winners. The son of the one-time Penn Avenue High School star of the same name racked up nine field goals and scored one point at the foul line. Pete Mechem garnered nine points for the victors. Frank Williams and Doug Shook accounted for 13 of the losing team's 17 tallies.

To Play Club Bowling

The second Lovers Leap team piloted by Petenbrink eliminated Al's Aces, 47-31, and marched into the semi-final round of the 135-pound class. The winning team will play the Club Bowling Alleys team, which drew a first round bye, on Tuesday, March 24, at 7 p. m.

Denny Knippenburg and Bill Chappell were the "big guns" for Lovers Leap with 19 and 12 tallies. Knippenburg collected eight goals and 3-5 fouls while Chappell hit for four baskets and meshed four of nine free throws.

County Softball League Assured Of Eight Teams

Cement Company, Hermans Join Loop

The County Softball League became an eight-club circuit last night with the addition of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company and the Potomac Valley Hermans to the loop at a meeting held in the Corriganville Fire Hall.

Cumberland Cement and Supply, represented by Herb Devore, is a new team but the Potomac Valley Hermans were in the County League prior to jumping to the City League several years ago. The Hermans were represented by James Allen, veteran campaigner of the softball wars in this section.

The six holdover teams and their representatives in attendance at last night's session were:

Stringtown, Amos See; Homewood Tavern, Francis Duckworth; "Boots" Raygor, Corriganville Old Germans; Bill Crawford, Hyndman Planers, and Irwin Hosselrode, Kennell's Mill.

It was announced following last night's session that the league will be willing to expand to any other even number of teams if other clubs desire to participate. Other clubs interested are asked to attend the next meeting set for Tuesday, March 31 at 7:30 p.m. at Corriganville Fire Hall. Forfeit fees of $15 each must be posted by all teams at this session.

If the league opens the season with eight clubs each will play a schedule of 35 games.

St. Louis Upset By Providence

NIT Game Decided In Extra Period

NEW YORK (AP)—Little Providence College lived up to its Cinderella tag in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament Tuesday night by scoring a stunning upset over St. Louis 75-72 in a double overtime quarter-final game.

Coming from behind repeatedly against their taller second-seeded opponents who were 10-point favorites, the Friars went ahead for good on two free throws by Johnny Egan, 69-68 with 2:38 left in the second extra period. It was 73-72 with only 16 seconds left when Egan again dumped two free throws to assure the victory.

When the final buzzer sounded hundreds of Providence fans in the crowd poured onto the floor and carried the Providence players off on their shoulders.

Although Egan, who scored 25 points, made the winning points it was southpaw Len Wilkens' all-around play that kept the Friars in the running. He tallied 30 points including a basket with only 34 seconds left which made it 61-61 and forced the overtime.

In the first extra period St. Louis went ahead on Jim Dailey's basket. Wilkens tied it at 63-63 and Bob Gibson sank a side shot to put Providence ahead. A tip-in by Bob Ferry tied it again at 65-65 and that's the way the first overtime ended.

Jim Swartz put the Friars ahead early in the second overtime but a three-point play by Ferry put the Billikens back on top at 68-67. Then Egan's two fouls put the Friars ahead for good.

Howard Ehmke, 1929 Series Star, Dies

Surprise Starter Fanned 13 To Beat Cubs In Opener, 3-1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Howard Ehmke died Tuesday bringing back memories of one of baseball's most dramatic episodes.

Ehmke, owner of a tarpaulin firm, passed away at the age of 65 of an unannounced ailment. Private funeral services will be held here Friday.

Won 166 Games

Although the tall former major league pitcher won 166 games, including a no-hitter, and lost 164 in a 16-year baseball career, it was his final victory that made him a baseball legend.

Three weeks before the end of the 1929 season, Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics summoned Ehmke for a conference.

So the story goes, Mack told Ehmke, a second-line hurler on the powerful American League Athletics, that the pitcher was going to start the first game of the 1929 World Series.

"It was one of the nicest things in my whole life," Ehmke related many times. "We had a great pitching staff, George Earnshaw, Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg, Eddie Rommell, John Quinn and Bill Shore. They all won more games than I did."

Mack cautioned Ehmke not to tell a soul of the decision. Ehmke kept the secret, even from his wife.

The day the series opened in Chicago, the baseball world was startled when Ehmke came out of the dugout to warm up. Even his teammates gaped in amazement.

Fanned 13 Cubs

But Ehmke pitched. Not only did he win, but he struck out 13 Chicago Cub batters, erasing the series record of 12 set in 1906, by big Ed Walsh.

The most memorable strikeout to Ehmke was the last out of the game.

Chicago scored once in the last of the ninth to cut the Philadelphia lead to 3-1. The tying runs were on base with pinch hitter Stan Tolson at bat. The count went to 3 and 2.

Ehmke called catcher Mike Cochrane for a conference. He told the catcher to signal for a fast ball. He said he planned to shake off the sign and pitch at the same time hoping to catch Tolson off stride. As Ehmke let go, Cochrane shouted, "hit it" and Tolson swung for the third strike.

DIES — Howard Enmke, former Philadelphia A's pitcher, who struck out 13 Cubs and won the opening game of the 1929 World Series, 3-2, died yesterday in a Philadelphia hospital. He was 65. Ehmke hurled in the majors for 16 years and had a 166-164 record. (AP Photofax)

Bassey Defends Title Tonight Against Moore

Featherweight Bout Set For Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Betting odds were about even and take your pick Tuesday between featherweight champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey and contender Davey Moore on the eve of their 15-round title fight.

The evenly matched pair step into the ring at the Olympic Auditorium Wednesday night (7 p.m. PST) with the 26-year-old titleholder from Nigeria risking his crown for the second time in less than a year.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC).

The two are the top 126-pounders in the world, Bassey the son of a sub chief of an agrarian tribe in Nigeria, 25-year-old Davey the son of a Springfield, Ohio, minister. Davey, 25, is the No. 1 ranked challenger.

Bassey has won his last 11 straight fights, Davey 13 in a row.

The fight will be scored under the 10-point must system—10 to the winner of a round, nine or less to the loser.

Fairly Is Injured

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Ron Fairly, the Los Angeles Dodgers' promising young bonus outfielder, injured his right hip in an intra-squad game Tuesday and will be sidelined for several days.

Fairly was injured as he slid head-first into second base on an attempted steal. The infield was slightly sticky from overnight rain and Fairly may have caught a spike in the dirt.

The Dodgers' regularly-scheduled game against Detroit was rained out.

May Talk Trade

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Manager Casey Stengel huddled with general manager George Weiss Tuesday on the eve of the Washington Senators' arrival for an exhibition game Wednesday and there was renewed speculation about a trade.

With Don Larsen on the doubtful list because of an ailing right shoulder, it was believed that the Yankees were ready to talk business with Washington regarding pitchers Pedro Ramos or Dick Hyde.

SPORT SLANTS

Lean Year For Trio Groat Did It Here

Third Shot For Lions Ed Worked For Elks

By C. V. BURNS

MAYBE you haven't noticed it but this is the first time since Fort Hill came into the picture in 1937 that all three Cumberland schools have lost 10 or more basketball games the same season.

In the past it has been the custom for at least one of the three to have a rousing good year but not so for the 1958-59 campaign which became history last week.

By losing 31 games this year, the three city schools fell one short of the record number of losses (32) chalked up in 1957 and 1949.

This was one of the leanest years for Cumberland schools as they wound up with a 38-31 mark. Worst in the past 23 seasons, however, was 1957 when the trio just managed to squeeze above .500 with 33 wins and 32 losses.

Last season was a good one (55-19) but the winningest year was 1937 when the total hit 65 and the losses were 23. From 1937 through 1948, the three schools averaged between 50 and 60 wins a season for 12 consecutive years. And how about that 61-12 in 1939?

Here are the records of the schools and the combined marks to show that this is an unusual year:

Year	AHS	LaSalle	Ft. Hill	Total
1959	12-10	14-11	12-10	38-31

A REPORT out of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., states that Bill Spivey, one-time Kentucky ace, scored 64 points for Wilkes-Barre against the Baltimore Bullets in an Eastern League game the other night which the Pennsylvanians won by the score of 117-91.

It was said that the 64 points credited to Spivey is believed to be a new record for pro basketball. In 1949 Joe Fulks of the Philadelphia Warriors scored 63 points against Indianapolis.

Dick Groat, now the Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop, set an all-time high of 64 points in Cumberland, January 30, 1955, when he collected 28 goals and 8-10 fouls as the Philadelphia Jets beat the Old Germans, 116-87.

COACH William "Huck" Miers will be taking a Piedmont High School quint to a West Virginia Class B state championship tournament for the third time in six years this weekend when the Lions vie at Huntington.

In 1954 Piedmont whipped Rowlesburg at Keyser, 74-44 and then went on to Morgantown. The Lions beat Chester, 49-44, but lost out in the finals to Pax, 63-54.

Two years later Piedmont whipped Pax in the state semi-final at Morgantown, 83-63, and dropped the championship contest to Barrackville, 62-52.

The last team from nearby West Virginia to win a state basketball title was Johnny Paugh's Moorefield quint of 1949 which swept through Trap Hill, Sissonville and Oceana to capture Class B honors.

Keyser won the "B" championship in 1922 and Parsons went all the way in Class "A" in 1934.

THEY SAY that next to the Irish Sweepstakes and Russian roulette, the biggest gamble probably is the operation of a ski center.

Too little snow and the skiing fanatics will stay away; too much snow and they can't get there.

The biggest problem in the east this year has been too little snow. The goofy weather has prevented skiing at least four weeks this season during the normally busy months of January and February.

At one New York ski center there were more instructors on hand than skiers because of a rainstorm during the weekend.

JOE ERVIN as here the past weekend to attend the funeral of Mrs. Edna Wolford, his mother-in-law.

Ervin will be remembered as one of the best officials ever sent into Allegany County by the Playground Athletic League of Baltimore. He officiated for the last time in this county in 1937.

Mrs. Ervin was Mabel Wolford, of Cumberland.

The Ervins have two husky youngsters.

Last year Joe was in Korea and Japan conducting softball and baseball clinics for Uncle Sam's Armed Forces. Prior to that he spent two years in Germany.

THE DEATH of Edward A. Contos, 70, in Baltimore on Saturday brought back memories of the 1930s when the well known Greek wrestling promoter staged a number of shows at the State Armory for the local B.P.O. Elks Lodge.

He introduced such grunt-and-groaners as Jim Londos, Joe Savoldi, Dick Shikat, Hans Steinke, etc., but that so-called "sport" failed to catch on here.

Contos always rated Londos as tops among the matmen.

Ed came to this country in 1907, dabbled in real estate in California and made his debut as wrestling promoter in Baltimore about 1928.

"ANY FELLOW who thinks a training camp is a place to lose weight and get in shape is a fathead," according to Enos "Country" Slaughter.

"A training camp is where you beat some guy out of a job and you have to be in shape to do it."

Slaughter, who will be 43 next month, and is getting ready for his 20th year in the majors also says:

"Anyone who eats out of the frying pan all of the time is out of his head.

"You can't work or play ball on a full belly. That's why you never see me eat at the park. I drink buttermilk because sweet milk gets all churned up and turns sour in your stomach when you run around.

"Air conditioning is bad for players. I shut it off wherever possible.

"Bonuses have ruined many young players. They get that money and lose their desire. I played three years in the minors and five in the majors before my total salary equalled one of today's bonuses."

ARCHBISHOP John Carroll High of Washington, D.C., posted its 26th consecutive win of the season the other day when it copped the annual K. of C. tourney at the capital by beating the defending champion, Archbishop Molloy of Jamaica, N.Y., 75-44.

LaSalle made its bow in the K. of C. tourney last season.

Sports Cars Tune Up For Sebring Test

12-Hour Endurance Race Set Saturday

SEBRING, Fla. (UPI) — Top-ranking sports car racers tuned up their engines Tuesday for the first practice runs before Saturday's ninth annual Sebring 12-hour endurance race.

All the major competitors were on hand, their mechanics tinkering with the little cars in preparation for practice springs around the tough 5.2-mile course beginning Wednesday.

Set up at various garages scattered across this little central Florida citrus town were teams from the factories of Ferrari, Lister, Aston Martin, Porsche, D.B., Lotus and Osca, as well as a lot of privately - entered cars which will round out the 65-car field.

Practice runs over the course, one of the toughest in international sports car competition, begin at 1:30 p.m. (e.s.t.) Wednesday. They will continue through Friday.

The race begins at 10 a.m. Saturday, ending 12 hours later. Some 60,000 persons are expected to watch.

The annual event is the only race in the United States that counts toward the world's sports car manufacturer's championship, now held by Ferrari.

For the first time in Sebring race history, no American cars are entered. The Corvettes, raced in past years, were ruled out by a new rule prohibiting engines with more than three liters piston displacement.

Ferrari, led by Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., who was co-driver in the winning Ferrari here last year, will lead the smooth-functioning Italian team.

Guest Speakers Named For Dinner Of Beagle Club

Al Hathaway, secretary of the International Beagle Federation, and "Bud" Mitchell, field representative of the American Kennel Club, will be the guest speakers at the annual dinner of the Allegany Beagle Club Thursday at 6:30 p.m., at District 16 Fire Hall, Uhl Highway.

Both speakers are residents of McKees Rocks, Pa.

Trophies will be presented to the owners of hounds winning field trials in 1958, as follows:

Bernard Harden, Frostburg, whose Frost Place Senator scored 42½ points in the six 13 inch trials. Participating in all events, Frost Place Senator took three firsts and one second.

Walter L. Weires, LaVale, whose Lady Esther scored 33 points in the 15 inch events. Lady Esther was in three trials and posted a 1-2-3 record.

Seventy are expected to attend the dinner. The invocation will be pronounced by John Armstrong, of Triple Lakes.

Senators' Wilcox Makes Small College All-America Team

NEW YORK UPI—Dick Barnett of Tennessee State and Ed Smallwood of Evansville Ind. head of the 1959 United Press International small college All-America basketball team.

Barnett, the only repeater from last year's team, led coach John McLendon's Tigers to a record third straight NAIA title last Saturday night at Kansas City. Smallwood, moving up from last year's second team, is the scoring leader for Evansville, newly-crowned NCAA small college tournament champion.

Faster Early Season Pace And More Punch Needed If White Sox To Make Race Of It

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league baseball teams. Others will follow on this page every day.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla.—The White Sox failed to show any "early foot" last year and while they did come charging down the stretch they couldn't catch the Yankees. Actually, it's much the same story each year for the Sox and to the good senor who manages them, Al Lopez, the Go-Go club without much Socks seems to be not quite good enough.

Maybe there will be a change of pattern this year for Alphonse didn't predict a pennant for his boys this season, which is against the script.

The lack of early foot, which was manifested in the failure of Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan to get going and injuries to key players, carried on until June 13, last year, but from then on the Chisox were the best club in either league, even topping the Yankees in won-lost marks from then on in. However, it was too late and the Bronx Bombers came home in September 10 games ahead of the Sox.

Lopez believes he is in better shape this year with a sound team and some help in the bullpen, where he was wanting, and feels that the club will make more runs, which always helps.

"I know we're better in two positions," he said, "for Jim Landis did a fine job for us in center and Al Smith, who was bothered by calcium formation above the ankles, looks sound again. And we feel that Jackie Callison will do a good job for us in left."

"Our pitching," continued Al in a clubhouse talk, "is much the same, although we lost Jim Wilson, now retired. In his place though, we are counting on Barry Latman. Our problem is relief. We didn't have Turk Lown last year, and he should help us here along with a rookie, Rodolfo Arias, a lefthander, who did well as a reliefer with Havana last year.

"We'll go with Pierce, Donovan and Early Wynn," Lopez continued, "with either Latman or Bob Shaw (from the Tigers) as our No. 4 man. Pierce and Donovan got off to very bad starts last year. They're both conscientious boys. When they didn't win they were worried that maybe their windups or deliveries were off. Donovan, particularly, worried a lot and I had to talk to him. However, they came on after the second half and pitched good ball."

Wynn, incidentally, will be aiming at victory No. 250 in his first start of the 1959 campaign. He is the winningest pitcher in baseball today.

Several rookie pitchers are in and Lopez says he might keep Don Rudolph, a lefthander who had a 11-12 record with Indianapolis. "This boy," said Al, "has a lot of courage and we'll need him." Rudolph's wife is the famed Patti Waggin of the strip-tease set.

Bill DuFour, who won 18 at Chattanooga, and Hal Trosky, son of the former first sacker, who won 11 at Colorado Springs, also are being given a look. Still another is Claude Raymond, whom Lopez describes as having a "live arm.' Raymond was with Wichita.

Lopez has plenty of speed on this club and says that "it's a manager's dream to have it," but he is looking for power. The senor hopes to find it in the 6-foot, 7-inch Ron Jackson, who was to have been his first sacker last year but failed to come through as expected.

"I'd like to see Jackson finally come through for us," Al said. "He could be another Greenberg but he's got to hit for distance for us because we need it."

Al has been experimenting with Sherman Lollar—his No. 1 catcher and top power hitter on the club last year; at first base in the hopes of getting more punch in the lineup. He feels that Earl Battey and John Romano can handle the catching chores.

"Last year," said Al, "I tried to spell Lollar for a bit but I then didn't have a fourth-place hitter until I got Ray Boone from Detroit."

The rest of the infield is classy with the fabulous Nellie Fox at second, Luis Aparicio at short and Bubba Phillips or Ray Boone at third. "I think Phillips is going to be an improved player," said Al. "Last year he broke his foot and was out for awhile." Always on hand is Billy Goodman, the .300 hitter, who can fill in most anywhere.

Smith and Landis are set in the outfield with the left field spot being given to the rookie sensation, Callison, who rocketed to stardom in one full season in the minors. If Callison doesn't make it, Al has Don Mueller, Jim Rivera and Lou Skizas to take over.

Lincoln Downs $1,269 Double Meet's Highest

LINCOLN, R.I., March 17 (AP) — After the highest daily double payoff of the meeting, $1,269.80, launched the St. Patrick's Day program at Lincoln Downs, the heavily favored Thermo won the featured handicap by four lengths.

The three-year-old Revoked colt carried the green and gold colors of Peter Fuller of Boston to a convincing triumph in the seven-furlong sprint. After completing the heavy course in 1.33 4/5, Thermo paid $5.20, $2.80 and $2.60 and earned $5,300 for his second victory in four starts this season.

There were only 36 two-dollar double tickets and one $10 ticket sold on the combination of Bill Terry's Noble Pat, winner of the first at 16 to 1 and Lloyd Shelton's Al Tanteo which took the second at 25 to 1.

Vertex Takes Betless Race

MIAMI, Fla., March 17 (AP)— Vertex, star of the 1958 fall campaign, gained a starting berth in the $100,000 Gulfstream Handicap Saturday by an impressive showing in a betless exhibition race today at Gulfstream Park.

The five-year-old runner, owned by J. J. Brunetti and F. A. Piarulli, defeated Hasty House Farms' Ekaba by one length in 1:42 2/5 for a mile and 70 yards.

Gulfstream officials staged the two-horse event with a $1,000 purse, equally divided between the two starters, so that both would have a prep for the mile and a quarter Gulfstream handicap.

Joe Piarulli, trainer, announced Vertex had statisfied him and will face mighty Bardstown among others in the Gulfstream.

Braves' Papoose Pitched To Big Leaguers At 13!

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla.—If ever a kid was tabbed for stardom in baseball it must have been Bob Hartman.

As a 13-year-old he was pitching batting practice for the Chicago White Sox and before he signed a pro contract he had pitched batting practice for several other major league clubs, all of whom sought his services when he graduated from Mary D. Bradford High in Kenosha, Wis.

Today, Bob stands on the threshold of actually making the big leagues as he is given a good look in the Milwaukee Braves' camp here as the outstanding rookie prospect and the winningest pitcher in the Braves' organization last year besides Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

Bob's good 1958 season and his presence here are not the highlights of a career. The highlight is a tremendous victory over diabetes, which hit him following spring training in 1956 and resulted in a loss of 50 pounds in two months.

Bob conquered that, however, and today he is a strong young man at 190 pounds, has a liberal diet and takes his pills regularly.

Up from Atlanta, where he won 20 games last season, the portside Hartman has now had four years in pro ball, serving with Beaumont, Wichita, and Atlanta.

As a youngster around Kenosha, Bob played with an amateur team. A neighbor was Ray Berres, White Sox pitching coach, and it was from Ray that he got the invitation to pitch batting practice for the Chisox.

Bob Hartman

At high school Bob played football, tennis and basketball in his first two years because the school had no baseball team. However, he made the ball team easily in his junior year, winning 14 games while losing only one.

Bob signed with the Braves for $4,000 although all clubs were after him and one offered him a bonus of $25,000. Being a Wisconsin boy, he said he wanted to sign with the Braves.

Howard Ehmke, 1929 Series Star, Dies

Surprise Starter Fanned 13 To Beat Cubs In Opener, 3-1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Howard Ehmke died Tuesday bringing back memories of one of baseball's most dramatic episodes.

Ehmke, owner of a tarpaulin firm, passed away at the age of 65 of an unannounced ailment. Private funeral services will be held here Friday.

Won 166 Games

Although the tall former major league pitcher won 166 games, including a no-hitter, and lost 164 in a 16-year baseball career, it was his final victory that made him a baseball legend.

Three weeks before the end of the 1929 season, Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics summoned Ehmke for a conference.

So the story goes, Mack told Ehmke, a second-line hurler on the powerful American League Athletics, that the pitcher was going to start the first game of the 1929 World Series.

"It was one of the nicest things in my whole life," Ehmke related many times. "We had a great pitching staff, George Earnshaw, Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg, Eddie Rommell, John Quinn and Bill Shore. They all won more games than I did."

Mack cautioned Ehmke not to tell a soul of the decision. Ehmke kept the secret, even from his wife.

The day the series opened in Chicago, the baseball world was startled when Ehmke came out of the dugout to warm up. Even his teammates gaped in amazement.

Fanned 13 Cubs

But Ehmke pitched. Not only did he win, but he struck out 13 Chicago Cub batters, erasing the series record of 12 set in 1906, by big Ed Walsh.

The most memorable strikeout to Ehmke was the last out of the game.

Chicago scored once in the last of the ninth to cut the Philadelphia lead to 3-1. The tying runs were on base with pinch hitter Stan Tolson at bat. The count went to 3 and 2.

Ehmke called catcher Mike Cochrane for a conference. He told the catcher to signal for a fast ball. He said he planned to shake off the sign and pitch at the same time hoping to catch Tolson off stride. As Ehmke let go, Cochrane shouted, "hit it" and Tolson swung for the third strike.

DIES — Howard Ehmke, former Philadelphia A's pitcher, who struck out 13 Cubs and won the opening game of the 1929 World Series, 3-2, died yesterday in a Philadelphia hospital. He was 65. Ehmke hurled in the majors for 16 years and had a 166-164 record. (AP Photofax)

Fairly Is Injured

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Ron Fairly, the Los Angeles Dodgers' promising young bonus outfielder, injured his right hip in an intra-squad game Tuesday and will be sidelined for several days.

Fairly was injured as he slid head-first into second base on an attempted steal. The infield was slightly sticky from overnight rain and Fairly may have caught a spike in the dirt.

The Dodgers' regularly-scheduled game against Detroit was rained out.

May Talk Trade

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Manager Casey Stengel huddled with general manager George Weiss Tuesday on the eve of the Washington Senators' arrival for an exhibition game Wednesday and there was renewed speculation about a trade.

With Don Larsen on the doubtful list because of an ailing right shoulder, it was believed that the Yankees were ready to talk business with Washington regarding pitchers Pedro Ramos or Dick Hyde.

SPORT SLANTS

Lean Year For Trio — Groat Did It Here

Third Shot For Lions — Ed Worked For Elks

By C. V. BURNS

MAYBE you haven't noticed it but this is the first time since Fort Hill came into the picture in 1937 that all three Cumberland schools have lost 10 or more basketball games the same season.

In the past it has been the custom for at least one of the three to have a rousing good year but not so for the 1958-59 campaign which became history last week.

By losing 31 games this year, the three city schools fell one short of the record number of losses (32) chalked up in 1957 and 1949.

This was one of the leanest years for Cumberland schools as they wound up with a 38-31 mark. Worst in the past 23 seasons, however, was 1957 when the trio just managed to squeeze above .500 with 33 wins and 32 losses.

Last season was a good one (55-19) but the winningest year was 1937 when the total hit 65 and the losses were 23. From 1937 through 1948, the three schools averaged between 50 and 60 wins a season for 12 consecutive years. And how about that 61-12 in 1939?

Here are the records of the schools and the combined marks to show that this is an unusual year:

Year	AHS	LaSalle	Ft. Hill	Total
1959	12-10	14-11	12-10	38-31
1958	12-9	23-5	20-5	55-19

1951	10-11	10-11	21-3	41-25
1950	25-2	9-14	18-5	52-21
1949	14-8	5-23	25-1	44-32
1948	18-5	16-13	27-5	55-23
1947	20-5	17-9	18-11	55-25

A REPORT out of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., states that Bill Spivey, one-time Kentucky ace, scored 64 points for Wilkes-Barre against the Baltimore Bullets in an Eastern League game the other night which the Pennsylvanians won by the score of 117-91.

It was said that the 64 points credited to Spivey is believed to be a new record for pro basketball. In 1949 Joe Fulks of the Philadelphia Warriors scored 63 points against Indianapolis.

Dick Groat, now the Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop, set an all-time high of 64 points in Cumberland, January 30, 1955, when he collected 28 goals and 8-10 fouls as the Philadelphia Jets beat the Old Germans, 116-87.

COACH William "Huck" Miers will be taking a Piedmont High School quint to a West Virginia Class B state championship tournament for the third time in six years this weekend when the Lions vie at Huntington.

In 1954 Piedmont whipped Rowlesburg at Keyser, 74-44 and then went on to Morgantown. The Lions beat Chester, 49-44, but lost out in the finals to Pax, 63-54.

Two years later Piedmont whipped Pax in the state semi-final at Morgantown, 83-63, and dropped the championship contest to Barrackville, 62-52.

The last team from nearby West Virginia to win a state basketball title was Johnny Paugh's Moorefield quint of 1949 which swept through Trap Hill, Sissonville and Oceana to capture Class B honors.

Keyser won the "B" championship in 1922 and Parsons went all the way in Class "A" in 1934.

THEY SAY that next to the Irish Sweepstakes and Russian roulette, the biggest gamble probably is the operation of a ski center.

Too little snow and the skiing fanatics will stay away; too much snow and they can't get there.

The biggest problem in the east this year has been too little snow. The goofy weather has prevented skiing at least four weeks this season during the normally busy months of January and February.

At one New York ski center there were more instructors on hand than skiers because of a rainstorm during the weekend.

JOE ERVIN is here the past weekend to attend the funeral of Mrs. Edna Wolford, his mother-in-law.

Ervin will be remembered as one of the best officials ever sent into Allegany County by the Playground Athletic League of Baltimore. He officiated for the last time in this county in 1937.

Mrs. Ervin was Mabel Wolford, of Cumberland.

The Ervins have two husky youngsters.

Last year Joe was in Korea and Japan conducting softball and baseball clinics for Uncle Sam's Armed Forces. Prior to that he spent two years in Germany.

THE DEATH of Edward A. Contos, 70, in Baltimore on Saturday brought back memories of the 1930s when the well known Greek wrestling promoter staged a number of shows at the State Armory for the local B.P.O. Elks Lodge.

He introduced such grunt-and-groaners as Jim Londos, Joe Savoldi, Dick Shikat, Hans Steinke, etc., but that so-called "sport" failed to catch on here.

Contos always rated Londos as tops among the matmen.

Ed came to this country in 1907, dabbled in real estate in California and made his debut as wrestling promoter in Baltimore about 1928.

"ANY FELLOW who thinks a training camp is a place to lose weight and get in shape is a fathead," according to Enos "Country" Slaughter.

"A training camp is where you beat some guy out of a job and you have to be in shape to do it."

Slaughter, who will be 43 next month, and is getting ready for his 20th year in the majors also says:

"Anyone who eats out of the frying pan all of the time is out of his head.

"You can't work or play ball on a full belly. That's why you never see me eat at the park. I drink buttermilk because sweet milk gets all churned up and turns sour in your stomach when you run around.

"Air conditioning is bad for players. I shut it off wherever possible.

"Bonuses have ruined many young players. They get that money and lose their desire. I played three years in the minors and five in the majors before my total salary equalled one of today's bonuses."

ARCHBISHOP John Carroll High of Washington, D.C., posted its 26th consecutive win of the season the other day when it copped the annual K. of C. tourney at the capital by beating the defending champion, Archbishop Molloy of Jamaica, N.Y., 75-44.

LaSalle made its bow in the K. of C. tourney last season.

Sports Cars Tune Up For Sebring Test

12-Hour Endurance Race Set Saturday

SEBRING, Fla. (UPI) — Top-ranking sports car racers tuned up their engines Tuesday for the first practice runs before Saturday's ninth annual Sebring 12-hour endurance race.

All the major competitors were on hand, their mechanics tinkering with the little cars in preparation for practice springs around the tough 5.2-mile course beginning Wednesday.

Set up at various garages scattered across this little central Florida citrus town were teams from the factories of Ferrari, Lister, Aston Martin, Porsche, D.B., Lotus and Osca, as well as a lot of privately - entered cars which will round out the 65-car field.

Practice runs over the course, one of the toughest in international sports car competition, begin at 1:30 p.m. (e.s.t.) Wednesday. They will continue through Friday.

The race begins at 10 a.m. Saturday, ending 12 hours later. Some 60,000 persons are expected to watch.

The annual event is the only race in the United States that counts toward the world's sports car manufacturer's championship, now held by Ferrari.

For the first time in Sebring race history, no American cars are entered. The Corvettes, raced in past years, were ruled out by a new rule prohibiting engines with more than three liters piston displacement.

Ferrari, led by Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., who was co-driver in the winning Ferrari here last year, will lead the smooth-functioning Italian team.

Guest Speakers Named For Dinner Of Beagle Club

Al Hathaway, secretary of the International Beagle Federation, and "Bud" Mitchell, field representative of the American Kennel Club, will be the guest speakers at the annual dinner of the Allegany Beagle Club Thursday at 6:30 p.m., at District 16 Fire Hall Uhl Highway.

Both speakers are residents of McKees Rocks, Pa.

Trophies will be presented to the owners of hounds winning field trials in 1958, as follows:

Bernard Harden, Frostburg, whose Frost Place Senator scored 42½ points in the six 13 inch trials. Participating in all events, Frost Place Senator took three firsts and one second.

Walter L. Weires, LaVale, whose Lady Esther scored 33 points in the 15 inch events. Lady Esther was in three trials and posted a 1-2-3 record.

Frank Winter, Cresaptown, whose Winter's Daisy won in the 13 inch class in the Junior Members Trial.

Seventy are expected to attend the dinner. The invocation will be pronounced by John Armstrong, of Triple Lakes.

Senators' Wilcox Makes Small College All-America Team

NEW YORK UPI—Dick Barnett of Tennessee State and Ed Smallwood of Evansville Ind. head of the 1959 United Press International small college All-America basketball team.

Barnett, the only repeater from last year's team, led coach John McLendon's Tigers to a record third straight NAIA title last Saturday night at Kansas City. Smallwood, moving up from last year's second team, is the scoring leader for Evansville, newly-crowned NCAA small college tournament champion.

Faster Early Season Pace And More Punch Needed If White Sox To Make Race Of It

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league baseball teams. Others will follow on this page every day.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla.—The White Sox failed to show any "early foot" last year and while they did come charging down the stretch they couldn't catch the Yankees. Actually, it's much the same story each year for the Sox and to the good senor who manages them, Al Lopez, the Go-Go club without much Socks seems to be not quite good enough.

Maybe there will be a change of pattern this year for Alphonse didn't predict a pennant for his boys this season, which is against the script.

The lack of early foot, which was manifested in the failure of Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan to get going and injuries to key players, carried on until June 13, last year, but from then on the Chisox were the best club in either league, even topping the Yankees in won-lost marks from then on in. However, it was too late and the Bronx Bombers came home in September 10 games ahead of the Sox.

Lopez believes he is in better shape this year with a sound team and some help in the bullpen, where he was wanting, and feels that the club will make more runs, which always helps.

"I know we're better in two positions," he said, "for Jim Landis did a fine job for us in center and Al Smith, who was bothered by calcium formation above the ankles, looks sound again. And we feel that Jackie Callison will do a good job for us in left."

"Our pitching," continued Al in a clubhouse talk, "is much the same, although we lost Jim Wilson, now retired. In his place though, we are counting on Barry Latman. Our problem is relief. We didn't have Turk Lown last year, and he should help us here along with a rookie, Rodolfo Arias, a lefthander, who did well as a reliefer with Havana last year.

"We'll go with Pierce, Donovan and Early Wynn," Lopez continued, "with either Latman or Bob Shaw (from the Tigers) as our No. 4 man. Pierce and Donovan got off to very bad starts last year. They're both conscientious boys. When they didn't win they were worried that maybe their windups or deliveries were off. Donovan, particularly, worried a lot and I had to talk to him. However, they came on after the second half and pitched good ball."

Wynn, incidentally, will be aiming at victory No. 250 in his first start of the 1959 campaign. He is the winningest pitcher in baseball today.

Several rookie pitchers are in and Lopez says he might keep Don Rudolph, a lefthander who had a 11-12 record with Indianapolis. "This boy," said Al, "has a lot of courage and we'll need him." Rudolph's wife is the famed Patti Waggin of the strip-tease set.

Bill DuFour, who won 18 at Chattanooga, and Hal Trosky, son of the former first sacker, who won 11 at Colorado Springs, also are being given a look. Still another is Claude Raymond, whom Lopez describes as having a "live arm.' Raymond was with Wichita.

Lopez has plenty of speed on this club and says that "it's a manager's dream to have it," but he is looking for power. The senor hopes to find it in the 6-foot, 7-inch Ron Jackson, who was to have been his first sacker last year but failed to come through as expected.

"I'd like to see Jackson finally come through for us," Al said. "He could be another Greenberg but he's got to hit for distance for us because we need it."

Al has been experimenting with Sherman Lollar—his No. 1 catcher and top power hitter on the club last year; at first base in the hopes of getting more punch in the lineup. He feels that Earl Battey and John Romano can handle the catching chores.

"Last year," said Al, "I tried to spell Lollar for a bit but I then didn't have a fourth-place hitter until I got Ray Boone from Detroit."

The rest of the infield is classy with the fabulous Nellie Fox at second, Luis Aparicio at short and Bubba Phillips or Ray Boone at third. "I think Phillips is going to be an improved player," said Al. "Last year he broke his foot and was out for awhile." Always on hand is Billy Goodman, the .300 hitter, who can fill in most anywhere.

Smith and Landis are set in the outfield with the left field spot being given to the rookie sensation, Callison, who rocketed to stardom in one full season in the minors. If Callison doesn't make it, Al has Don Mueller, Jim Rivera and Lou Skizas to take over.

Rides 25 Winners, Reynolds Has 20

BOWIE, Md., March 18 (AP)—Jockey Howard Grant, who rode four winners here at the Bowie Race Course on yesterday's program, came back with three winners today to move into a tie for the lead in the meeting's jockey contest.

In the featured St. Patrick's Day Purse, seventh race, Grant was expected to win with the 6 to 5 favorite, Introduction, but reached only the second position while Danny Shea's Sky Hook sprinted to victory.

Sky Hook, ridden by Henry Block, pulled away in the stretch to win by three-and-a-half lengths while Introduction was second, a length in front of Riversun. Sky Hook paid $6.40, $2.80 and $2.60; Introduction paid $2.80 and $2.40 and Riversun, $4.40.

Not to be outdone by Grant, apprentice Larry Reynolds also rode three winners. He moved into third place in the jockeys' race with 20 winners.

Riding his 23rd and 24th winners, Grant opened the program with Jaclyn Stable's Li'l Sis, who paid only $4.20, and then came back to the winner's circle with Frederick Westenberger's Too Hasty, at 3-1 in the second race. His third win came on Troubled Times in the sixth race.

Grant is expected to rush by Bobby Corle, who rode 25 winners before beginning a 10-day suspension. Corle returned to action yesterday and continued to be plagued by misfortune when his mount Salesman Sam went through the fence.

Corle was badly shaken up and was advised by the track physician to cancel his mounts for today. He has been named on several horses for tomorrow's card.

London's Worst Fire

LONDON (UPI) — More than 200 firemen battled for more than eight hours to bring under control Tuesday London's worst fire since the blitz of World War II. Three firemen were injuring in fighting the fire which swept a block of stores and homes in Ilford High Street, a major suburban shopping center.

Postpones Visits

VIENNA (UPI) — Austrian President Adolf Schaerf has postponed his scheduled visits to the Soviet Union, Sweden and Finland because of the forthcoming general elections in Austria, it was announced Tuesday.

The word blimp dates back to World War I when England built a certain type of small non-rigid airship called B-limp, which became blimp.

Grant Ties Bobby Corle

Rides 25 Winners, Reynolds Has 20

BOWIE, Md., March 18 (AP)—Jockey Howard Grant, who rode four winners here at the Bowie Race Course on yesterday's program, came back with three winners today to move into a tie for the lead in the meeting's jockey contest.

In the featured St. Patrick's Day Purse, seventh race, Grant was expected to win with the 6 to 5 favorite, Introduction, but reached only the second position while Danny Shea's Sky Hook sprinted to victory.

Sky Hook, ridden by Henry Block, pulled away in the stretch to win by three-and-a-half lengths while Introduction was second, a length in front of Riversun. Sky Hook paid $6.40, $2.80 and $2.60; Introduction paid $2.80 and $2.40 and Riversun, $4.40.

Not to be outdone by Grant, apprentice Larry Reynolds also rode three winners. He moved into third place in the jockeys' race with 20 winners.

Riding his 23rd and 24th winners, Grant opened the program with Jaclyn Stable's Li'l Sis, who paid only $4.20, and then came back to the winner's circle with Frederick Westenberger's Too Hasty, at 3-1 in the second race. His third win came on Troubled Times in the sixth race.

Grant is expected to rush by Bobby Corle, who rode 25 winners before beginning a 10-day suspension. Corle returned to action yesterday and continued to be plagued by misfortune when his mount Salesman Sam went through the fence.

Corle was badly shaken up and was advised by the track physician to cancel his mounts for today. He has been named on several horses for tomorrow's card.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear father, son and brother, Richard W. Keller, who died 3 years ago today, March 18, 1956.
When we step beyond's life's gateway,
As our loved one now has done,
We shall find a land of beauty,
With a never-setting sun.
Sleep today, Oh dearest Richard,
In thy green and narrow bed.
Petals from our own white roses,
Mingle with the tears we shed.

This is a rare one. Yes, it's spectacular. 280 h.p. engine with S. Shift and Power Steering. 3 Carbureators, Dual Exhausts. A real powerhouse. Red with ivory top and W. Wall tires. This car is really a sportsman car. Color, power, equipment, speed, looks, clean with class. Best of all, it's priced way, way, down below the proper price. Guaranteed to please. If not pleased with this car after driving it 24 hrs. will refund the full price.

CHRYSLER
'58 MERCURY
2 dr. Sta. Wgn.

We just traded this beautiful black wagon from a local business man who kept the car in A-1 condition (you may talk to the former owner if you wish). This is one of Mercury's best 4-door wagons. It has the 4-door Commuter with Mercomatic keyboard control transmission; also power steering, power brakes, power tail gate window and warning buzzer at the speed you select. Also, radio, heater, signal lights, backup lights, whitewall tires and all the small accessories. The interior is an all-washable vinyl two tone black and red. The low mileage and A-1 condition of this top Mercury wagon makes this the best buy in town at . . .

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear father, son and brother, Richard W. Keller, who died 3 years ago today, March 18, 1956.
When we step beyond's life's gateway,
As our loved one now has done,
We shall find a land of beauty,
Sleep today, Oh dearest Richard,
In thy green and narrow bed.
Petals from our own white roses,
Mingle with the tears we shed.

We just traded this beautiful black wagon from a local business man who kept the car in A-1 condition (you may talk to the former owner if you wish). This is one of Mercury's best 4-door wagons. It has the 4-door Commuter with Mercomatic keyboard control transmission; also power steering, power brakes, power tail gate window and warning buzzer at the speed you select. Also, radio, heater, signal lights, backup lights, whitewall tires and all the small accessories. The interior is an all-washable vinyl two tone black and red. The low mileage and A-1 condition of this top Mercury wagon makes this the best buy in town at . . .

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

The busy woman makes every moment count.

Beauty On The Run

In this fast-moving world, with more and more women working, every moment counts and has to be well planned.

Short cuts that will bring you beauty-on-the-run are a must for the busy woman. That is if she wants to improve her looks as she should. We call them double-duty beauty tricks.

After the bath she can give herself a brisk rubdown with the bath towel. This is excellent stimulation for the circulation, and also helps to firm the body contours. Stretch the towel across the shoulders and hold ends with each hand. Now draw the towel in a cross motion up and down the back to the left and then away to the right. Do the waistline and hip area, too, adjusting the hand position as necessary. Tomorrow, I'll talk some more about this after-bath beauty routine.

Housework duties give a woman opportunities for stretching and limbering. Why not pull in the stomach as you bend over making the bed. Reach a little farther as you wash the bathroom floor.

Before dishwashing time, try this: grasp the sink with thumbs turned downward. Then, running in position, kick the buttocks with the foot at each backward swing . . . 20 is the starting number—but 50 times isn't too much.

TOMORROW: A Daily Bath Beauty Routine.

Whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a pattern of safe, laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving. Write to Secrets of Charm, in c/o this paper enclosing 10c in coin, plus a stamped self-addressed envelope.

PUBLIC NOTICE

All interested persons are advised that the construction of Maryland Route 36 in Allegany County is being planned by the Maryland State Roads Commission. The contemplated location will begin in Westernport on Church Street at a point approximately 200 feet East of Main Street thence running in a northerly direction paralleling Main Street (with connecting streets at Washington Street and Oak View Drive) and then crossing main Street at Philos Avenue. The proposed new construction then crosses Georges Creek and continues in a northerly direction toward Phoenix Hill for a distance of 1.56 miles. The tentative location of this route is available at the office of the District Engineer of the Maryland State Roads Commission. Any interested citizen of the Town of Westernport or areas affected by said route may request that a public hearing be held regarding such proposed location and the economic effect of such locations by delivering a written request to the District Engineer of the Maryland State Roads Commission whose address is PO Box 450, Cumberland, Maryland on or before the 23rd day of March, 1959. In the event such a request is received a further notice of the time and place of the hearing will be published.

Heisey To Talk To PTA Group

Victor D. Heisey, principal of Fort Hill High School, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Gephart School Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Heisey will direct his remarks particularly to the parents of Fifth and Sixth grade students since the children will be entering Fort Hill in the next two years. The parents will have the opportunity of asking Heisey questions concerning high school activities, schedules and procedures.

The musical portion of the program will feature a 'Barbershop Quartet,' composed of Clyde Bantz, first tenor; Fred Eichner, second tenor; David Kerns, first bass, and Paul Ossip, second bass, all students of Allegany High School. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Man Opposes Retreat Closing

Carl L. Amtower, 203 Arch Street, wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday opposing any proposal for the closing of Sylvan Retreat and transferring the inmates to state mental institutions.

Amtower said that even if the county could save money on the move, there is the human factor involved whereby members of the family can visit inmates from time to time more easily than if they were in state institutions.

Amtower said he recognizes the financial problems of the county and believes the commissioners are doing everything in their power to cut costs to the taxpayers, but closing Sylvan Retreat is not part of the answer.

Outdoor Club Elects Wagner

The new officers will assume their duties at a meeting Monday, April 4, at 8 p. m. at the Frederick Street home. They will also be guests of honor at a dinner Sunday, April 12, during which the club will award its annual trophies and prizes.

Judge's Pay Bill Passes House

ANNAPOLIS (AP)— Chief Circuit Judge Mogan C. Harris of Cumberland would be paid $2,500 more a year than his two colleagues under a bill approved Monday by the House of Delegates.

The House passed a bill authorizing Allegany County to raise the salary of Harris from $17,000 to $19,500 a year. The salaries of Judges David K. McLaughlin of Hagerstown and Neil C. Fraley of Oakland in the same Fourth Circuit would remain at $17,000.

The three counties now collaborate to provide each of the three judges with $2,000 more than their State salary. All of the additional money for Judge Harris would come from Allegany County funds.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

The busy woman makes every moment count.

Beauty On The Run

In this fast-moving world, with more and more women working, every moment counts and has to be well planned.

Short cuts that will bring you beauty-on-the-run are a must for the busy woman. That is if she wants to improve her looks as she should. We call them double-duty beauty tricks.

For instance, while reading or watching TV, she can brush her hair, massage her gums, massage her scalp and use the abrasive treatment for removing superfluous hair.

While walking to and from stores or in the park with her children, she can do her deep-breathing routine, practice good walking and standing posture.

After the bath she can give herself a brisk rubdown with the bath towel. This is excellent stimulation for the circulation, and also helps to firm the body contours. Stretch the towel across the shoulders and hold ends with each hand. Now draw the towel in a cross motion up and down the back to the left and then away to the right. Do the waistline and hip area, too, adjusting the hand position as necessary. Tomorrow, I'll talk some more about this after-bath beauty routine.

Housework duties give a woman opportunities for stretching and limbering. Why not pull in the stomach as you bend over making the bed. Reach a little farther as you wash the bathroom floor.

Before dishwashing time, try this: grasp the sink with thumbs turned downward. Then, running in position, kick the buttocks with the foot at each backward swing . . . 20 is the starting number—but 50 times isn't too much.

TOMORROW: A Daily Bath Beauty Routine.

Whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a pattern of safe, laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving. Write to Secrets of Charm, in c/o this paper enclosing 10c in coin, plus a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Heisey To Talk To PTA Group

Victor D. Heisey, principal of Fort Hill High School, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Gephart School Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Heisey will direct his remarks particularly to the parents of Fifth and Sixth grade students since the children will be entering Fort Hill in the next two years. The parents will have the opportunity of asking Heisey questions concerning high school activities, schedules and procedures.

The musical portion of the program will feature a 'Barbershop Quartet,' composed of Clyde Bantz, first tenor; Fred Eichner, second tenor; David Kerns, first bass, and Paul Ossip, second bass, all students of Allegany High School. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

The program will be preceded by a room visitation period for the first four grades.

Man Opposes Retreat Closing

Carl L. Amtower, 203 Arch Street, wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday opposing any proposal for the closing of Sylvan Retreat and transferring the inmates to state mental institutions.

Amtower said that even if the county could save money on the move, there is the human factor involved whereby members of the family can visit inmates from time to time more easily than if they were in state institutions.

Amtower said he recognizes the financial problems of the county and believes the commissioners are doing everything in their power to cut costs to the taxpayers, but closing Sylvan Retreat is not part of the answer.

Outdoor Club Elects Wagner

Others elected were Edward McConnell, vice president; Emory Turner, recording secretary; Walter Ensminger, financial secretary; Edward Belfoure, treasurer; Howard Kuhns, chairman of trustees, and Robert Taylor, Samuel Brady, William Seiler and Andrew Jones, trustees.

The new officers will assume their duties at a meeting Monday, April 4, at 8 p. m. at the Frederick Street home. They will also be guests of honor at a dinner Sunday, April 12, during which the club will award its annual trophies and prizes.

Judge's Pay Bill Passes House

ANNAPOLIS (AP)— Chief Circuit Judge Mogan C. Harris of Cumberland would be paid $2,500 more a year than his two colleagues under a bill approved Monday by the House of Delegates.

The House passed a bill authorizing Allegany County to raise the salary of Harris from $17,000 to $19,500 a year. The salaries of Judges David K. McLaughlin of Hagerstown and Neil C. Fraley of Oakland in the same Fourth Circuit would remain at $17,000.

The three counties now collaborate to provide each of the three judges with $2,000 more than their State salary. All of the additional money for Judge Harris would come from Allegany County funds.

Columbia Street PTA To Meet Tomorrow

The Parent-Teacher Association of Columbia Street School will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. Teachers will confer with parents until 7:30 and a business meeting will follow. Dr. Orville Swartley will preside.

Miss Catherine Thomas, principa, will speak on "The Operation Of Our School." There will be a question-and-answer period, followed by a community sing. A priest from St. Patrick's Catholic Church will conduct the devotional period. The meeting will be concluded at 9 p. m.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Stock Market Snaps Back From Monday's Selloff

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market snapped back from Monday's sell-off with a vengeance Tuesday in more active trading.

The market recovered more than two-thirds of Monday's loss of around 3 billion dollars as the experts optimistically appraised President Eisenhower's speech on the Berlin situation.

The raft of favorable economic developments the past two days also came into play, sending individual stocks up more than 5 points in a few instances. Gains of 2 and 3 points in the main list were numerous.

The building supplies and the electronics stood out in the industrial group. Bestwall Gypsum rose more than 4, helped by a proposed stock split. U. S. Gypsum jumped more than 4 on split and Johns Manville rose more than 2.

Hoffman Electronics jumped more than 4 and Zenith more than 5 in the electronics. Beckman rose around 5 and RCA more than 2 in this group. Reynolds Metals added more than 2 in the aluminum group and Anaconda Kennecott more than a ppint each in the coppers, a group now enjoying a firm price structure.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Wheat, rye and soybeans closed the day considerably weaker, although corn and oats were about steady on the Chicago Board of Trade.

There was a considerable lack of buying action in Tuesday's market, compared to previous sessions.

Wheat was off ⅞ to 1⅝; corn unchanged; new corn unchanged to off ½; oats off ½ to up ¼; new oats unchanged to up ⅜; rye off ⅝ to 2½; soybeans off ⅝ to 1⅜.

Wheat ranged lower throughout the session. Shorts did some buying of the March, but it dropped 1⅝ cents by the close. May also came in for some demand by shorts, but its close was 1⅛ cents lower. Prices differed by about four cents all through the day. Commission house selling of May was also substantial.

Corn trade was mostly a spreading operation. Early buying, although fairly good, was never good enough. Old and new March remained unchanged and others lost ½ cent each. July was listed at $1.19¼, and September at $1.16½. Cash trade went one full cent higher.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	4 ♥	Pass	Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠.

The hand diagram presented above may appear to hold a little interest on a casual examination. The bidding sequence is completely routine and after the perfectly normal lead of the queen of spades declarer should experience no trouble in making five hearts, losing only the king of diamonds and the ace of clubs.

It might prove interesting for the reader, before proceeding further, to see if he can figure out how East and West managed to administer an upset.

South won the queen of spades with the ace and promptly drew three rounds of trumps. He then led the queen of diamonds for the finesse. East won with the king, and it was quite apparent that the club suit must be attacked. Risking but an extra trick in the process, East went out to effect an upset by leading the queen of clubs. If West held the king this lead would be as effective as the ace. If West lacked that card, then the contract could not be defeated, however, with the lead things might happen, and they did.

South realized that he must win a club trick if he were to avoid failure. If East is leading from the queen-jack, South must play low, and if East continues with the jack, declarer covers and sets up the ten. If East's second club lead is a low one, declarer ducks and West will have to put up his ace to win the trick.

South decided to play as if East had made the norm

Stock Market Snaps Back From Monday's Selloff

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market snapped back from Monday's sell-off with a vengeance Tuesday in more active trading.

The market recovered more than two-thirds of Monday's loss of around 3 billion dollars as the experts optimistically appraised President Eisenhower's speech on the Berlin situation.

The raft of favorable economic developments the past two days also came into play, sending individual stocks up more than 5 points in a few instances. Gains of 2 and 3 points in the main list were numerous.

The resumption of the bull market rise spread into all major groups, with the rails showing the best gains percentagewise in the averages.

The building supplies and the electronics stood out in the industrial group. Bestwall Gypsum rose more than 4, helped by a proposed stock split. U. S. Gypsum jumped more than 4 on split and Johns Manville rose more than 2.

Hoffman Electronics jumped more than 4 and Zenith more than 5 in the electronics. Beckman rose around 5 and RCA more than 2 in this group. Reynolds Metals added more than 2 in the aluminum group and Anaconda Kennecott more than a ppint each in the coppers, a group now enjoying a firm price structure.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Wheat, rye and soybeans closed the day considerably weaker, although corn and oats were about steady on the Chicago Board of Trade.

There was a considerable lack of buying action in Tuesday's market, compared to previous sessions.

Wheat was off ⅞ to 1⅛; corn unchanged; new corn unchanged to off ½; oats off ½ to up ¼; new oats unchanged to up ⅜; rye off ⅝ to 2½; soybeans off ⅝ to 1⅜.

Wheat ranged lower throughout the session. Shorts did some buying of the March, but it dropped 1⅛ cents by the close. May also came in for some demand by shorts, but its close was 1⅛ cents lower. Prices differed by about four cents all through the day. Commission house selling of May was also substantial.

Corn trade was mostly a spreading operation. Early buying, although fairly good, was never good enough. Old and new March remained unchanged and others lost ½ cent each. July was listed at $1.19¼, and September at $1.16½. Cash trade went one full cent higher.

With cash houses on both sides of the market, oats remained about steady.

Considering Monday's bullish trend, the rye market lost a full cent in most and more than 2 cents in the March delivery.

County Voters To Get Choice Of Liquor Plans

Committee Favors Vote On Alternates

A House of Delegates committee last night gave approval to a bill which would allow Allegany countians to vote on alternate proposals to extend or reduce the hours for sale of alcoholic beverages.

The House Alcoholic Beverage Committee met in executive session last night after an hour-long afternoon hearing at which Cumberland ministers and liquor dealers spoke out for and against the bill.

Committee members favored an amended HB 352, which provides for a referendum in November 1960 at which county voters would decide whether to permit liquor sales until 1 a. m. or move back the bar closing time to midnight. The only vote against the compromise plan came from Delegate Estel C. Kelley.

Much Oratory

Yesterday's hearing brought impassioned oratory and heated rebuttal, respectively, from Earl E. Manges, local attorney and Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County delegation.

After spokesmen for and against the bill had rested their cases, Mr. Manges got to his feet to speak against any relaxation of liquor laws.

Saying he felt the bill would only lead to further extension of selling hours, Mr. Manges charged liquor dealers and "politicians" who represented them "have been completely inconsistent" in their pleas before the General Assembly.

"This would eventually lead to 2 o'clock closing and sales to 18-year-olds. I don't believe the reputable dealer wants that, and I don't believe they want continual agitation so that some politicians can keep on taking money from these same liquor dealers."

Del. Driscoll, one of the four sponsors of the disputed bill, leaped to his feet to object to Mr. Manges' statement.

Resent Implication

"I resent any implication that I accepted any money from anyone for anything," he shouted.

Del. Jerome Robinson, (D-Balto. 4th), committee vice chairman said, "Fred, you don't have to make any apologies or clarifications for yourself or any member of your delegation."

Mr. Manges said he hadn't meant any member of the county delegation.

Firemen Plan Annual Smoker At Lonaconing

Ticket Request Deadline April 5

Goodwill Fire Company of Lonaconing will be host to the annual smoker of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association which will be held on April 18.

Dinner will be served from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. and will be followed by a program of entertainment. Companies are being reminded that April 5 is the deadline for ticket requests.

If a company is unable to send a representative to the monthly meeting which will be held on April 5 at Accident, it should write to David E. Kirk, 110 Le Fevre Road, Cumberland, for tickets. He is chairman of the ticket committee.

The ways and means committee for the smoker includes Alvin Rankin and Ivan Wilson, co-chairmen; Francis Philpot, Glenn O'Brien, William Smith, James Winfield and Robert Dickle.

William A. Wilson and Cromwell Zembower are co-chairmen of the entertainment committee and will be assisted by Lamar Minnick.

At the meeting in Accident next month, firemen who completed the instructor's course given recently at Frostburg, will be given their diplomas.

Volunteer companies are also being reminded that May 1 is the deadline for entering candidates for the "Fireman of the Year" award.

Junior Red Cross Adopts Many Projects Of Service

The Junior Red Cross in Allegany County engages in numerous volunteer services of a community nature, assisting the Allegany County Red Cross Chapter, in addition to its dedicated program of building mutual understanding among American school children and children in other lands.

In recent months, the Junior Red Cross, under the leadership of Mrs. John M. Robb and Miss Margaret E. Doak, the yonug Red Cross workers here have sent greeting cards to aged people in hospitals at Christmas and Valentine's Day, have prepared and sent gifts to veteran hospitals, have prepared kits and chests for children in distressed areas and in foreign lands, and have sent writing portfolios to disabled veterans. In addition, $100 has been donated to the Red Cross Children's Fund for disaster areas.

The Junior Red Cross was organized during World War I for the purpose of giving American school children an opportunity to participate in the war services of the Red Cross.

Since then it has continued activity in peace time service to enlist school children in the services of suffering childhood everywhere; to develop rich attitudes of mind that result from unselfish service and to build foundations of mutual understanding among American school children and children of other lands.

The Junior Red Cross magazine is issued at regular intervals to help carry information to schools and children financing it. Membership in the Junior Red Cross is not on an individual basis, but on a classroom unit plan, so that classroom projects oftimes can be sponsored as part of the Junior Red Cross activity.

Interest in the program, according to Mrs. George W. Legge, Red Cross executive secretary, is growing throughout the county and more children appear interested in helping with programs which might help other children of other lands.

Trailer Bill Entered By Del. Walsh

Del. Reed Opposes Condemnation Plan

Introduced as House Bill 795, it calls for a $10 arrival tax on each trailer which remains in the county for 30 days. Ten days after this period ended, the owner must register with the Supervisor of Assessments and pay ad valorem taxes.

The county would issue a license tag, which must be displayed on the trailer. Owners who stay longer than 30 days would be allowed credit on taxes for the initial $10 permit.

House Bill 793, introduced yesterday by Delegates Driscoll, Cook, Conlon and Walsh, provides penalties for the possession of alcoholic beverages by those under 21.

Blacktop Bills

The bill sets up penalties of up to $100 or up to 10 days in jail, or both, and makes it optional that offenders be taken before the Juvenile Court.

Identical bills for mandatory blacktopping of the Beall Elementary School playground in Frostburg were introduced Monday in the General Assembly.

Sponsors were Senator Charles M. See and Delegates Lester B. Reed. The proposals require the work to be done 90 days after the bills are signed.

The legislators said dust from the play center is a nuisance to nearby residents and has been a "bone of contention" for several years.

Offers Prayer

Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel, offered the opening prayer at the House session yesterday.

The House passed and sent to its third reading House Bill 558, which would allow the State Roads Commission to expedite road construction delayed by condemnation proposals.

It was opposed by Del. Lester B. Reed, Allegany County Republican and House minority leader.

He discoursed on the right of eminent domain and said all existing laws impose checks on the use of the plan and protested the "slicing away of that right of the people."

Local Bills Are Introduced In Assembly

Fred B. Driscoll, delegation chairman, said last night that House Bill 765 was introdcued and would permit licensed funeral directors with certain qualifications to take an examination for embalmer's licenses.

House Bill 766 would provide a tax exemption for leased land and buildings in the county to bring the law in line with the present statute.

Chairman Driscoll also pointed out that House Bill 767 would authorize the LaVale Sanitation Commission to borrow money in the aggregate of $50,000 in promissory notes for improvements in that community.

A bill recommended by the County Commissioners was introduced by Delegates Conlon, Cook, Walsh and Driscoll.

It would tighten up the tax exemption for those persons over 65 years of age in the county and would allow exemptions up to $3,500 and other qualifications. The present tax exemption reportedly has been abused by residents.

The delegation introduced House Resolution 39 congratulating John T. Fey, a former local resident and member of the House of Delegates who has been named president of the University of Vermont.

Chairman Driscoll said last night a record was set insofar as the introduction of bills was concerned. The first bill yesterday was House Bill 723 and the final one was House Bill 824, a total of 101.

Thruway Light Meeting Set

Mayor J. Edwin Keech announced yesterday that the committee which is studying plans for lighting the Cumberland Thruway will meet early in April.

He said the committee composed of W. E. Toms, of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Jack Lucas, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, and Frank E. Hines, Celanese Corporation, has studied the plans and is ready to make some recommendations.

A representative of the Potomac Edison Company, which has prepared preliminary plans for lighting the big project, will be present.

The committee was named recently by the city to give technical assistance and to help it decide on the most economical and efficient plans for lighting the facility.

Put Out Grass Fire

South End Fire Company extinguished a grass fire along the railroad tracks at 236 West Oldtown Road shortly after noon yesterday. Firemen were out about 30 minutes.

Assembly Holds Reins On Urban Slum Clearance

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The General Assembly refused Tuesday to permit Maryland counties and municipalities to undertake on their own initiative the clearance of slums.

It decided that any such projects would have to be first authorized by the legislators themselves. The lone exception is Baltimore City, which has had home rule insofar as urban renewal is concerned since 1944.

The Maryland Municipal League won Legislative Council endorsement of a bill to permit incorporated cities and counties with charter governments to start rehabilitation of slum areas on their own.

Up To Assembly

But the Senate amended drastically the bill to leave such authority up to the General Assembly. The House of Delegates accepted the amendments this afternoon to send the bill to Gov. Tawes.

Another amendment tacked on by the Senate will spell out the definition of slum areas to guarantee that any redevelopment will be confined to them.

Referendum Set

Wilson Barnes, a Baltimore attorney, had recommended such a curb. He testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee that it was necessary so that buildings could not be condemned in the name of slum clearance and then sold to a private developer.

A curb on such possibilities was removed from the Baltimore City urban renewal law in 1948, Barnes said.

File Cabinet Bid Accepted By Board

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has accepted a bid of $68.95 by the Ankeney Company Inc., city, for the furnishing of a legal size file cabinet with full suspension and lock.

The Commissioners has requested the company furnish four sets of legal size pressboard guides.

Boy Admits Theft Of Dynamite

A 15-year-old Cumberland boy was released into the custody of his parents after admitting to city police yesterday that he had taken some dynamite from the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company's sand quarry at Locust Grove.

Investigating officers said the youth told them he had taken about 12 sticks of the highly-concentrated explosive from the powder magazine last January, but said he had thrown at least seven sticks into Wills Creek. Police found two sticks of dynamite in a third-floor apartment house on North Mechanic Street yesterday morning.

The youth said he entered the powder magazine apparently after it had been broken open by someone else, police stated.

On January 15 the cement company's explosives storehouse was broken into and 350 pounds of dynamite were stolen. State police began the initial investigation in the case and city authorities said last night they had several other leads in connection with the theft.

Seven boxes of 40 and 60 per cent gelatin dynamite, used at the quarry to blast rock from the mountainside, were stolen. The dynamite was packed in seven boxes weighing 50 pounds apiece with each box containing 90 sticks of dynamite.

A spokesman for the company said the total of 630 sticks of dynamite was valued at only $75 but was extremely dangerous in "the wrong hands."

Three of the boxes contained 60 per cent gelatin sticks and the remaining four had 40 per cent gelatin explosives.

The powder magazine is surrounded by a wire fence and the intruder broke a lock on the enclosure. Two other locks were broken off a steel door to the magazine to gain entrance.

Badminton Planned

The Recreation Department will hold a badminton session today from 7 to 10 p. m. in the Fort Hill Boys Gymnasium. The last session will be held next week.

Bids Submitted On Bridge Jobs

Bids on two contracts involving bridges in Garrett County were opened by the State Roads Commission in Baltimore yesterday.

The first contract includes the painting of the Deep Creek Lake bridge on Route 219 and the Casselman River Bridge over Route 40 at Grantsville.

The Eastwood Painting Company, Baltimore, submitted the apparent low bid of $11,895 and the Dormont Painting Company, also of Baltimore, was second at $13,180.

The State Foundation Corporation, Manchester, was low with a bid of $8,470, the George Construction Company here was second with $9,883 and the George F. Hazelwood Company, of here, third with $10,639.50.

Local 180 Vote Opens

Balloting in the annual election of officers of Local 180, United Glass and Ceramics Workers, began yesterday afternoon at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant. The election ends today, when polls will be open from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

Pinto Cow Top Butterfat Producer During February

Primrose, a registered Holstein owned by I. L. Brooke and Sons, Pinto, was the top butterfat producer during February in the Potomac Valley Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

Wheeler W. Arnold and Harry E. Miller, supervisors, said the cow produced a total of 93 pounds of butterfat from 2,070 pounds of milk.

Second place producer in the first 10 was 3483959, an artificial registered Holstein owned by John T. Mason of Cresaptown. She produced 88 pounds of butterfat from 2,110 pounds of milk.

No. 63, an artificial grade Holstein owned by Shumaker Brothers of Rawlings, was third place producer, having produced 79 pounds of butterfat from 1,920 pounds of milk. No. 50, a grade Holstein, owned by the Shumaker Brothers, placed fourth by producing the same amount of butterfat from a similar number of pounds of milk.

Other producers in the top 10 include those of Carl Howsare of Bedford Valley, Ivan C. Wilson, Midland; Potomac State College farm, Keyser; A. E. and D. W. Light of Pinto.

The total number of cows on test last month was 1,017, with the average production of all cows being 698 pounds of milk, 29.1 pounds of butterfat, a test of 4.16 per cent.

The highest herd average for the month was that of Fred C. Siple of Fort Ashby, who had 17 cows on test. The number of pounds of milk was 971, with 44.7 pounds of butterfat, a test of 4.61 per cent.

Flood Project May Be Done On Schedule

Will Take 1936 Deluge In Stride

Many residents of this city gazed at blustery skies yesterday, recalling the disastrous St. Patrick's Day flood of 1936.

The 23rd anniversary of the deluge, which caused an estimated $2,047,000 of damage in Cumberland alone, found the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection program moving on schedule toward the May 1 completion date.

Two holes remained in the flood walls along Wills Creek, but on the vulnerable east side, wall sections were up to within 12 feet of the top.

On the west side, five wall sections are still out to provide access to the work area.

The project has proceeded to the point where the only difficulty which might arise from high water would be in the pouring of 12 slabs in the bed of the creek.

Channel Is Deeper

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, declined to guess whether a flood comparable to that which hit this area in 1936 would be carried safely in the channel until the final lifts along Mechanic Street are in.

It is likely, however, that such a flood would pass safely, since the channel just upsrteam of the Baltimore Street Bridge has been deepened 11 feet.

The Corps of Engineers designed the flood project to take care of the 1936 flood. Then they added enough area to take a flood 25 per cent greater than hit the area and added three feet of wall or levee as an additional safety factor.

Ordinary high waters, which would have caused apprehension several years ago, are passing quietly through the flood structures.

Flooded In '42

Some damage was caused by the lesser flood which Cumberland suffered in October 1942. It caused some $120,000 of damage here and about $7,000 in neighboring Ridgeley.

The fact that the flood work is so nearly done is a tribute to the George F. Hazelwood Company, which is completing the final work on Section 4 in Wills Creek.

Except for a day lost February 10, when a sudden thaw sent countless tons of ice down the channel of Wills Creek, the company has had crews in the creek, pushing the work as near around-the-clock as possible.

The company ignored weather to pour concrete, protecting it from freezing by the use of covers and oil heaters.

Floods Creek Paving

The weather was no problem for paving in the bed of the creek and the firm merely diverted water from the creek to keep the newly poured concrete from freezing.

The prospects for completing the rest of the work on time is considered excellent, since most of the rest of the concrete work can be poured from the banks adjoining the flood walls in case of high water.

Wind Gusts Whip Snow, Roads Wet

A typically March day yesterday threatened to turn to freezing weather late last night as blustery winds whipped scattered snow flurries throughout the area.

The sun attempted to break through the cloudy, wind-swept skies in Garrett County yesterday as temperatures dipped from a high of 35 to a low of 20. At 6 o'clock last night the mercury registered 26 degrees and was falling.

Practically dry roads were being covered with a thin coating of snow last night as gusts of wind from 20 to 30 miles per hour swirled the fine snow across highways to darken visibility.

Cumberland experienced a windy and blustery day with wind gusts from 25 to 35 miles per hour. Continuous changes in high and low pressures brought flurries and falling temperatures last night. The high for the day in the Queen City was 44 while the low was recorded at 26 degrees.

Both West Virginia and Pennsylvania authorities reported chilly and windy weather with highways wet in spots and some freezing reported late last night.

Luke School Will Close This Year

Adequate Facilities Cited In Westernport

Luke Elementary School, which opened about 45 years ago, will be closed at the end of the present school term, according to a decision reached yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Education.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, presented information to the board members indicating that enrollment in the school will become smaller. At the present time, he said, there are adequate facilities at the Westernport Elementary School (formerly Bruce High School) where pupils will be transported beginning next September.

The board members decided it is the logical step to take in that they feel the pupils will get a broader education, since at the present time the school is divided into two rooms.

Florence T. Liller, of Barton, principal, teaches grades four through six while Mary P. Wilt, of Westernport, teaches the first three grades.

Mr. Webster pointed out that the Town of Luke would like to obtain the school building as a municipal center if the board intends to abandon it.

He explained that if it is "no longer needed for school purposes" title reverts through a resolution back to the County Commissioners for action in leasing, selling or disposing of the property.

Also discussed at yesterday's meeting was the old Hammond Street Elementary School which reportedly is becoming a fire hazard, according to the volunteer firemen of Westernport.

At the request of the County Commissioners, who were notified of the prevailing hazard by the volunteers, the board has taken action to eliminate the possible fire hazard which included a number of broken windows in the building.

The future of the use of the building as a school depends on enrollment figures, Mr. Webster said.

Injured Mechanic Reported Good

Carl E. Ward, 58, of 210 Spring Street, an auto mechanic who was injured early yesterday afternoon in an accident in Narrows Park, was reported in good condition last night at Memorial Hospital.

He suffered leg injuries when the car he was working on pinned him against a work bench a. Diehl's Esso Station. He underwent surgery yesterday. Ward was adjusting the transmission of the car when the brake gave away. Andrew Milburn, another mechanic, backed the car away from the bench.

Frostburg Area Man Issued Home Permit

William Kroll, of RD 1, Frostburg, has been issued a permit to build a $7,000 brick home by the Allegany County assessment department.

The dwelling will have a concrete block foundation and composition shingle roof and a cellar. The home will be located on Mustaphal Drive in LaVale.

Tawes Supports Continuation Of Jobless Pay

Over 250 Bills Are Dumped Into Hopper

By LOUIS G. PANOS

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Tuesday threw his support behind a proposal to continue Maryland's extended program of unemployment compensation beyond the present March 31 deadline.

A spokesman for the governor disclosed this as the necessary legislation was being prepared Tuesday night for introduction in the General Assembly.

It was among more than 250 measures dumped into the hopper as the time limit for appearance of new bills expired. Harried clerical and research personnel struggled to cope with the deluge of legislation reminiscent of the 1957 record of 350 bills and resolutions introduced on the last two days.

Kimble Suggestion

Much of the backlog had to lie over until Wednesday for introduction under a suspension of the House and Senate deadline rules.

Senate Must Act

Maryland workers are normally entitled to a maximum of 26 weeks of unemployment compensation, which is financed by the contributions of their employers to a State-administered fund.

Because of the 1958 recession, Congress made federal funds available to extend these benefits by 50 per cent, making Maryland's maximum benefit period 39 weeks. But the congressional move was a temporary step, scheduled to expire March 31, 1959.

Legislation to make the expiration June 30, 1959, has been introduced in Congress and was passed by the House Monday.

Law Needed

As it did last year to enable the State to participate in the one-year temporary extension program, the General Assembly must pass legislation to authorize participation in the continued program.

The administration bill to do this was introduced along with another measure which would permanently extend the maximum benefit period to 39 weeks instead of 26. Sponsored by eight delegates, it is similar to a proposal

Tests Planned For Nursing Class Here

Applications are being taken by the Sisters of St. Joseph, whose mother house is in Baden, Pa.

The tests will be held April 4 at 8:30 a. m. at Sacred Heart Hospital School of Nursing here.

City Police Probing Entry

City police are investigating the forced entry of the Milburn Market, Fourth Street and York Place, some time Monday night.

Entrance apparently was gained through a side door where officers found a window broken and two bolts unlatched. The proprietor said a quantity of meat was missing, adding that he heard a noise yesterday morning and saw a car pull away from the building at a high rate of speed.

Deferral Test Set For April 30

BALTIMORE (AP) — The test that helps determine which college men are deferred from military service will be given April 30. This is the only time it will be offered during the current school year.

Brig. Gen. Henry C. Stanwood, state director of Selective Service, said college students may get application cards and detailed instructions from their local draft boards. Applications must be postmarked by midnight, April 9.

County Voters To Get Choice Of Liquor Plans

Committee Favors Vote On Alternates

A House of Delegates committee last night gave approval to a bill which would allow Allegany countians to vote on alternate proposals to extend or reduce the hours for sale of alcoholic beverages.

The House Alcoholic Beverage Committee met in executive session last night after an hour-long afternoon hearing at which Cumberland ministers and liquor dealers spoke out for and against the bill.

Committee members favored an amended HB 352, which provides for a referendum in November 1960 at which county voters would decide whether to permit liquor sales until 1 a. m. or move back the bar closing time to midnight. The only vote against the compromise plan came from Delegate Estel C. Kelley.

Much Oratory

Yesterday's hearing brought impassioned oratory and heated rebuttal, respectively, from Earl E. Manges, local attorney and Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County delegation.

After spokesmen for and against the bill had rested their cases, Mr. Manges got to his feet to speak against any relaxation of liquor laws.

Saying he felt the bill would only lead to further extension of selling hours, Mr. Manges charged liquor dealers and "politicians" who represented them "have been completely inconsistent" in their pleas before the General Assembly.

"This would eventually lead to 2 o'clock closing and sales to 18-year-olds. I don't believe the reputable dealer wants that, and I don't believe they want continual agitation so that some politicians can keep on taking money from these same liquor dealers."

Resent Implication

"I resent any implication that I accepted any money from anyone for anything," he shouted.

Del. Jerome Robinson, (D-Balto. 4th), committee vice chairman said, "Fred, you don't have to make any apologies or clarifications for yourself or any member of your delegation."

Mr. Manges said he hadn't meant any member of the county delegation.

Arguments on the bill itself were presented by John M. Robb,

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Tuesday threw his support behind a proposal to continue Maryland's extended program of unemployment compensation beyond the present March 31 deadline.

A spokesman for the governor disclosed this as the necessary legislation was being prepared Tuesday night for introduction in the General Assembly.

It was among more than 250 measures dumped into the hopper as the time limit for appearance of new bills expired. Harried clerical and research personnel struggled to cope with the deluge of legislation reminiscent of the 1957 record of 350 bills and resolutions introduced on the last two days.

Kimble Suggestion

Much of the backlog had to lie over until Wednesday for introduction under a suspension of the House and Senate deadline rules.

The administration spokesman said Tawes agreed to the continued jobless pay extension at the suggestion of Robert B. Kimble, director of the Employment Security Department.

A department official said about 9,500 Maryland workers would be disqualified from extended benefits unless the program is continued beyond March 31.

Senate Must Act

Maryland workers are normally entitled to a maximum of 26 weeks of unemployment compensation, which is financed by the contributions of their employers to a State-administered fund.

Because of the 1958 recession, Congress made federal funds available to extend these benefits by 50 per cent, making Maryland's maximum benefit period 39 weeks. But the congressional move was a temporary step, scheduled to expire March 31, 1959.

Legislation to make the expiration June 30, 1959, has been introduced in Congress and was passed by the House Monday.

Law Needed

As it did last year to enable the State to participate in the one-year temporary extension program, the General Assembly must pass legislation to authorize participation in the continued program.

The administration bill to do this was introduced along with another measure which would permanently extend the maximum benefit period to 39 weeks instead of 26. Sponsored by eight delegates, it is similar to a proposal

Junior Red Cross Adopts Many Projects Of Service

The Junior Red Cross in Allegany County engages in numerous volunteer services of a community nature, assisting the Allegany County Red Cross Chapter, in addition to its dedicated program of building mutual understanding among American school children and children in other lands.

In recent months, the Junior Red Cross, under the leadership of Mrs. John M. Robb and Miss Margaret E. Doak, the yonug Red Cross workers here have sent greeting cards to aged people in hospitals at Christmas and Valentine's Day, have prepared and sent gifts to veteran hospitals, have prepared kits and chests for children in distressed areas and in foreign lands, and have sent writing portfolios to disabled veterans. In addition, $100 has been donated to the Red Cross Children's Fund for disaster areas.

The Junior Red Cross was organized during World War I for the purpose of giving American school children an opportunity to participate in the war services of the Red Cross.

Since then it has continued activity in peace time service to enlist school children in the services of suffering childhood everywhere; to develop rich attitudes of mind that result from unselfish service and to build foundations of mutual understanding among American school children and children of other lands.

The Junior Red Cross magazine is issued at regular intervals to help carry information to schools and children financing it. Membership in the Junior Red Cross is not on an individual basis, but on a classroom unit plan, so that classroom projects oftimes can be sponsored as part of the Junior Red Cross activity.

Interest in the program, according to Mrs. George W. Legge, Red Cross executive secretary, is growing throughout the county and more children appear interested in helping with programs which might help other children of other lands.

Trailer Bill Entered By Del. Walsh

Del. Reed Opposes Condemnation Plan

Delegate William Walsh, Allegany County Democrat, yesterday introduced a bill to give the county control over and revenue from trailers.

Introduced as House Bill 795, it calls for a $10 arrival tax on each trailer which remains in the county for 30 days. Ten days after this period ended, the owner must register with the Supervisor of Assessments and pay ad valorem taxes.

The county would issue a license tag, which must be displayed on the trailer. Owners who stay longer than 30 days would be allowed credit on taxes for the initial $10 permit.

A Delegation measure, House Bill 674, would authorize the County Commissioners to pay ambulance fees for persons certified as medically indigent by the Welfare Board.

House Bill 793, introduced yesterday by Delegates Driscoll, Cook, Conlon and Walsh, provides penalties for the possession of alcoholic beverages by those under 21.

Blacktop Bills

The bill sets up penalties of up to $100 or up to 10 days in jail, or both, and makes it optional that offenders be taken before the Juvenile Court.

Identical bills for mandatory blacktopping of the Beall Elementary School playground in Frostburg were introduced Monday in the General Assembly.

Sponsors were Senator Charles M. See and Delegates Lester B. Reed. The proposals require the work to be done 90 days after the bills are signed.

The legislators said dust from the play center is a nuisance to nearby residents and has been a "bone of contention" for several years.

Offers Prayer

Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel, offered the opening prayer at the House session yesterday.

The House passed and sent to its third reading House Bill 558, which would allow the State Roads Commission to expedite road construction delayed by condemnation proposals.

It was opposed by Del. Lester B. Reed, Allegany County Republican and House minority leader.

He discoursed on the right of eminent domain and said all existing laws impose checks on the use of the plan and protested the "slicing away of that right of the people."

Local Bills Are Introduced In Assembly

A number of bills were introduced into the House of Delegates yesterday at Annapolis by the Allegany County delegation.

Fred B. Driscoll, delegation chairman, said last night that House Bill 765 was introdcued and would permit licensed funeral directors with certain qualifications to take an examination for embalmer's licenses.

House Bill 766 would provide a tax exemption for leased land and buildings in the county to bring the law in line with the present statute.

Chairman Driscoll also pointed out that House Bill 767 would authorize the LaVale Sanitation Commission to borrow money in the aggregate of $50,000 in promissory notes for improvements in that community.

A bill recommended by the County Commissioners was introduced by Delegates Conlon, Cook, Walsh and Driscoll.

It would tighten up the tax exemption for those persons over 65 years of age in the county and would allow exemptions up to $3,500 and other qualifications. The present tax exemption reportedly has been abused by residents.

The delegation introduced House Resolution 39 congratulating John T. Fey, a former local resident and member of the House of Delegates who has been named president of the University of Vermont.

Chairman Driscoll said last night a record was set insofar as the introduction of bills was concerned. The first bill yesterday was House Bill 723 and the final one was House Bill 824, a total of 101.

Assembly Holds Reins On Urban Slum Clearance

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The General Assembly refused Tuesday to permit Maryland counties and municipalities to undertake on their own initiative the clearance of slums.

It decided that any such projects would have to be first authorized by the legislators themselves. The lone exception is Baltimore City, which has had home rule insofar as urban renewal is concerned since 1944.

The Maryland Municipal League won Legislative Council endorsement of a bill to permit incorporated cities and counties with charter governments to start rehabilitation of slum areas on their own.

Up To Assembly

But the Senate amended drastically the bill to leave such authority up to the General Assembly. The House of Delegates accepted the amendments this afternoon to send the bill to Gov. Tawes.

A slum clearance authority may condemn land and obtain two-thirds of the cost of rehabilitation from the federal government.

The Maryland County Commissioners' Assn. had joined mayors of the state's cities in endorsing the original bill.

Another amendment tacked on by the Senate will spell out the definition of slum areas to guarantee that any redevelopment will be confined to them.

Referendum Set

Wilson Barnes, a Baltimore attorney, had recommended such a curb. He testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee that it was necessary so that buildings could not be condemned in the name of slum clearance and then sold to a private developer.

A curb on such possibilities was removed from the Baltimore City urban renewal law in 1948, Barnes said.

Boy Admits Theft Of Dynamite

A 15-year-old Cumberland boy was released into the custody of his parents after admitting to city police yesterday that he had taken some dynamite from the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company's sand quarry at Locust Grove.

Investigating officers said the youth told them he had taken about 12 sticks of the highly-concentrated explosive from the powder magazine last January, but said he had thrown at least seven sticks into Wills Creek. Police found two sticks of dynamite in a third-floor apartment house on North Mechanic Street yesterday morning.

The youth said he entered the powder magazine apparently after it had been broken open by someone else, police stated.

On January 15 the cement company's explosives storehouse was broken into and 350 pounds of dynamite were stolen. State police began the initial investigation in the case and city authorities said last night they had several other leads in connection with the theft.

Seven boxes of 40 and 60 per cent gelatin dynamite, used at the quarry to blast rock from the mountainside, were stolen. The dynamite was packed in seven boxes weighing 50 pounds apiece with each box containing 90 sticks of dynamite.

A spokesman for the company said the total of 630 sticks of dynamite was valued at only $75 but was extremely dangerous in "the wrong hands."

Three of the boxes contained 60 per cent gelatin sticks and the remaining four had 40 per cent gelatin explosives.

The powder magazine is surrounded by a wire fence and the intruder broke a lock on the enclosure. Two other locks were broken off a steel door to the magazine to gain entrance.
